Work Started On Cold Spring Drain

Commissioner Stuart Starts Project Which Will Drain Huge Area

At 8 a. m. April 4th, the Street Commissioner removed the first shovel full of dirt from the proposed Cold Spring Brook Culvert, Board of Aldermen No. 61206.

Building of a large conduit of concrete and a 15-inch sewer from Homer street to Beacon street, sewers and drains in Beacon street, Upland road, and Glastonbury Oval.

The little pumping station at Upland road will no longer be necessary since this proposed sanitary sewer will connect that portion of Waban which is now taken care of by the Upland road station.

The contractors who have charge of the work are the DeCristofaro Brothers of 38 Glendower road, Roslindale, and there is every reason to believe the necessary details of this difficult piece of work will be satisfactorily carried out by them.

CHESTNUT HILL IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

The Chestnut Hill Improvement Society held a special meeting last evening at the Commonwealth Country Club, Algonquin road, Chestnut Hill, with about 200 residents in attendance. President G. Among the city officials and notables present were Sinclair Weeks, President of the Board of Aldermen; George E. Stuart, Street Commissioner; William E. Earle, Chairman Public Works Committee; Aldermen Walter E. C. Worth and Norman F. Pratt; J. P. Whitney, Water Commissioner; George E. Grebenstein, Chairman of Claims and Rules; Cecil C. Chadwick, Building Commissioner; E. Ray Speare, Playground Trustee; Frank M. Grant, City Clerk; Roy V. Collins, Chairman of Finance; Mrs. Endicott Saltonstall of the Massachusetts and Newton Republican Committees; Mrs. Ellis Spear, Pres. Newton Centre Women's Club; Dr. E. A. Andrews, Pres. The charter members of the Bennett Aero-Club of Auburndale met at the home of their adviser, E. J. Ovington at 19 Rowe street, last Saturday evening. These ten charter members held an election which resulted as follows: President, James L. Griffith; Vice-president, Edward Sargent; Secretary-Treasurer, Edmund Hawes. The club subscribed for one year of Popular Aviation and Aeronautics. The club insignia and the charters of the committees were chosen. Meetings are held every Saturday evening at seven p. m. Requests for membership should be sent to the Secretary, Bennett Aero-Club, Box 13, Auburndale.

SMITH COLLEGE ALUMNAE

The annual luncheon of the Boston Branch of the Smith College Alumnae Association will be held on Saturday, April 13, at the Hotel Statler in Boston. The speakers will be Mr. William Allen Neilson, President of Smith College, Miss Margaret Paley who is the president of the Student Council at the college and Mrs. Mary Frost Sawyer, President of the Alumnae Association. The committee in charge of the arrangements includes Mrs. Roy Merchant, chairman; Mrs. Q. W. Wales, Mrs. H. B. Cranshaw, Mrs. E. W. Pride, Miss Katharine Bingham, and Miss Frances C. Ayres.

A Wise Investment

There are many good investments, just as there are many good things in all lines. But there is no investment with equal earnings, outside our field, that is tax exempt and always worth "100 cents on the dollar", today, tomorrow, one or ten years hence. Most investments fluctuate. Ours does not. For people of moderate means this is a worthwhile opportunity. A limited number of Maturing (Investment) Shares now on sale. Write, call or telephone "Middlesex 4030" for price, which is a little less than $200 each share.

Aldermen Vote To Start War Memorial

Appropriate $1000 to Allow Mayor To Engage Architect

At the meeting of the aldermen on Monday evening no person appeared to favor or oppose the following petitions on which hearings had been announced:

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, pole location, Elliott street, Ward 5, opposite Oak street, one pole.

Boston Elevated Railway Company, for permission to construct, maintain, and use an alteration of and an addition to its existing locations as follows: Short section of double track on Commonwealth avenue, Ward 6, leading from the dividing line between City of Boston and City of Newton to private property on the northerly side of Commonwealth avenue.

Charles River Country Club, for permit to erect a 3-car garage at 483 Dedham street, Ward 5.

Michael F. Larkin, for permit to increase gasoline storage capacity from 120 gallon tank to 500 gallon tank, for private use only, at 499 Winchester street, Ward 5.

When the matter came up of appropriating $1000 to engage an architect for a study of the proposed war memorial on the "triangle site," Aldermen Powers called attention to the fact that the report of the special committee on this matter had recommended that the Mayor obtain suggestions from an architect or architects on this memorial. The Ward 1 alderman advocated that more than one architect be asked to submit ideas on such an important project. President Weeks took the floor to explain that 9 years ago a number of architects had submitted plans on a memorial and one of these plans had been accepted at that time, later to be abandoned because it has been decided to erect a different type of memorial. Alderman Earle of the special committee dealing with the memorial stated that it is optional with the Mayor whether he asks one, or more architects to submit plans on the memorial.

Chairman Grebenstein of the Claims and Rules Committee referring to the petition of Joseph Pillion for a waiver of the set-back line at 15 Auburn street, West Newton, reported that as this property had been sub-divided under the Zoning Ordinance the committee has no authority to grant the waiver.

The Licenses Committee reported favorably on the petition of the Kenmore Realty Company for a sales and service station at 714-724 Beacon street, Newton Centre. Alderman Temperley argued unsuccessfully to have the capacity of the three gasoline tanks in this proposed building limited to 500 gallons each rather than 1000 gallons. He feared more filling stations in this locality but the aldermen were assured by the petitioners that no such use of the building is to be made. Reuben Kilman was again turned down on a petition. He asked for a permit to have a third class license to deal in second-hand automobiles at 456 Water-town street. In plain English this means dealing in old cars for junk.

Harold Young was confirmed as a member of the Registrars of Voters for a term of three years. At the request of Alderman Collins the rules were suspended to allow a claim of $38.50 to be paid John E. Riley for injuries received sometime ago.

THREE BITTEN BY DOGS

Three complaints were made to the Newton police on Wednesday of persons having been attacked by dogs. William Forbes of Cambridge was bitten, according to his complaint by a dog owned by Armand Purdigree of Hobart road. Mrs. Bert White of 25 Sumner street, Newton Centre, complained against a dog owned by M. D. Liming of Ballard street. Walter Burke of 328 Cherry street entered a complaint against a dog owned by Peter Casella of 320 Cherry street. The dogs were ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine them.

Aldermen Pass $4,276,791 Budget With Practically No Discussion

Policemen and Firemen to Get Increased Salaries—Every Recommendation Made By Finance Committee Passed

The Board of Aldermen met on Monday afternoon at 5 to act on the recommendations of the Finance Committee regarding the budget estimates for 1929. Chairman Collins of the Finance Committee told the aldermen that in recent years it has been necessary to appropriate so much money for new school buildings that work on other city activities has been necessarily curtailed. The fact that no new school building is to be erected this year permits of a considerable increase in the appropriation for resurfacing and repairing streets. This is fortunate because Newton's streets are in a bad condition in many places. Accordingly, $110,000 more was recommended for the care of streets.

Mr. Collins explained that it is proposed next year to build a junior high school on the South Side which will accommodate 900 pupils. This school is expected to cost in excess of $750,000. During this year land will also be purchased on Linwood avenue and Nevada street, Newtonville, at a cost approximating $40,000 for a new grade school to relieve congestion in the Stearns and Horace Mann districts. Based on the estimate of the assessors that increased valuations in the city will total $8,000,000 this year, the tax rate, based on city expenses as shown in budget recommendations would be about $26.80. But, additional expenses which will have to be faced by the city during this year will add about $195,000 to the budget appropriations and will cause the tax rate to be around $28. These additional expenses include $40,000 for the school land at Nevada street, $20,000 for the playground site at Thompsonville, $50,000 for land and improvements at Crystal Lake, $25,000 or $35,000 for continuing the work of grading the athletic fields in the rear of the high schools. Referring to this grading work, Alderman Earle, chairman of the Public Works Committee, explained that the amount expended this year will depend on whether or not, the completion of the grading of the area will be divided into two or three years' installments. It has been found necessary to re-construct some of the drains recently laid at the athletic field because of defects which became evident.

Referring to the increases granted to clerks in the various departments at City Hall, Alderman Collins explained that none had been granted to anyone receiving $1750 or over, except in one case where special circumstances exist. Most of the increases were limited to $50. In the Executive Department the Finance Committee concurred with the recommendations of Mayor Childs except in the matter of an increase in salary for his secretary. The Mayor had asked that it be advanced from $1600 to $1750. The committee recommended no increase. The item of "miscellaneous expense" was, with the Mayor's approval reduced from $1750 to $1600. In the Accounting Department the Finance Committee agreed with the figures submitted by the Comptroller of Accounts and the Mayor. No increases were given to any clerks in this department.

In the Treasury Department budget the items passed by the committee were—salaries of Deputy Collector, Bookkeeper and Clerks, from $11,000 recommended by the Mayor to $9950; temporary clerks from $1800 to $1200; office expenses from $6200 to $5800; interest on temporary loans from $70,000 to $60,000. In the Assessing Department, Assessor Prescott, recommended for a $400 increase in salary by Mayor Childs, was accorded a $200 increase by the aldermen with the explanation by the committee that his many years of faithful and efficient service entitle him to more compensation than is given to the new member of the assessors—who starts out with the same salary received by the assessors last year. The amount asked for office expenses for this department was reduced $500 from the recommendation of the Mayor. A considerable reduction was made in the appropriation for assistant assessors. Because of the fact that the list of assessed polls is being obtained this year by members of the Newton police force and the new law regarding the exise tax on automobiles renders the assessing of these by local assessors unnecessary, the number of assistant assessors has been reduced to four and the appropriation for their compensation from $2800, appropriated last year, to $500.

In the Law Department the amounts requested by the City Solicitor and the Mayor were agreed to by the aldermen. In the City Clerk's Department increases in salaries asked for clerks were cut $400. Other items pared from the amounts as recommended by the Mayor were—Workmen's Compensation from $4000 to $3500, Election Expenses from $5000 to $1500, Voting and Jury Lists $1400 to $1250. The Finance Committee had recommended no increases to members of the Registrars of Voters as asked by the Mayor, but Chairman Collins advised the Board that the Committee had changed its opinion partially on this matter and recommended an increase of $100 each to the two registrars other than the chairman of the Board of Registrars. This will cause them to receive the same salary as the chairman, $350. City Messenger Lucian Davis was given an increase in salary of $100 which brings his compensation to $2000 annually.

In the Engineering Department a cut of $640 was made in the amounts asked by the City Engineer and the Mayor for the salaries of assistants in this department but Chairman Collins explained that this cut was made with the approval of the City Engineer. Alderman Earle inquired regarding cuts made by the Finance Committee from amounts asked by department heads for maintenance of automobiles, there being apparent discrepancies between the upkeep allowed to different departments. Alderman Collins replied that when new cars had been provided for it was thought that less should be needed for maintenance. He also explained that certain requests for new cars had been refused because the cars which were to be replaced had been driven only about 12,000 miles.

Among the items in the budget of the Public Buildings Department which were cut by the Finance Committee were—salary for temporary inspector $1400, disapproved; salary for temporary clerk, $175 disapproved; salary increases for three clerks, $200 cut from Mayor's recommendation; office expenses cut $400; new automobiles, Mayor's recommendation of $2686 cut to $1225; maintenance and alterations on city buildings reduced from $20,000 to $15,000.

In the budget of the Police Department increases in salaries of $100 each were given to the ranking officers other than the Chief, and $90 each to the members of the department other than the officers. This will bring the pay of the patrolmen to $2190 yearly, or $6 per day. Chief Burke had asked for 10 additional patrolmen. The Finance Committee recommended two additional patrolmen. Alderman Collins commented that the number of men on the police force had increased 100% in the past nine years and while the traffic problem had been responsible for much extra work the police department has been given the additional men in late years deemed necessary by the police for this service. There has been no radical change since last year which would make it appear necessary for so many more additional men and the installation of several automatic signals had relieved policemen who were at traffic posts for other duty. Referring to the $90 increases given to the policemen and firemen, Mr. Collins stated that 21 cities in Massachusetts pay either $2190 or $2200 to these classes of public employees.

In the budget for the Fire Department, refused to grant a $100 increase in salary to Chief Randlett, as it had likewise refused to grant to Chief Burke of the Police Department. Increases of $100 each were given to the other officers of the department, and $90 increases were given to the firemen. Chief Randlett had asked for two additional firemen but the Finance Committee turned down this recommendation. Alderman Earle argued for the granting of the Chief's request in this matter, stating that the apparatus at Newton Corner has not been adequately manned for some years. Alderman Powers agreed with Alderman Earle, stating that either more men should be provided to work the big aerial ladder at Newton Corner, or this piece of apparatus should not be sent to fires with only the driver and tiller man on it. Alderman Collins replied that the personnel of the Fire Department has been increased 50% during the past 8 years and that Chief Randlett has enough men to properly handle the apparatus. For the purchase of a new piece of apparatus to replace one of the older hose trucks now in use, $7000 was appropriated.

The Finance Committee turned down several recommendations made by Andrew Prior, Sealer of Weights and Measures; recommendations which met with the approval of the Mayor. The aldermen declined to grant Mr. Prior an increase in his present salary of $2400, and also refused to allow him an appropriation for a new automobile and $500 for a temporary assistant. Alderman Earle advocated the appropriation for an assistant to Mr. Prior so that he can check up properly on the deliveries of coal and ice at certain seasons and on the gasoline pumps throughout the city.

In the Health Department budget salary increases recommended by the Mayor for the Chairman of the Board of Health, Agent and Clerk were disapproved by the Finance Committee.

The aldermen also cut the estimates made by the Department and the Mayor for the Prevention and Cure of Diseases, examination of school children and protection of child life. In the Public Welfare Department the increase in the Director's salary from $2500 to $2700 recommended by the Mayor was not allowed, nor was the recommendation of $528 for a new automobile granted. The Director and Mayor Childs had recommended $27,000 for poor outside of the City Infirmary, formerly known as the City Home. The Finance Committee cut this item to $20,000. Last year $25,000 was appropriated. For Mother's Aid the Mayor had recommended $23,500. The Finance Committee set $23,000 as the amount for this work. Last year $25,500 was appropriated. Alderman Earle asked that the Mayor's recommendation be granted. He doubted if the smaller amounts will be sufficient and cited instances that had come to his attention where sufferings of poor persons in this city could not be relieved because of lack of money in this department. Alderman Collins replied that if the appropriations

Aldermen Make Change In Traffic Rules

30 Minute Restrictions Not to Be Enforced After 7 P. M.

At Monday night's Aldermanic meeting the Committee on Traffic recommended that in those places in the city where parking is limited to 30 minutes that this restriction be removed between 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. except on Saturday nights and nights before holidays. It recommended that parking be prohibited on the north side of Charlesbank road from Washington street to St. James street, and on Austin street north side for a distance of 200 feet from Walnut street. The committee also recommended that the traffic ordinance be changed to prohibit double parking, stopping or standing of automobiles on streets. This will prevent traffic from being impeded by those who have been making a practice of parking or stopping automobiles outside the line of parked cars.

The committee also recommended that no parking be allowed on the parking area at Washington street, Newton Corner, near Thornton street between the hours of 6 and 9 a. m. This space was made into a parking area to furnish parking facilities for Newton Corner business men and their patrons. For sometime it has been used as an all-day parking space by persons who commute to Boston. Several cars which are parked there all day are owned by persons who live in other cities, and unless one goes nearly to Richardson street after 9 a. m. it is difficult to find any space in which to park a car. Alderman Gallagher opposed the change because he claims it will inconvenience some of the garage owners nearby who use this parking area. He asked that this matter be referred back to the committee for further consideration.

Alderman Temperley called attention to an apparent violation of the zoning ordinance by a concern which is operating a tar manufacturing business on Beethoven avenue, Newton Highlands. He asked that the Claims and Rules Committee investigate this matter.

Petitions received and referred to committees included the following:—
Public Works
Chestnut Hill Improvement Society, relocating, altering and widening Waban Hill road, Ward 6, at corner of Waban Hill road north.

Shots Fired As Police Chase Suspects

Wellesley Police Catch Fugitives On Beacon St.

A chase that started about 2 o'clock Saturday morning at Wellesley Hills square with Wellesley police as the original pursuers and three young men in an automobile as the pursued, ended several miles away in Newton Centre with Newton policemen aiding in capturing the fugitives. At 2 a. m. Saturday as Patrolman Manning of the Wellesley police was standing in Wellesley Hills square he observed an automobile approaching with a flat tire. He signalled the driver of the car to stop, only to have the car headed straight for him. Manning managed to avoid the car and together with Sgt. Gallery of the Wellesley police who came along at the opportune moment in a police car, started in pursuit of the other automobile. The chase led from Wellesley Hills through Newton Lower Falls and thence along Beacon street to Waban. At that village Sgt. Crowley and Patrolmen Barry and D. Keating of the Newton police, who had an automobile, saw the speeding automobiles rush by the second containing policemen, so they joined in the pursuit.

Several times between Wellesley Hills and Waban the police car had caught up to the other auto only to be crowded to the side of the road. Then Manning drew his revolver and commenced firing at the fleeing car, puncturing a rear tire and sending bullets through the back of the body but its occupants continued in their attempt to escape. When Crescent avenue, Newton Centre, was reached, the driver of the car attempted to turn into that street and the car crashed into a tree. The driver was captured at this place and the other two occupants ran through adjoining yards in the direction of Commonwealth avenue. The Newton policemen drove to the avenue and captured the pair. The driver of the car gave his name as John Howard, 22, 398 Armory street, Jamaica Plain. His companions gave as their names and addresses—John Buckley, 21, 8½ Auburn street, Jamaica Plain, and Francis Kenney, 22, 2161 Washington street, Jamaica Plain. The plates on the car had been stolen from an automobile owned by John Williams of Reading. Another set of number plates found in the car had been stolen from William Lacey & Son of Medford. The car was also believed to have been stolen. A jimmy, such as is used by burglars was found in the car. The trio was arraigned in the Dedham district court on Saturday morning and their cases were continued to permit the police to look up their records.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

BASEBALL TEAM GETTING ON EDGE

Coach John L. Sullivan is rapidly getting the 1929 Newton high baseball team on edge for the opening of the season with Lawrence High at Lawrence next week Saturday afternoon. Despite the loss of several important cogs in last year's championship outfit, the loss of three prospective members of the team by transfer to other schools, and the added loss, for at least a part of the season, of the leading hitter and outstanding catcher, Phil Andres, through injury the squad of eighteen men working out daily under the direction of Mr. Sullivan and his assistant, "Jeff" Jones, former Harvard first baseman, is shaping up well.

The squad is made up of five pitchers, three catchers, including Andres whose exact status is still undetermined, six infielders and four outfielders. As two of the pitchers are natural hitters it is more than possible that they will both be considerable service in the outfield when not taking their turn in the box. Bill Reilly, ace of last year's pitching staff is showing up well in practice although naturally shy of control to some extent. He is batting the offerings of the pitchers all over the lot causing Coach Sullivan to feel that Reilly will be a valuable man to have in the outfield. Bartlett Nichols, another prospective twirler, is the outstanding hitter on the squad right now and if Reilly is in the box Nichols may hold down the right field berth. Jim Pillion, George Kraber and Jim Murphy are the other pitchers the Newton mentor is keeping an eye upon in case either Reilly or Nichols fail to measure up to expectations.

Captain Allie Fletcher will hold down the shortstop position left vacant by Frank Spain. And while the playing of Spain will long be remembered Fletcher is turning in as good as the best of the team. Fletcher has also been clicking them far, wide and handsome in the same style that made him the second best hitter on last year's outfit. Fletcher will probably bat fourth in the lineup as he did last year and with men on bases it is going to worry the opposing pitchers not a little.

The transfer of Fletcher to shortstop leaves a big hole at second base. Last year Spain and Fletcher were the outstanding keystone sack duo in scholastic baseball. The Newton mentor is having a hard time deciding on the winner of the race for the second base position between Walter Warren and Francis Duane. During in-field practice this pair alternates in taking the ball and it is a close race. In the event that Warren wins the berth Duane will be used as a utility infielder and perhaps as a pinch hitter occasionally as he is the better batter of the two. Charles Barry has clinched the berth at the hot corner and his ability to lay down bunts seems likely to cause Coach Sullivan to place him second in the batting order. Another race is on for the first base position between Norman Payne, football, basketball, and tennis letter man, and Charles Olcott. The former seems to have the edge at present.

In the outfield along with Reilly or Nichols, either of which seems slated for right field as already stated the foremost candidate is John Mullen, veteran, and Perry Elrod. Mullen will probably be the lead-off man in the batting order because of his speed as a base runner and his short stature which should make it hard for the opposing pitchers to put over called strikes. Other outfielders on the squad are Ellsworth Lawrence and John Sutherland.

Behind the bat Arthur Wilson has the call at present. Wilson has had more or less experience behind the bat and has jumped into the gaping hole left by the injury to Andres in fine fashion. While Wilson prefers to play the outfield he is ready to do his bit for the good of the team. Should Andres be in shape to play within a few weeks it is doubtful whether or not he will go behind the bat this spring. It is more probable that he will go into the outfield. In case anything happens to Wilson the Newton coach has Bill Anness in reserve. While Anness is not as sure a defensive receiver as Wilson he can hit with the best of them.

Taking things all in all the 1929 Newton high baseball team should make things interesting for the other schoolboy teams on its schedule and will make its opponents realize that they have been in a ball game. All of the home games with the exception of those with Everett and Somerville will be played on Victory Field or the West Newton playground in view of the conditions now existing at Claffin Field. Notices will be posted as to where the games will be played. Both contests scheduled for the Newton field with Everett and Somerville will be played on the latter's field as both these opponents desire to play on closed diamonds.

The first game of the season will be at Lawrence next week Saturday afternoon.

N. H. S. NET TEAM TO BEGIN PRACTICE

The Newton High School tennis team which for several years has been among the foremost schoolboy outfits in the state will begin practice next week under the direction of Coach Wendell Smith. As the outdoor courts are not in shape it is probable that for the next week or two the squad will work out in the new gymnasium, following the same procedure as a year ago. Prospects for another year are bright although a stiff schedule of ten matches in addition to the inter-scholastic meets at Harvard and Longwood has been arranged.

The team will be captained this season by Arthur Noble of Newton Centre whose prowess as a junior player is well-known for the showing he has made in schoolboy and junior tournaments the past few years. Along with several other students he holds the title of Canadian junior singles champion. He is the ranking player on the orange and black team. David Scott, number two player and captain of last year's team graduated in June and is now a freshman at Brown University. He is the only member of the team to be lost through graduation.

Norman Payne, basketball captain and football end of the past seasons, is among the foremost contenders for the position at first base on the baseball team and it is probable that he will not play on the tennis team. It can be arranged for him to play in the interscholastic meets. Payne was the third ranking member last year and would advance to a number two rating if with the team.

Scott's place will thus probably fall to Norman Harris, number four player last year. Gordon Naylor and Charles Glueck completed the team last year. Naylor is expected to be a prominent member of this year's outfit along with Captain Noble and Harris. Glueck left high school and is now at a preparatory school.

Despite the loss of these three players, Scott, Payne and Glueck, there are several racketeers who should round out the team in fine shape. The foremost of these are Charles Hall, winner of the school tournament last fall in which the members of last year's team were not allowed to compete and Emmett Brown who showed promise in the Longwood meeting of developing into a player of team calibre.

As soon as the outdoor courts are in shape for use Coach Smith is expected to stage trial matches between these players the winner of which will win the right to challenge the players in the summer in the rankings. In this manner the make-up of the team will be determined by April 29th when Newton opens its season with a league match at Malden. Other league matches include those on May 3rd at Everett; May 6th with Cambridge at Newton; on May 13th at Brookline; on May 27th with Quincy at Newton; and on June 3rd at Somerville. Other matches have been arranged with Lynn at Newton on May 9th, at Andover Academy on May 18th, at Milton Academy on May 23rd and at Groton Academy on June 5th.

Coach Smith has hopes of rounding out a team that will win both the Harvard interscholastics and the second annual schoolboy tourney at Longwood under the auspices of Newton high. Last year Noble won the individual title at Harvard and the Newton team playing without Noble won the team title at Longwood. This may be the year when the orange and black will take both the individual and team titles in both events.

Realizing the interest in schoolboy tennis the Longwood Cricket Club has offered the use of its courts for the entire tourney in contrast to last year when the schoolboys finished up the tourney on the Newton high courts after playing the early rounds at Longwood. The date for this year's meeting has been set for May 25th and it is expected that because of the earlier date more schools will be entered.

Commercial Wins Roll-off

The roll-off of the two highest men on each bottle pin team of the Newton Bowling league was held last Saturday night at the Magnus Club in Woburn. Briggs of the Commercial Club of Brockton captured the single honors with 1055 while Robbins of Waban was second with 1045. Waban took the team prize with 1942.

Harvard Awards Letters

Harvard athletic authorities awarded letters in winter sports this week. Guy Holbrook and John Garrison were granted varsity hockey letters and Wilson Crosby and Frank Stubbs, Jr., won freshman hockey awards.

Miss Eaton Eliminated

Miss Barbara Eaton of West Newton was eliminated in the girls indoor tennis singles tournament at Longwood this week in the first round of play by Miss Katherine Winthrop, number four seeded player. The scores were 6-1, 6-0.

Nichols on Dean's List

Wallace H. Nichols of Newton Highlands, a senior at Northeastern University, is among the athletes at the Boston school who are on the Dean's list of students excelling in scholarship. Nichols holds the University record for the hammer-throw.

Y Juniors Win

The Newton Y junior basketball team won their first round game in the tournament conducted by the Boston Boys Club on Wednesday night. The Newton quintet is in the junior division. The first opponent was the Wollaston Eagles who were comparatively easy for the local five as the score of 27 to 7 shows. Captain "Bussy" Earle of the Newton team was the leading scorer with eight goals from the floor for sixteen points. McKinney scored six points, Benson two and Weldig three to bring the total to 27.

WIN PRACTICE GAME BY 14-3

Newton high defeated Wellesley high yesterday afternoon in a practice game between the two baseball teams of the respective schools on Cabot Park diamond, 14 to 3. Heavy hitting, especially by the orange and black team, featured the game. Both teams played a very good defensive game, few errors being made in the seven and a half inning game.

Captain Allie Fletcher of Newton was the batting star with a home run over the centrefielders' head with two men on bases. It was a lusty clout that the Wellesley player had no chance to get under. Perry Elrod and Johnny Mullen poked out three baggers while George Kraber's two singles through the pitcher's box were enough to make any coach happy.

Coach Sullivan used every man on his squad with Reilly starting in the box but giving way to Pillion, Kraber and Murphy. Nichols, the other member of the pitching staff, played in the outfield.

An attempt was made to arrange a game with members of the Bridgton Academy who are spending the vacation period at their homes in Greater Boston for tomorrow morning on Victory Field. Inasmuch as many of the Newton players will be taking college board examinations tomorrow it is possible that the game will be played this afternoon instead. Everett Scheinfeld, former Newton high athlete, is a member of the Bridgton squad and is trying to put the game over for this afternoon.

SPORT NOTES

Stout and Church Show Promise

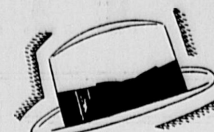

Victor Stout, former Newton high athlete and second basemen of the Worcester academy nine last spring, is regarded as one of the two best batters on the Boston University squad which opens its season tomorrow with Harvard. Although a freshman Stout has been given trials at different positions by Coach Dave Morey. He has tried all the infield berths but there does not seem much prospect of his ability to displace the lettermen available for these positions. Accordingly the B. U. Mentor may send him into right field for tomorrow's game as he is trying to put a strong hitting team in the field. Leslie Church, relief hurler on last year's Newton high team and a classmate of Stout at B. U., has shown much promise under the tutelage of Morey, a former Dartmouth star twirler. It has not been decided as to who will start in the box against Harvard although Weaver, former Woburn High star, is the outstanding twirler. Church, along with several others, may get in before the game is over.

Garrison in Hasty Pudding Show

John B. Garrison of West Newton, a member of the Harvard hockey squad the past season, is a member of the chorus in the Hasty Pudding Club show, "Fireman Save My Child."

Scales Count Contents

Scales have been perfected to count, not monetary value, but the number of small parts, such as screws or bolts, in a mass, the number of yards in a bolt of cloth, or the number of gallons of liquid in a container.

It's a wise man—and a well-dressed one—who knows what to put on his head. Lots of people who ought to know better never seem to realize that their hats are the most conspicuous things they wear.

But after all it's not a difficult matter. You can get the right hat if you get the right name.

WEST NEWTON COMMUNITY CENTER

The April Meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Newton Community Center was held at the club room in the Davis School portable on Tuesday, April 2nd at ten o'clock.

The report of the treasurer showed that the Spring rummage sale was a great success financially. Much satisfaction has also been expressed by those who patronized it. Several suggestions were offered for still further improving the next one which will be held, as usual, in the early Fall. Much credit is due to Mrs. Irving Fisher, chairman.

All of the club groups have had a good attendance during the past month. A new club of small boys who are interested in construction work has been formed—The Jig Saw Club. The Star Club of younger colored girls are enjoying the cooking class which is being sponsored by Mrs. Richard M. Ott assisted by Mrs. Benzaquin and Mrs. Henry Newhall.

The prize for the best name for the new club newspaper has been awarded to Barbara Benson, honorable mention being given to Ruth Anderson and Polly Norris. The first number of the "Quill" has just appeared.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The work of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life has so impressed Representative Luitwieler that he appeared at a recent hearing before the Senate Ways and Means Committee to urge favorable action on the bill to continue the existence of the commission until May 1, 1931. Mr. Luitwieler told the committee that the Commission has saved the people of Metropolitan Boston $1,500,000 on the price of milk alone. He also praised the Commission for appealing to the Pennsylvania Legislature to remove the anthracite coal tax and for "saving thousands of people from paying increased rents." When the chairman of the Senate committee asked Mr. Luitwieler if he thought the commission was worth the $20,000 expended yearly to maintain it the Newton Representative replied, "Absolutely, they are doing a splendid work."

A subject that was given considerable space when first suggested was the proposal of Mayor Nichols of Boston that a special commission be created by the Legislature for an investigation looking to further co-operation and adjustment in administrative work of State and municipal governmental departments. The Mayor's petition provided that particular attention be given problems of motor traffic, crime, fire, disease, commerce and industry. The House Rules Committee this week recommended that the resolve be rejected and the House adopted the recommendation.

On the bill to regulate the salaries of Mayors and City Councilors in cities operating under plan D of the standard forms of city charters, which the House advanced by a roll call vote of 125 to 90, Messrs Baker and Luitwieler voted against the measure and Mr. Thompson was not recorded.

The delegation of legislators from Newton was not unanimous for the bill providing for the designation upon voting lists of the party enrollment of voters. It was reported by the Committee on Election Laws of which Senator Hollis is chairman. The House first considered and after a debate passed it to be enrolled by a roll call vote of 113 to 105. Messrs Baker and Thompson were recorded for the bill and Mr. Luitwieler against it. When it was sent to the Senate there was another fight and despite the efforts of Senator Hollis it was rejected by a voice vote. Senator Hollis tried in vain to convince his colleagues that the bill was not a party measure but was intended to help both parties get out the vote.

PASS LARGE BUDGET

for these purposes become exhausted the Mayor has authority to provide additional funds and the Board will co-operate in this matter. He commented that the unusual amount of unemployment last year was responsible for large demands on the Welfare Department.

Alderman Powers said that it is probable that there is as much unemployment this year as there was last year. He told of the thousands of persons who recently sought employment at a new industry which has started in Nonantum as evidenced by the great number out of work.

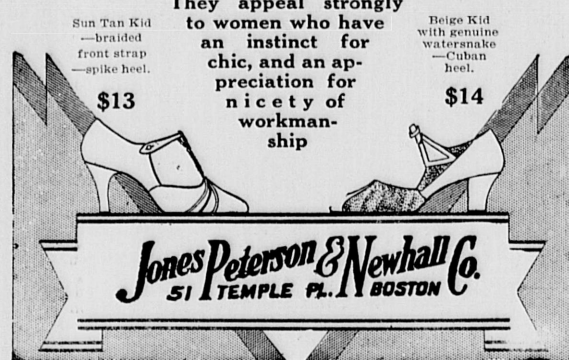

In the Library Department all the recommendations made by the Librarian and the Mayor were agreed to by the Finance Committee with the exception of that for the care of buildings which was reduced from $14,400 to $12,500, and the purchase of books, which was cut from $16,700 to $16,000. In the School Department budget slight cuts were made in the amounts asked for fuel, power and water and for miscellaneous expenses. Chairman Collins explained that the flat increases in teachers' salaries of $100 had to be granted according to the advice of the City Solicitor.

In the budget of the Playground Department a salary increase of $500 for the Director was denied by the Finance Committee. The item of $1200 for hand concerts was dropped. For construction work on playgrounds the Mayor had recommended $15,100. The Finance Committee had cut this amount to $9500 and Chairman Collins then made the suggestion that this sum be further cut to $7000 as he had reached the conclusion that it is inexpedient to spend $2500 for a wire fence to enclose the brook at Boyd Park playground. He suggested that the Alderman from Ward 1 confer with the Playground Director and decide on what is wanted at this playground. Alderman Powers seconded Alderman Collins' motion to strike out the amount specified for the fence, remarking that the only thing the building of this fence would accomplish would be to create a duckyard. He stated that the Board has been informed what is needed at Boyd Park. The brook should be covered and the playground made available for practical purposes.

In the Street Department budget slight increases were granted to the Division Foremen, they received $50 each. About enough to pay for the insurance on the cars they drive and which the city does not insure. In the Forestry Department this department cut of $2000 was made in the amount asked for the care of grounds. This cut was believed justified because the care of the athletic grounds at the High School is now being performed by the Playground Department.

For the maintenance of streets, street widenings and improvements, $250,000 were appropriated. The Finance Committee had agreed with the sums asked by the Street Commissioner and the Mayor in this respect but where the Mayor had asked for $30,000 to maintain sidewalks, the committee had recommended but $22,500. Alderman Powers moved that the amount asked by the Mayor be appropriated. He asserted that the sidewalks in this city are in as poor condition as the streets and repairs are quite necessary on them. Referring to a movement on the part of some persons in the city, who want to have the sidewalks used legally for bicycles, he commented that these people seem to think that pedestrians have no rights and he wondered just where the pedestrians would be expected to travel should vehicular traffic be permitted on sidewalks. Possibly they might don diving suits and artificial "lungs" and slither through the drains and sewers. Chairman Collins asked the Board not to increase the amount specified for the care of sidewalks as the Finance Committee had worked hard on the budget to keep the tax rate down.

Alderman Collins also gave the in-

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Anthropologists from the University of California are studying thousands of objects discovered under many feet of debris in a huge cave in the mountains of Nevada. It is believed that these objects are relics of an extinct race which existed about 1000 B. C. According to the legends of the Platte Indians this extinct tribe were red-headed Indians who were such ferocious fighters that in battle they leaped into the air, seized arrows shot at them and hurled the arrows back at their attackers. Those red-heads were not Indians. They were either Irish or Scotch. Whoever heard of red-headed Indians? And, whoever heard of Indians fighting in such a manner?

SILVER SPRINGS

One of the most pleasing features of the Golden Jubilee of the Florida State Press Association, which was recently attended at Lake Wales was the renewal of an acquaintance formed some two years ago at Omaha, Nebraska, with Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Shirley of the city of Newton. Shirley is a representative of the Western Newspaper Union, a country wide organization furnishing features and specialties to newspapers. Since that time Mr. Shirley has been placed in charge of the Atlanta office with all the southern states in his territory and he thus combined business and pleasure at the Jubilee.

Learning that he had never seen the wonderful Silver Springs at Ocala, Mr. Shirley invited us to motor with them to Ocala, a trip of 125 miles. The route lay along what is known as the Scenic Highway of Florida and through thousands of acres of orange and grape fruit orchards, and well deserves its name.

Old Ponce de Leon, however, daft he might have been on the subject of the fountain of perpetual youth, certainly, in the clasp of the day, knew his fountains. In thinking he could find that fountain in Florida. Few states can equal and we believe none can surpass Florida in the number and volume of its natural springs. Within a short distance from the city of De Land where I have spent the winter, there are four of the springs, one of which the De Leon spring discharges 60,000 gallons of water each minute.

But the Silver Springs at Ocala, surpass them all in volume and in beauty. The official geological reports of the state show that this spring has the largest flow of any spring in the world, with 22,134,750 gallons per hour. One can hardly grasp such an amount of water. It can help some when you realize that the city of Newton uses about 5,000,000 gallons in a day. Expressed in another way, enough water flows from Silver Springs in 15 minutes to supply the entire city of Newton with water for a 24 hour day.

The basin or spring head of Silver Springs forms a circle of about 300 yards in diameter fringed with luxuriant foliage and palms. The beauties of the spring are best seen from glass bottom boats, the hero of the scene being of such unusual clearness that the bottom can be easily seen. The various portions of the spring under water have received such names, as Mammoth-Rock ledge, the Great Cavern, the Reception hall, the Bridal Chamber, which is 81 feet deep, the Ladies Parlor, the Devil's Kitchen, the 1000 geysers, the Blue Grotto, a Florida Snow storm, formed by small particles of shell in constant motion, the Turtle meadows, Christmas trees, the Sunken Garden, the Indian Cave and the Catfish Hotel. Fish of many kinds and numerous turtles can be seen swimming about and one of the features of the trip is the feeding of bread by hand to some of the smaller fishes.

Between 150,000 and 200,000 visitors are said to visit the springs annually, and it must be a bonanza for its owners, who charge $1 for a half hour trip and $2 for an hour's trip in the boats. The state of Florida might well consider the advisability of taking over this great natural beauty spot as a public reservation instead of allowing it to be exploited by private owners.

On returning to the hotel at Ocala for lunch, I met Ex-Alderman Benjamin S. Hinckley who had been making a tour of Florida. It was quite a coincidence as three years ago I met Mr. Hinckley in the Hotel Alexandra in Los Angeles, California. It is evident that we are intended to meet in the far corners of the country.

The Romance of American Progress

THE BANK OF NORTH AMERICA WAS FOUNDED 1781. The oldest bank in the United States, a monument to the financial genius of Robert Morris, one of the founders of the Republic. The third Bank now occupies the original site in Philadelphia.

The Watertown Savings Bank has emulated the progress made by the oldest bank in the United States. Its advancement from an humble beginning in 1870 to its present position in the home and business life of Watertown is indeed a record of achievement. The magnificent new building which we are about to enter is a monument to this record.

We cordially invite the folks of Newton to inspect this new bank building at 60 Main Street on Saturday, April 6th, from four until nine o'clock.

Eskimo Children Have Toys of Rare Beauty

Eskimo youngsters possess tiny spears and fish hooks cut from walrus bones, small crossbows with ivory-tipped arrows, beautiful little kayaks about a foot long, cleverly fashioned from skins and manned with carved ivory hunters. Each one holds a paddle of bone, a bone harpoon, a wee float of seal skin and delicate hide lariat.

Little sleds of ivory, only a few inches long, yet perfectly formed, with several ivory dogs hitched with reindeer hide harness, are treasured possessions of Eskimo boys. Deer, whales, bears, seals—all sorts of queer fish and birds—are carved from pure ivory and given to the children at Yuletide. Beautiful little ivory birds of the Far North, penguin and the murre, are cut so delicately from ivory as to astonish the examiner.

There are ivory thimbles for the girls, tiny ivory pins for their coarse, black hair, toggles or clasps for fur belts, shopping bags of white fur from the Arctic hare.

Some boys have a marvelous drum made of a thin strip of whalebone bent to form a circle. Both sides are covered with tightly stretched shark skin. Two little walrus bones are drum sticks and no snow igloo can contain the noise that radiates from the instrument.

Many of these toys reach American cities but are sold in curio shops and are far too expensive for Santa Claus to distribute.—Boston Herald.

Investment in Pearls Brought Rich Return

Some years ago a woman received as one of her Christmas presents a pearl necklace from her husband. Not being in opulent circumstances, he was unable to spend more than $25 for them, but their luster pleased his wife, however, and for some years she wore them many, many times until recently the string broke and she carried them to the same jeweler to be restrung.

She had hardly reached her home when she received a telephone call from the senior partner of the firm, who asked her to call the next morning. To her amazement, she found that what she thought were excellent imitations were the real thing and valued at about $5,000. They had been sold by an inexperienced salesman, it appeared.

Leaving the jewels she returned home and several days later was the recipient of a letter from the jeweler containing a check for $1,000 and a box containing another string of pearls worth three or four times as much as the original price paid for her first necklace.—Springfield Union.

First English Bible

John Wycliffe, first man to translate the Bible into English, was sixty years old when he finished his task. The work belongs to the final period of his life, that time during which he was greatly persecuted by both the church and state. The Wycliffe version was addressed to the entire English people, high and low, rich and poor. This is proved by the character of the copies that have survived. About thirty of these remain and some are large folio volumes, handsomely written and illustrated in the best style of the period. Others are plain copies of ordinary size for private persons or monastic libraries.—Detroit News.

Beryllium

The bureau of mines says that beryllium is a rare metal and is found in considerable quantity only in one mineral—beryl, which contains only at the most about 5 per cent of beryllium. The process of extracting the metal is expensive and difficult. At present it is quoted at about $200 per pound. There is no market except for experimental purposes. If there were a definite market it is possible that it could be made for $15 or less per pound. It is not magnetic. It is a fair conductor of electricity. It is not stronger than good steel. As it is easily oxidized by heat, it would be difficult to cast.

Modern Methods

Muddlecome was one of the very latest model villages, and all the houses were brand new. A prospective resident was being shown over a small "old-world cottage" she hoped to buy by a very enthusiastic estate agent.

"But where is the kitchen?" asked the woman, after making a tour of the place.

The estate agent consulted his plan of the first floor. Then he looked up quickly.

"Oh, you provide that yourself!" he answered blandly. "Any really good shop will sell you a combination kitchenette and dining table."

Ambergris Loses in Value

While ambergris is still quite valuable, it does not possess the value it did years ago. There is not the demand now for it that there used to be. Ambergris was chiefly used in the perfume-making industry, some of the most fragrant odors being produced from the evil-smelling stuff; but the advances of synthetic chemistry in recent years have not only made it possible for chemists to imitate exactly the composition of the compound but also to produce artificially other and better aromas at the one hundredth part of the cost of ambergris.

POLICE NEWS

John Ferguson of 9 Oakwood road, Auburndale, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with having violated the law by giving his son, age 14, an air-rifle. The law forbids anyone selling or giving such a weapon to a minor under 15. Ferguson's boy, Daniel, on March 1 fired the rifle at another boy, Robert van Pattensteinger of Virginia road, with the result that the victim lost the sight of his right eye. Young Ferguson was standing behind a snow fort, according to testimony and fired the rifle after the other boy had thrown a snowball at him. His father admitted having given the rifle to the boy four years ago, before the present law regarding air-rifles went into effect. Judge Bacon continued the case until April 8 to arrive at a decision on this matter.

Wedding presents and other articles stolen on March 26 from the home of Howard Wellwood, Jr., at 339 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, were recovered on Tuesday by Inspector Shaugnessy of the Newton police in room at the West End in Boston. The recovery of the loot followed the arrests of Harold Bowman of Arlington and his brother Joseph Bowman of Cambridge. It included clothing, jewelry and other articles valued at $1250. Other loot found in Bowman's room was stolen from the home of David Sutton at Ashmont road, Waban, and is valued at over $1000. The Bownmans are supposed to have committed many burglaries in Arlington, Winchester and other places.

Richard Howard of 225 Chapel street, Newton, was in court Monday charged with passing a worthless check in a Nonantum bakery. His case was continued until April 15.

As a result of activity on the part of Patrolman Michael Connolly, a number of persons were in court on Wednesday charged with parking overtime in the business section at Newton Corner. Judge Bacon placed the cases on file and warned the offenders not to repeat.

Mr. Woodbridge to be Summer Camp Director

Mr. John M. Woodbridge, Jr., vice-president of Norumbega Council, with seventeen years of Scouting experience, has been named as the Camp Director of Camp Cape Cod, which is Norumbega Council's summer camp, sharing it with the Cape Cod Council. This promotion was made at a meeting with Mr. F. P. Abbott, Scout Executive of the Cape Cod Council, last Saturday afternoon. His Assistants from this Council, as appointed by him to date, are Mr. Donald Curtis, a Freshman at Princeton, and a Quartermaster 1 Ship 13, Seacoast Division, of this Council; Mr. Robert Spillman, Eagle Scout, and an expert in Scouting, who will have charge of leathercraft instruction and the Camp Museum; Scout Clay Lewis, of Troop 11, Newton, who will aid in First Aid instruction and be a member of the Junior Staff; Robert Spillman is Junior Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 19, Newton Center. Mr. Woodbridge is also working on two more Norumbega Scouts, one to help in the nature work and the other to take charge of Pioneering work at the camp and to have charge of overnight hiking.

Features of this camp will be the overnight hiking program, to ponds around the vicinity and there are many of them and to the seashore which is not far away. The April issue of "The Norumbega Scout" will be a camp issue and will tell the whole story on the summer camp and will have an application enrollment form in it.

Scouts For The Jamboree

Scout Commissioner reports that the reservations for the International Jamboree to be held in England next year, from this Council are complete with an enrollment of 16 Scouts and 2 leaders. The high spot of the affair is that a prominent member of Norumbega Council, because of the inspiration he has had from Troop 3, Norumbega, in which Mr. Kenelm Winslow of the Troop Committee so enthusiastically reports, is sending a Scout from that Troop and is paying all his expenses. Mr. Winslow and Mr. Woodbridge, who is acting as Scoutmaster of the Troop at the present time, have selected the Scout to go. His name appears in the list below.

Following are the Scouts who are going on the Jamboree trip: Troop 3, Nonantum, George Fremault; Troop 4, Highlands, Scouts William Dillaway and C. Warren Dillaway, Jr.; Troop 7, Eagle Scout Walter Brandt, Scouts Charles Pray and Andrew Hutchinson; Troop 9, Waban, C. R. Boggs, Jr.; Troop 10, Waban, Scouts John C. Bierer, Hamilton Ferris, John Ferris, Harry Ham, Donald Robbins; Troop 15, Auburndale, Richard Shaw, Gordon Campbell and Paul Henrick; Troop 18, Newton Center, Richard Young.

As previously published this Trip is not costing the Scout a single penny, as parents of Scouts and interested citizens of Newton are financing the whole thing. The party will be thoroughly prepared and trained for the trip, which will be taken under most competent and experienced leaders. At the present time, the Scouts and leaders enrolled are undergoing vaccination and inoculation for typhoid and paratyphoid. Incidentally, there are several sore right arms in the group—the soreness which always comes from typhoid inoculations, but it lasts but a brief time, and gives an immunity to a disease that poor water abroad might otherwise cause.

Fathers of Scouts who are going are meeting with the Scout Commissioner John M. Bierer and President Maynard Hutchinson at the Council Headquarters the first of next week to learn final details and to receive final instructions as to their part in the preparations. The Scouts are also meeting to organize and to plan the exhibits they are going to carry over.

The Troop Committee consists of Mr. John M. Bierer, Chairman; James R. Warren, Vice-Chairman; Rhodes A. Garrison, Treasurer; and Messrs. Robbins, Brown, Fletcher, Beal, Cyrus Ferris, Boggs, McLellan, Patterson, Estes, Scoutmaster of Troop 9 is George Graham Ross and his Assistants are A. B. Root, Jr., R. E. Argersinger and Raymond E. Ashley. The Scoutmaster of Troop 10 is Wilson Rhodes, and his Assistant is Winthrop Rhodes, and Ritchie Garrison as Junior Assistant.

When the Troop Committee had been invested, the Scout Executive called forward the Scoutmasters and Assistants, charged them and then administered the Scout Oath to them.

Troop 3, Nonantum

On Friday evening last, Troop 3, Nonantum, was inspected by the Scout Commissioner, John M. Bierer and the Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr. Mr. Woodbridge was in charge. As the inspection officers mounted the stairs to the hall on the third floor, they heard sounds from the second floor corridor. Stopping to look in, they saw a group of about 12 Scouts, practicing the Morse Code, under Patrol Leader Bernard Doucette, with the class in absolute order. Continuing to the third floor, they found two groups of "rookies" being drilled

Dr. Warren W. Marston will be the speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday evening, April 8th. He has taken for his subject, "Appendicitis." A large number were out last week to hear Professor L. O. Cummings speak on, "The Psychology of Success." Anyone who is interested in Dr. Marston's talk is cordially invited to be present next Monday at 6:30.

It is expected that the tennis courts will be ready for use on Saturday, April 13th.

Twenty-two men entered the squash racquet tournament. Those who advanced to the third round are: John L. Sullivan, Roland Crouse, H. B. Seikel, Arnold C. Barker, E. L. Frazier, J. B. Russell Jr., Ray Millard, and Arthur S. Roberts. All fourth round matches are to be played before the end of the week, and the semi-finals, and finals during the week beginning April 8th. A consolation tournament is in progress for those who lost their first round matches. A cup is being offered as consolation prize.

RABIES SPREADING

That dread disease, rabies, which menaces dogs and other animals, as well as humans, is evidencing itself in this section again. Within the past few weeks there have been several cases of it in Wellesley, Needham and Waltham. A 90 days' quarantine has been established on dogs in Wellesley. Last year in Massachusetts 3000 persons were bitten by dogs and 880 dogs afflicted with rabies were killed, an increase of over 100 compared with 1927.

A letter has been sent out by Evan Richardson, Director of the Division of Animal Industry of this State to Mayors and Selectmen regarding the failure of cities and towns to enforce the law regarding unlicensed dogs. The law compels owners of dogs to have these animals licensed and to allow no dog at large unless the animal wears a collar bearing the license number on a plate or tag. This law is not being enforced in Newton. A large percentage of the dogs running loose in this city wear no collars. Undoubtedly many of them are not licensed.

NEWTON CIRCLE

The Newton Circle announces with the greatest pleasure that Mrs. Prescott Warren, the well known Bridge authority, will be in attendance at their Annual Card Party, to explain any hands and answer any knotty questions. We consider it a great asset to have Mrs. Warren with us and we feel sure that she will add immensely to the afternoon's enjoyment. The advance sale of tickets already exceeds that of any previous year and everyone is anticipating a pleasant time.

Reserve the date; Monday, April 8th, at 2 p. m. at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Y.W.C.A.

On next Monday night the Blue Triangle Club will hold their supper and meeting at the rooms. The speaker of the evening will be Miss Grace Weston, and her topic will be "Antique Furniture." Miss Weston is, of course, an authority on this subject. Her talk will be supplemented with slides picturing various interesting phases of the topic. The girls are making this a guest night, and all are urged to be present themselves and to bring others with them.

The various Girl Reserve groups are meeting regularly. The Senior group is carrying on play rehearsals in anticipation of their regular spring event. It is anticipated that the work will go on through the next two months with sustained interest. The swimming class proved so successful that plans are already under way to undertake another four week's course this spring. Enrollments are now being received for this.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Members of the well known human race, with whom you and I and our friends and neighbors associate because we are part of it, are sometimes referred to as the "fickle public." Whether the charge is baseless or sound is not for me to say. I am prepared to declare that the public "gets notions" and exhibits symptoms of inconsistency, so much so that it makes one dizzy if one tries to follow events of the day. I suppose a nicer word is "temperament" although that is used to describe those who are selfish, indifferent, ungrateful and insulting. But let us not discuss weakness of character on the part of individuals but turn to the "funny things people do."

It has been my lot—a not unhappy one in this regard—to observe the public receptions accorded "heroes of the air," which is a phrase used by those who like to impress others by the smart juggling of words. Of course there are aviators and particularly those who have achieved greatness. Now then it is of these I would write. We all remember them and readily recall how we watched their exploits or at least the news of their flights. We were so eager that we hung over the radio for fear of missing the latest scrap of information.

Then came the public receptions the biggest of which was that for Col. Lindbergh. The crowds were numberless. Thousands shoved and trampled each other for a glimpse of him. Such a turning-out of people to honor one man seemed unequalled in modern times. After him we celebrated in honor of Hegenberger and Maitland whose flight across the Pacific was another marvel. The crowds came out for them. Others who followed were received with tumultuous cheers by thousands, notably the Bremen flyers, Baron Von Huenfeld, Major Fitzmaurice and Capt. Koehl. The tribute paid was as deserved as it was elaborate in every case.

As the days went on other people did great things in their airplanes, braving death in their ventures and establishing unending fame for themselves. Gradually, however, the interest of the public began to wane. Crowds turned out, but in lesser numbers, to greet women and men whose feats were such as to thrill the universe.

It got to be an old story—with the public. They had wearied themselves of this sort of demonstration by their vigorous shouting and hand-clapping. They couldn't or wouldn't respond no matter what the occasion, at least not in such throngs nor with the same zest or anything approximating it.

And what is the mind of the public now? I can only answer by describing what I have seen with my own eyes within a week. Capt. Elmer P. Lundberg, famous Swedish airman, who had a conspicuous part in the rescue of the great Italian, Motho, came to Boston. His visit, I will admit, had not been heralded as it might have been, but was known. Did the public turn out in mobs for him? They did not. Were there schemes to get tickets to hear him speak and struggle to be present when he was officially received? No, there were none of these things. He came, was fittingly greeted and duly honored but largely by those who had a direct racial interest or who occupy high positions in city and State and who would naturally be on the job.

When I saw the comparatively small number of plain people who cheered and applauded him my mind went back to little more than a year ago and since, and I recalled what the public did at those times. What a difference! If ever there was a "hero of the air" that man is Capt. Lundberg, but how many people appreciate that fact? Maybe they do and prefer for some reason to conserve their energies. Who can tell?

Doesn't it all go to prove the truth of what the venerable showman said, "You've got to give 'em something new"? And doesn't it mean there is a lot of juvenile in the oldest adult as well as those who range between?

The suggestion was made that this column take up some of the minor problems of daily life and in connection therewith offer helpful suggestions as to their solution. In this instance I have only the problem. Any help that is proffered will be gladly received. It may come by mail, telephone or orally. Whatever the form it will be most welcome.

Today's little vexation is one that is found in every home. I may be overstating the case when I make that assertion and if I am I desire to be corrected at once. Still, I should like to see the home that is without it fully as much as I would like to see the efficiency man, scientist or general expert who can straighten it out.

Here is the situation: You are called to the telephone. It is a friend of the family and you greet him or her by name. Some member of your family overhears the salutation and says, "O, is that Soandso?" You don't hear the closely question until it is repeated. Then you pause and shout through the receiver, "Excuse me, somebody is talking in the room."

The person on the other end of the phone says, "What's that?" while the member of the family says again, "Are you talking to Soandso?" And then you are confronted with the task of trying to hear what two different people are saying. You remove the receiver from your ear to get the household inquiry and thereby cut off the speaker on the phone. "Just a minute," you say over the wire and then you turn and ask, "What did you ask me?"

Over the phone comes the statement, "I wasn't asking you anything." In the room you hear, "O, never mind I just thought of something." Over the wire comes, "Hello, hello, what's the matter with your line?" And in the room you hear, "I didn't mean to bother you, let it go."

The person who has called you up demands an explanation and you attempt to describe the situation by saying, "Somebody here had a message for you." "What is it?" says the voice on the wire. You turn around and ask, "He wants to know what you want?" Comes the retort, "I didn't want anything, don't be stupid." You try to say that over the wire and your reward is, "What's the matter with you today?"

"There's nothing the matter with me," you insist, but your explanation is far from satisfactory. Finally you convince the person who has called you that you have been interrupted by someone in the room. "All right," says the voice in the receiver, "I'll wait." By that time the room is empty for the one who was at your elbow a minute before has gone upstairs somewhat peeved at your failure to understand.

You turn back to the phone and tell your story, but the manner in which it is received shows plainly you have not made yourself convincing. In fact, you haven't done anybody a service although you have got yourself into a mental muddle.

I am for telephone booths in every home, that is, if I could be assured that one could lock oneself in.

A stock joke—and a good one—of cartoonists has been the plight of the pedestrian in all this hubbub of motor traffic. The pedestrian has been pictured as bowled over and flattened out, as compelled to wait half-an-hour for a chance to cross the street and as delayed and encumbered in many ways and for many causes because there was no one to look after his interests.

At first these things were taken as rare examples of humor. Foot passengers were supposed to have the advantage of picking their own way. Rules and regulations were only for vehicles, everybody thought. A man or woman who had not the price of an automobile had at least the satisfaction of knowing that the sidewalk and the street belonged to him. Pretty soon it dawned on the plain citizen that if he stayed on the sidewalk he was reasonably safe but that if he stepped off the curb into the thoroughfare he did so at his own risk. It was agreed, however, that as hazardous as such a step would be it was the right of the man or woman who took it. If he or she wanted to walk in front of an automobile and accept the consequences there was nothing to prevent. In fact, it was felt that to throw one's life away was a privilege that could not be denied.

All the mirth has passed from the pedestrian's place in this world—or at least in the city of Boston. I say passed—well, it came near passing until certain members of the Legislature got on to the fact that the bill for a traffic commission for Boston came near putting an end to a pedestrian's right to the pursuit of life (or death, liberty and happiness). Until recently, liberty and happiness, this bill was amended it was drawn through the legislature and the poor pedestrian would have, or at least might have, been bound around with restrictions, regulations and everything else. He might have had to give signals when turning the corner of a street though still paddling along the sidewalk if the proposed commission had seen fit to so order. Can you imagine anybody conceiving the idea that the walking public should follow rules and regulations. The cartoonists were supposed to be drawing the long bow for the sake of a laugh. But there isn't any humor in it any more.

Pedestrians have got to watch out or they will have to wear license plates with registration numbers and obey the rules of the road.

People can be so thoughtless at times. You may say it is due to the fact that they have a one-track mind. That may be a bit severe or it may be letting them down easily. Yet many well-intentioned folks who are apt to think only of themselves with the result that those about them suffer the consequences. An example of this occurred the other day.

An Elevated two-train car or cars, or whatever it may be called, was leaving Nonantum Square for Boston. Among those who boarded the "train" were two women. They were not traveling together and entered the car one behind the other. The first was a large, masterful woman. The second, less imposing in appearance. The first woman paid her fare and stepped out to take a seat in the forward end. The second woman paid her fare, too, and followed her. The first woman suddenly remembered that she wanted a transfer. She stepped back without turning around. The second woman, assuming the first was going right along, stepped up, too. At this moment the car started. The second woman, with one foot poised in the air and nothing to grab hold of was thrown on the floor, her bundles shooting out in every direction. Apparently she believed in shopping in Newton. The conductor picked her up and assisted her to a seat and then the incident ended except that the tumble received by the second woman probably caused a shaking up if nothing worse.

The first woman seemed distressed to think that she had been responsible for the other's fall, which, of course, she was, though without malice or anything else in her mind. In fact, she was intent on the transfer. You can't blame her, in a way, but she might have considered for an instant what she was doing. However, those things are bound to happen every day and you can't do much of anything about it.

If I were to place the responsibility for such a happening I should be disposed to criticize the Elevated. If the road did not have those annoying pieces of rope stretched between the bright bars this accident would not have happened. The first woman went through the only available opening and the second did likewise. If both places had been opened—that is if one

These bits of rope are so placed, I suppose, to keep the passengers from crowding on in a mass and thus permitting any unscrupulous person from evading his fare. The road is probably saved a few dimes by this arrangement but what of the convenience and the necks of the passengers?

STATE FEDERATION

ANNUAL MEETING. Clubwomen and delegates who are looking forward to the Annual Meeting of the State Federation are notified that the dates are May 15, 16, and 17; the place is the New Ocean House, Swampscott, which is now being made more attractive and spacious by renovations; and that it is time for them to make their reservations. Clubwomen have 'o do this direct with the hotel, and the earlier this is done the better accommodations can be secured, and plans for friends to be together can be better arranged. Rates include the following: for double room with bath and single beds, $8. per day per person; Large rooms with three single beds, $7. per day per person.

CHORAL CONCERT. The balance of the musical program will include compositions by Schumann, Brahms, Grieg, Calcott, and some of the writers of modern music. An orchestra will furnish music for dancing until midnight. Of especial interest is the presentation of the cantata, "The River of Stars", a legend of Niagara, by Clarence K. Bawdy, which will be given the first appearance in New England for this State concert.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Waban Woman Club

Members of the Waban Woman's Club have the privilege of a most enjoyable afternoon for Wednesday, April 10th, planned by the Art Committee, of which Mrs. Raymond H. Davis is chairman. A trip is planned to the Fogg Museum and the Agassiz Museum, at Cambridge, where lectures will be held, opening at 2 o'clock. For transportation, those who wish to attend should telephone to Mrs. Prescott Worman, hostess for the day, who will arrange for this pleasing feature of the outing.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be held on Thursday, April 11th, at the Auburndale Club House. The polls will be open from 11.30 a. m. to 2.30 p. m. Luncheon will be served at 12.30 o'clock with the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. E. Arthur Hancock, chairman, in charge. A short entertainment will be presented at 2 p. m. by the Program Committee, of which Mrs. Ernest F. Drew is chairman, and at 2.30 o'clock the business meeting will take place.

The ballot for the ensuing year is as follows: president, Mrs. C. Carter Willson; first vice-president, Mrs. Walter Van Patten; second vice-president, Mrs. Arthur L. Shaw; treasurer, Miss Anne Bunker; recording secretary, Mrs. Alfred L. Billings; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. L. Johnson, and directors for three years, Mrs. John E. Carter, and Mrs. James Dunlop. Also from eight names are to be chosen for the next Nominating Committee, these eight being Mrs. Kirke Corey, Mrs. Theodore Dearborn, Miss Joanna Donovan, Mrs. Alfred Hansen, Miss Margaret Haskell, Mrs. Bradley Hill, Mrs. Arthur Lane, and Mrs. Walter Wells.

Newton Community Club

On April 11th, at the next meeting of the Newton Community Club, Mr. Herbert W. Gleason, the noted horticulturist, will speak on the "Wonderland of New England." Mr. Gleason came before this Club a few years ago in an illustrated lecture on National Parks that was most enthusiastically received, so beautiful were his pictures, and so pleasing his stage presence. His lecture is sure to be a treat.

The day, in fact, is to be a red letter one for the Club, for the Conservation Committee has arranged for a Flower Show, as a contest for members, which will be on display before the meeting.

All exhibitors must have their exhibits ready by 1 o'clock on that day in order that they may be judged before the opening of the meeting.

The judges are to be Miss Georgia Emery, Mrs. Hubert Fraser, and Mrs. Elliott B. Church.

Flowers are to be judged on the following points: harmony of color, arrangement of flowers, and arrangement of flowers in relation to each other and to the container. Units and breakfast sets are to be judged as a whole.

This exhibit is sure to be a challenge to taste and ingenuity. It will certainly bring to all many new and beautiful ideas which may be utilized for enjoyment.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The last "current Events" lecture for the Newton Centre Woman's Club year, by Mrs. Grace M. Poole, will be given on Thursday, April 11th, at 10.30 a. m. This most popular series of talks is sponsored by the Education Committee, composed of the following members of the Club: chairman, Mrs. Ralph S. Hudson; Mrs. Charles L. Bird, Mrs. Harold G. Giddings, Mrs. William H. Greeley, Mrs. Joseph F. Lockett, Mrs. William H. Raye, Mrs. Alden H. Spear, Mrs. George E. Squier, Mrs. Marshal L. Stone, Mrs. Henry E. Warren, and Mrs. G. Horace Williams.

Preparations are going forward for the Spring Bazaar, which is to be from 10 a. m. to 10.00 p. m. on Tuesday, April 23rd. There are to be many attractive tables with useful articles for sale; an entertaining Style Show in the afternoon, and a vaudeville program in the evening. Luncheon and dinner will be served, and reservations for tables can and should be made.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The next regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Friday afternoon, April 12th, at 2.30 p. m.

Mr. Harold O. Cook has been engaged to speak on the very timely subject "Trees," with illustrations. Following Mr. Cook's address there will be a reception to new members with Mrs. William A. Richardson, Mrs. Charles Cunningham, and Mrs. Sands E. Chipman as hostesses.

RECENT EVENTS

The regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held at the Underwood School Hall, on Thursday afternoon, March 28th, at 2.30 o'clock. The president, Mrs. Harry W. Pitts, presided. A notice was given of the Flower Show to be held at the next meeting, April 11th. Club members are earnestly asked to submit exhibits. Prizes are to be awarded. Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson will be in charge of the exhibit.

Following the notices, Mrs. John W. Crowley sang a group of songs, with Mrs. James A. Moyer accompanying.

The speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Harry A. Overstreet, was introduced by the president, Dr. Overstreet's subject was "The Psychology of Remaining Young". Old age is usually considered a natural thing he said, but he felt it could be termed a disease. The average expectancy of life to-day is twenty-three years longer than it was sixty or seventy years ago. A growing interest in life and things, greatly tends to prolong life; when this interest ceases, life peters out. By the power of sublimation we transform one kind of energy into another—a provision shadowing forth almost limitless possibilities for higher adaptations and for growth in character. Life must be fed by new interests, or, as the speaker presented it, by crossing an "effort threshold".

Auburndale Woman's Club

Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton College, made his subject, "Youth and Crabbled Age" both entertaining and instructive to the members of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Thursday, March 28th. The Swedish and English songs, sung by Mr. Thure Hulten, Baritone, were also a pleasant addition to the meeting. Tea was served by the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. E. Arthur Hancock, chairman.

Mrs. Carlton E. Treat, chairman of the Conservation Committee, reported on the State Conservation Conference held on March 26th, and Mrs. C. Carter Willson and Mrs. C. Lee Briggs reported on the Youth Conferences conducted by the State Committee of the American Home, on March 22nd.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The meeting of the American Home Committee of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur M. Toulon, at 9 Elmwood park, Newtonville.

At the luncheon much amusement was had with the April first jokes which were found on the tables. It was the president's, Mrs. J. A. Otis', birthday also, so she had the pleasure of distributing to those present pieces of the attractively decorated birthday cake which was lighted with 16 yellow candles.

The delightful "joke" she found was a Gouda vase which the members gave her.

Dr. Jan T. Byhouwer, the speaker of the afternoon, gave an interesting and most instructive talk on the "Small Garden," and also on the care of the lawn. He showed colored illustrations of many beautiful and uncommon shrubs which can be had for a minimum of money and care. He told, also, what kind of garden to make for certain types of house and grounds, and how to treat flowers as "clumps" of color.

Especially did he stress the feeding of plants and the lawn, stating, "They need a balanced diet as do humans." The afternoon was most enjoyable.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. George F. Howland of Vista avenue, was hostess for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, April 2nd. There was a short business meeting at which the name of Mrs. Albert Palmer was voted upon the Waiting List.

The program of the day was in charge of Mrs. J. F. Rider who took the place of her sister, Miss Ellen Williams, and read her sister's paper on "President Taft's Administration," giving an entertaining description of this "great" man. Mrs. Charles Pickard was in New York at the time of this meeting and her paper on "President Wilson" was read by Miss Florence Bridgman, who described both the man and his work. She spoke of the Underwood Tariff Act, which includes the Income Tax, which over the origin to Wilson as also the Federal Reserve Act.

The paper on "Characteristics of Lincoln," which Mrs. Wells was not able to give at the regular time, was also enjoyed at this time.

A most unusual feature of the morning was the music. Mrs. Charles Grover announced that WEEL would entertain the Club, and to the surprise of the audience, the announcer said that the program of War music to be broadcasted was being done for the Review Club of Auburndale. "Travel On," "O'er the Hills and Other," the familiar war songs were played, and a most gratified audience sat and listened to the prominence which was given before each selection to the Review Club.

The tickets for the "Earthquake Bridge" and Food Sale are on sale by Mrs. Charles Valentine, Mrs. George Howland, Mrs. Ernest Drew, and Mrs. Albert Puffer. The Bridge will be held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Spaulding, 429 Wolcott street, on the afternoon of April 18th, and will be one dollar each. This sociable event is not limited to Club members.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club held a most successful Arts and Crafts Exhibition on Tuesday, at the Central Congregational Church. The display included a great variety of objects all by Newtonville people. Needle work, weaving, china painting, tooled leather, hooked rugs, drawings, and paintings. There was a very interesting collection of books and articles published by Newtonville people. A very lovely piece of stained glass, one panel of a Dante window, to be placed in the chapel at Princeton University, attracted much attention. A hooked rug was being made by Mrs. Constance Kemper and Mrs. Kemper showed the art of weaving with her loom.

Much of the success of an exhibition depends on its manner of display. This was very well done by Mrs. Orin Skinner who had it in charge.

Early in the afternoon, Mrs. Dewing, of West Newton, gave a brief talk on "The Club Sampler." This was followed by a Folk Dance, by a group of children from the Horace Mann

School: Virginia Colton, Jean Beal, Janet Mattson, Olive Guilford, Ruth Carter, Dorothy Bart, Barbara Hill and Barbara Johnson. Dorothy Seeley of the sixth grade, played the accompaniment. Rosetta Littlefield of the Junior High, gave a "Tap Dance" and a fancy waltz. Then, Morton F. Ingraham played two piano selections.

In the evening Barbara Risdon and Nancy Costello gave an old fashioned dance. They were accompanied by Mrs. A. Chester Carter, Mr. C. J. Connick, Mr. E. Donald Robb and Mr. C. J. A. Wilson spoke. Miss Gladys Avery sang a group of three songs.

During both afternoon and evening, refreshments were served by the Hospitality Committee.

Over five hundred people visited the exhibit, afternoon and evening inclusive and there were over a hundred exhibitors, so that Mrs. A. L. Wakefield and her Committee felt well repaid for their work, which means many weeks of tireless effort.

Newton Mothers' Club

A very enjoyable meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Percy Ziegler on Monday afternoon, April first.

Rev. Boynton Merrill, D.D., spoke on "The Rising Generation" and presented some very searching but helpful truths to the modern mother.

Refreshments were afterward served by the hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. Herbert Andrews, Mrs. Norman Bingham and Mrs. Ziegler. Mrs. Boynton Merrill also assisted in receiving.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Young People's Inter-church Council held a very successful Easter Service last Sunday. A large group of people greeted Professor Warmingham, and all together were pleased to greet the sun, which helped so much to make the day a perfect one. Professor Warmingham's theme was summed up in the words, "In the Garden there was a tomb, but the Garden was greater than the Tomb." He likened all of life to a garden, where the spirit of the Living Christ overcomes all sorrows and discouragements. Easter makes all of our life now, as well as in the future, touched with the divine.

The District Executive Secretary cooperated with Waltham churches last week on Good Friday, to conduct a "Story and Picture Hour" for children of the Junior Department age. This was held in the Universalist church and there were seventy-five children present at this, the first attempt of the kind for Waltham on Good Friday. Lantern slides on the Life of Christ were used, through the courtesy of Mrs. P. E. Woodward of Newtonville, who loaned a few slides from her collection for this purpose. Members of the Norumbega District School of Religious Education assisted in conducting the children's service.

The Newton Young People's Council will hold their April meeting next Saturday evening, as the guests of the young people in the Needham Congregational Church. Prof. Wayland Vaughan, formerly of Newton Centre, will give a talk on "Habit formation"; Dr. Cushman, a missionary to Africa, will also be present to show her curios and souvenirs. There will also be a social and refreshments, so a busy eventful evening is expected.

The Mather Class

Last Sunday was Easter, and the Mather Class took for its subject, "Bethany, the Greatest Triumph of Human History," at the regular weekly meeting of the class in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. This was Prof. Kirtley F. Mather's third lecture in the Easter series.

What does the Resurrection mean to us? In order best to comprehend it, we need to reflect on its meaning to people in the past.

Historically the records are a bit confusing, because we are far from sure about what may have been added to the original story.

There is one clear cut conclusion about which there can be no great argument. At the time of the death of Jesus his Disciples turned away sorrowing. They knew He was a great prophet and they had thought He was the promised One, but it did not seem to them that, if that were true, He could be crucified. He was crucified, and apparently had failed.

They were going home, downhearted. They doubted that there was any God and could not see what value He could be to the world anyhow, now that Jesus was crucified. All was hopelessness. They had staked their lives on a man who had failed. They had left all. To be sure, that wasn't much, but it was all they had, homes and friends. They had followed Jesus for several years, homeless wanderers, dependent on charity for sustenance.

The two Disciples on the road to Emmaus had heard the report of the empty tomb and the risen Lord, but it made no difference in their plans. If they had expected the Resurrection or fully believed it when they heard of it, they would have waited in Jerusalem or at least gone back to investigate.

The women took their little store of money and bought spices. They expected to anoint the body and go back to their former way of living. All hopes for the future had been shattered.

Then something happened.

Prof. Mather said that he did not know the exact nature of what we call the Resurrection. It is wrapped up in mystery. We are uncertain about both the physical and spiritual points of view. The records make a mystery of it. Mary did not recognize Jesus when she saw Him, until He spoke. The two Disciples did not recognize Him until he broke bread. When the Disciples were in a room behind closed doors, Jesus suddenly appeared in their midst. We cannot explain or interpret what happened, but there is no doubt at all about its effect on men. It was a stupendous triumph.

A group of dispersed, beaten, and hopeless men came back and became the most powerful force for good that the world has ever seen.

Peter cowardly refused to acknowledge that he was a follower of Jesus, but he became a most courageous man afterwards.

The Disciples had nothing behind them to sustain them. They were followers of a prophet who had been rejected and killed, unable to save himself. He was the most completely discarded prophet imaginable. They were champions of an unpopular and defeated cause.

And then Jesus came to them. His coming was very real to them. He reminded them of His previous promises and recalled to their attention what had happened before the Crucifixion. They gathered in Bethany and waited for power to come upon them. We cannot describe its spiritual nature, but we know that the impact of the spirit of Jesus on the spirit of men grows more and more from age to age.

What did the Resurrection mean to the men of that time? Paul has considerable to say about it. Paul had a vision on the road to Damascus and put himself in the same category as the others. The vision meant something of great importance to Paul. There was true vitality in it. Then, as now, knowledge and mystery existed side by side. There are few facts or experiences that are not mysterious. The fact is there. It made a tremendous difference to Paul when he caught a vision of the risen Lord. It is beyond understanding and definition.

Christianity is based on belief in the risen Lord. If that were not so, all our faith would be misplaced and all our hopes shattered.

The historical incident calls for a particular day in the spring of a particular year, when a tomb was opened and a body came to life.

The historical Jesus is less important than the Jesus who rose from the dead and is alive in the world today. We can prove it by what happened to Peter and Paul. The motive power which drove them was unusual and suicidal. Both paid the penalty, and they knew it in advance. This motive power was stronger than the biologic urge to live.

We can prove the existence of the spirit of Jesus today by our own experiences with Jesus. We may not describe our experiences even to ourselves or think of them in such vivid ways as the Gospel writers did. They of our experiences as trivial when described it in terms which were quite concrete and vividly realistic. When the Voice speaks to us, a glow of radiance fills the heart. We expand with a feeling of oneness with the world and gratitude to the administration of the universe. We often think of our experiences as trivial when compared with Paul's or Joan of Arc's, and we wonder if they are real. They are all of the same nature. They may be different in degree but not in kind, because those people reacted more strongly than we are likely to.

Perhaps we also do not recognize the stranger as Christ. We push Him out and fail to see that the door of opportunity has been opened to us. The fact is that the spirit of Jesus is and has been vivid, real, living, and powerful. When the vision comes, we should open our eyes and see it. When the voice is heard, we should respond. It is the basis of faith, better than historical records and the dogmas of tradition.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The monthly all day meeting was held on Wednesday, April 10, in the chapel. Mrs. Lottie McCortney conducted a food sale as a closing chapter of the Travelling Baskets, which have added substantially to the fund for church improvements.

Sewing and surgical dressings were engaged in during the morning with Mrs. Fred W. Rust serving as chairman of handwork and Mrs. G. E. Fisher and Mrs. A. E. Vose assisting. At 12:30 luncheon was served under the direction of Mrs. F. C. Bassett and Mrs. E. W. Kellogg. Mrs. F. G. Ingraham was chairman of the serving committee. Friends of Mrs. Henry Nickerson of New Rochelle, New York, formerly of Newtonville, were glad to welcome her to her home church where she did such efficient service in the past. She is the guest of Mrs. F. C. Bassett of 74 Prescott street.

Mrs. W. E. Strong spoke for the Seaman's Friend Society, reminding the members of the annual meeting which will be held in the chapel of the Old South Church on Monday, April 8. Mrs. Norman Southworth, chairman of the motor corps, will provide transportation for those who wish to attend. Mrs. Strong looks ahead to the time when a more personal interest in this work will be made possible and visits will be made to the "huts" of the sailor boys, and entertainment provided by our members. Mrs. George W. Auryansen, the president, called attention to the get-together meeting the following Wednesday when Central Guild will provide the supper and the Association with the men of the congregation will unite with them for a social occasion and hear Mrs. Richard Rose of India give an interesting account of her experiences, illustrated by lantern slides.

The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Alfred Bliss, D.D., and his subject was "Past, Present and Future of the American Indian." The Indian is our "first family in America," according to some authorities having been here 10,000 years. The "wild Indian" is no more, except as he is seen in Wild West shows and the movies. Our majestic and melodious local names are reminiscent of his occupation in these parts. Perhaps his tepee was in the very spot where Central Church stands. Nonantum and Massachusetts and many other names tell the story of Indian occupation. And why say or write "Mass." when Massachusetts is a word of such beauty? To the Indian the world owes the introduction of Indian corn, potatoes, peanuts, turkeys and other commodities. Recalling the early history of Dartmouth and of Harvard, Dr. Bliss reminded his hearers that teaching of the Indians was included in the objectives of those institutions of learning. Where kindness had been shown it had met with friendliness from the red man and to the favors of Massachusetts our pilgrim fathers owed much in the early days. It is regrettable that so much injustice and greed has marred our dealings with the Indian.

Dr. Bliss pointed out how much was needed to be done to give help in a physical way to these people who are victims of the white man's diseases, as their confined life in the small one room cabins takes away their powers of resistance. They should be taught better ways of living. As citizens they should be educated that they may become intelligent voters. They are naturally religious and respond to Christian teaching which is given them in the schools of the American Missionary Association where they can live and be kept away from their homes which would undo the training in higher ideals.

Dr. Bliss showed many interesting curios and photographs which he had taken during his sojourn among the Indians of South Dakota. He had a sympathetic understanding of these people and felt that we owed much to them.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, will hold their April meeting next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George N. Putnam on Vernon street. Mrs. Jacobs will be the speaker and her subject "Deerfield Old and New." A reception to the hostesses and a social hour will follow the entertainment.

What attempt do we make to see Jesus? What opportunity do we afford Him to make contact with us? The triumph of Christianity began at Bethany and is going forward year by year.

When that early group met, talked, prayed, and waited, Jesus came and was very real to them, just as real as it was possible for one to be. When we go to our Bethany, wherever that may be in modern geography, right then and there we enter into the greatest triumph of human history.

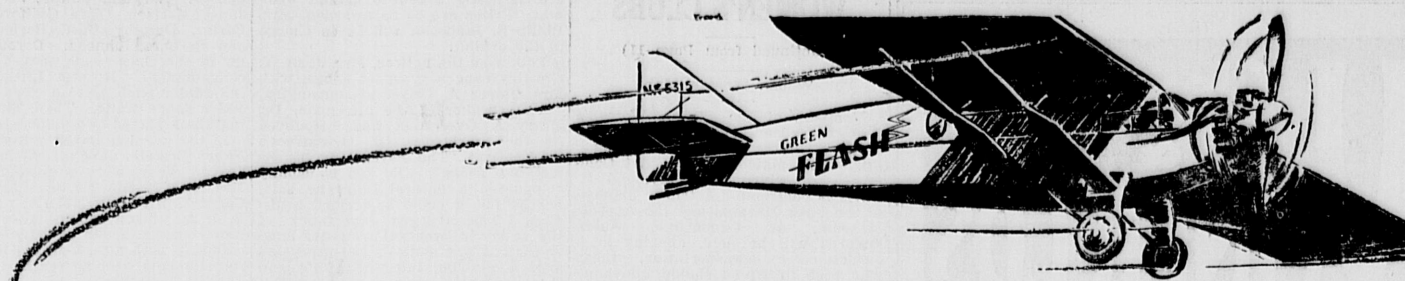

Next Sunday Prof. Mather will begin a survey of religion in modern literature of the last few decades. "John Brown's Body" will be the specific topic under discussion.

Next Sunday evening, April 7, will occur the next Sunday Evening Round Table, at the home of Mr. Percy Brough, 192 Washington street, Wellesley Hills, a very little beyond Newton Lower Falls. The Class will meet at the Baptist Church, Newton Centre, at 6 p. m., where plenty of automobile transportation will be available. The subject for discussion at the Round Table will be: "Is God omnipotent?" Each lady is requested to bring sandwiches enough for two.

Petition Filed For Busses To Framingham

Street Car Service to Be Abolished On Washington Street

A petition was received this week by the Board of Aldermen from the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway asking for a permit to run busses from West Newton to the Wellesley line along Washington street. This means that the electric cars now in use on the line between Newton and Framingham will within about three months be replaced by busses. Officials of the company have been in Cleveland the past few days making arrangements for the purchase of the busses. It is expected that 18 new vehicles will be obtained.

The Framingham line carried the heaviest traffic of any division of the Middlesex & Boston, but the tracks and cars have seen much service and it would be inoperative in the near future to spend large amounts in replacing them. Because of the modern trend towards busses and because it will be much more economical for the company to operate them, the decision to shift to this type of transportation was reached recently. The only line which will then have electric cars in operation will be that running from Lake street to Norumbega Park.

Give Acousticon To West Newton Church

Dedication Service to be Held Next Sunday

Through the kindness of Walter F. Barbour, of Perkins street, Robert A. Barbour, Pittsfield; Miss Mary S. Barbour, 147 Prince street; Mrs. Grace Barbour Davis, Wyoming, Ohio; and Miss Ethel Barbour, 22 Perkins street, the most modern and approved style of church acousticon has been presented to the Lincoln Park Baptist Church in West Newton as a memorial to their parents, Deacon and Mrs. Alfred L. Barbour. The formal dedication of this instrument to the service of those who hunger after the things of the Spirit but have been prevented by hardness of hearing from fully sharing with their fellow church-members the inspiration of sermon and sacred music is to be made this Sunday morning at 10:45. The day is chosen because it comes in between the birthday anniversaries of the Barbours, Deacon Barbour having been born April 24th, 1837, at Cambridgeport and his wife, April 12th, 1849 at Cambridge.

Both of these good people were for many years known and loved throughout the Newtons, having come to live in Auburndale in 1875. Mr. Barbour, who died May 12, 1912, was long active in fire insurance and banking companies and was engaged in the real estate business in West Newton with T. W. Travis. He was also well known in religious circles, being at one time vice-president of the Boston Baptist Social Union, treasurer of the Baptist Vineyard Association, trustee of the Baptist Home at Cambridge, clerk of the Lamson Home, Cambridge; clerk, chairman of the executive committee and deacon of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton.

Mrs. Barbour was a member of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Home, deaconess, chairman of the Missionary Society, and teacher of the Barbour Classes at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church. Both she and Mr. Barbour were active in the service and support of all those interests that were devoted to the welfare of their fellow-citizens and the advancement of Christ's Kingdom. The church acousticon was selected as a memorial because it will give a real and living service symbolic of their lives. Their influence was by example more than by exhortation.

The service Sunday morning will include a number of favorite hymns of Mr. and Mrs. Barbour and sermon, "Knightly Service," by the pastor, Rev. John Shade Franklin.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

Mrs. George N. Putnam of Vernon street, Newton, opened her house on Wednesday afternoon for the April meeting of the Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, the Regent, presided and the meeting opened with the pledge to the flag.

The reports of officers were read and approved and plans were made for an outing in May. Mrs. George Webster having invited the chapter to her summer home at Sharon, Mass.

Twenty-five dollars was voted to the John A. Andrew Home in Newtonville and fifteen to the Pine Mountain School in Kentucky. The committee on the rummage sale to be held in Newton on April 25th and 26th, reported that arrangements for the sale were well under way and workers had been assigned for the various positions.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Franklin E. Smith as chairman of hostesses introduced Mrs. H. H. Jacobs who spoke most interestingly on "Deerfoot, Old and New." For those who had visited this delightful old town new interest was aroused and those who had not stopped there and visited Memorial Hall planned to do so at their earliest opportunity.

Clair Leonard who had charge of music entertained with piano selections and the meeting closed with the singing of America. Those serving in the dining room were Mrs. Frank Jay and Mrs. George Morrow, and the hostesses for the afternoon were Miss Ruth Richmond, Mrs. Spencer Sheppard, Miss Emma Sibley, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, Mrs. George H. Snyder and Mrs. Freeland O. Stanley.

Protest Permit For Overhead Coal Pocket

At Hearing Before Aldermen's Committee

A hearing was held by the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Aldermen on Tuesday night at City Hall on the petition of the Brackett Coal Company for a permit to erect an overhead coal-pocket at its property between Washington street and the Boston & Albany tracks at Newton. This property is zoned in a residence district and it is necessary to obtain favorable action from the Board of Aldermen before any extensions can be made to business structures used for non-conforming purposes in residence zones.

Rev. Lawrence Slattery, pastor of the Church of Our Lady strongly opposed the petition in letters sent to members of the Claims and Rules Committee. He was represented at the hearing by Attorney James M. Cannon of Newton. Mr. Cannon stated that the additional structure at the coal yard should not be permitted as it would only increase a condition which the creation of zoning in this city was for purpose of correcting. He asserted that when Washington street was widened about 35 years ago two serious mistakes were made. One was allowing the bank property and the building at the south-east corner of Washington and Centre streets at Newton Corner to remain, causing the present unfavorable traffic situation about Nonantum Square. The other mistake was to allow the Brackett coal yard to remain when all other parcels of private property between Newton Corner and West Newton, on the south side of Washington street, were seized. He referred to the fact that both the Newton and Newtonville Improvement Associations had in past years opposed further extensions being permitted in the business at the coal yard, and Mayor Childs in several of his annual addresses has advocated the taking of this property by the city for public purposes.

Mr. Cannon called attention to the fact that the proposed new coal pocket would be directly across Washington street from the new high school of the Parish of the Church of Our Lady, a building which cost over $250,000 and there are 1200 pupils in this and the grade school of the parish. Mr. Cannon stated he had been in communication with Mr. James C. Irwin of the Newtonville Improvement Association and the latter had expressed surprise that no notice had been received by the Executive Committee of this organization relative to the petition. In 1922 the Newtonville Improvement Association had opposed the further use of the land in this area for commercial purposes.

Major Frank T. McCabe of 3 Lewis street speaking for himself and Howard F. Lochrie of 229 Newtonville avenue, opposed the petition. William L. Graves of 215 Bellevue street said it would be an ill-advised action for the aldermen to allow further development in the coalyard. The district near this yard had greatly improved during late years and the property which has built up around this district should be protected. The yard, located on the main thoroughfare of the city should not become a greater detriment to nearby properties. Mr. Graves stated that William R. Ferry of 309 Bellevue street, and Franklin C. Jones of 188 Bellevue street also opposed the petition. Arthur Nash of 14 Lewis street said that to allow any other structure to be erected at the coalyard will reduce nearby property values. He is of the opinion that Washington street should be made more, rather than less attractive. Arthur F. Tobey stated that he is building a new residence at 194 Bellevue street and objects to another structure at the coalyard. He referred to the building of the Security Mills near Newtonville avenue as a detriment to the nearby residential district. Others who opposed were Joseph A. Callahan of 46 Eastside Park, and Martin McDonough representing John Walker of 697 Washington street.

Albert N. Walker of the Brackett Coal Company, the petitioner, said that he was surprised to find such opposition to the proposed structure. He is acquainted with a number of the objectors, and has no desire to do anything which would injure the val-

OPEN BIDS

The following bid was received on Thursday at 11:00 o'clock by Street Commissioner George E. With the Mayor's permission the contract will be awarded to the H. E. Fletcher Co.

uses of their properties. He commented that had they made known their views to him they would have saved themselves the trouble of protesting against the petition. He explained that he would not have petitioned but for the fact he believes the proposed structure will eliminate 70% of the noise at the yard, much of the dirt, do away with an unsightly building and make the handling of the coal easier. He informed the committee that the structure will resemble a large silo in appearance and would be a distinct improvement. He asserted that most of the dust and dirt come from the Boston & Albany trains and not from the coalyard. He requested the objectors to visit coal-yards near Boston where such pockets as he desires to erect may be seen. He stated that there are few sites on the B. & A. available for coal-yards and he must remain at his present location if he continues in the coal business.

Chairman Greenstein of the Claims and Rules Committee suggested to Mr. Walker that he confer with the objectors and endeavor to come to an agreement of some kind.

Three Months In Jail Result Of Liquor Raid

Judge Bacon Gives Stiff Sentence to Storti

In the Newton court on Monday Dominic Storti of 347 Albemarle road, West Newton, who was arrested last week by the Newton police after his home had been raided, was sentenced to three months in jail by Judge Bacon and fined $50. Dennis Lorden, chief prohibition enforcement officer, caught two men coming out of Storti's house after having loaded 47 gallons of alcohol there. When the place was raided a large still and other apparatus was found. Also 399 gallons of denatured alcohol and a large quantity of redistilled stuff in cans.

Storti was defended by former Assistant United District Attorney Backus who criticized the prohibition officers for not appearing in court to assist the Newton police in the prosecution. He asked Judge Bacon to find Storti not guilty as a rebuke to the Federal officers. Storti testified that he had not operated the still found in the cellar of his house and that he might get into trouble unless he had the stuff removed immediately from his residence in the Rhode Island city. William H. Hanlon, a plumber, and his assistant, testified that they had been in the cellar of Storti's home a couple of days before the raid to do some repair work and they had seen no still or liquor at that time. Storti appealed both penalties. He is to be tried in the Federal court.

Business Men Hear About N. E. Council

Business Conditions Discussed by Interesting Speaker

The monthly meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held last night at the Hunnewell Club. President Thomas Burns was in charge. It was reported that a special committee including Watson Baker, Albert T. Stuart had conferred with Mayor Childs regarding the establishing of a convenience station at Nonantum Square, and the Mayor has promised to give this matter careful consideration.

The speaker of the evening was R. W. Bowdoin of the New England Council. Mr. Bowdoin told of the institution of this organization in 1925 following a meeting of the Governors of the six New England states. The Council was deemed necessary by leading New England manufacturers and business men to offset the pessimistic trend regarding this section of the country. It meets quarterly to discuss economic problems and already has been of valuable assistance to many groups of New England manufacturers and agriculturists. Prior to recent years manufacturers in New England had to worry about production but not about selling. When changed conditions and increasing competition from newer sections of the country changed this situation, New England industrialists were faced with a problem new to them and the Council has advised how to meet a merchandising rather than a producing problem.

Mr. Bowdoin told of the difficulties experienced by New England farmers in disposing of their crops despite the fact they are located in the best market in the United States. They are instructed to grade their products properly and to recognize the fact that New England people demand quality in food. By having laws regulating standards in grading farm products enacted in all, six New England states and by educating the farmers to grow quality fruit and vegetables the agricultural situation here is rapidly improving. Referring to the slump in New England's textile industry, Mr. Bowdoin stated that it must be realized that the South is the natural location for a large part of the cotton industry but that if New England manufacturers are alive to opportunities, the better and more profitable kinds of cotton goods will be manufactured even more in this section. Old England has been even harder hit than New England because of new competition in the textile industry. Asiatic countries, formerly almost exclusively agricultural, are now producing large quantities of textiles.

The New England climate, according to Mr. Bowdoin, because of its variability was formerly considered very undesirable. Now, medical men are realizing that a variable climate is conducive to longevity and our erstwhile ridiculed weather conditions are regarded favorably, rather than otherwise.

Mr. Bowdoin emphasized the need of co-operation not alone between financial and manufacturing interests, but also among merchants conducting small retail business enterprises. This co-operative action is necessary to meet modern problems. It is imperative that persons in business keep acquainted with market conditions.

HONOR LOCAL PRO GOLFER

Last Saturday night members of the Woodland Golf Club assembled at the clubhouse in Auburndale to give Charles Burgess, veteran pro golfer of the club, a complimentary dinner and reception. The occasion was in recognition of the professional's twenty year connection with the Woodland Club and the climax of the evening came with a surprise presentation of $2000 in $20 gold pieces.

The presentation was made by President Irving E. Moulton. Mayor Childs congratulated him as a citizen of high standing and Harry Bowler of Winchester, second oldest professional in this district in years of service, spoke for his brother instructors. Numerous other speakers added to make the occasion a happy one for the local pro.

The day also marked the official opening of Woodland's course for the season and a notable achievement was a record score of 69 for the present course. The score was made by Percy Crosby, one of Burgess' pupils who has been playing the game for less than five seasons.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

MAY PLAY AT B. U. FIELD NEXT FALL

Because of the uncertain conditions existing at Clafin Field and the inability to accommodate the spectators who every Thanksgiving Day flock to see Newton and Brookline meet in football in the present stands it is possible that next fall the two teams will meet on Nickerson Field, River side, the Boston University athletic field. This fact was brought to light recently when Faculty manager Dr. Martin of Newton was in touch with B. U. officials regarding the use of the B. U. track at Nickerson field by the Newton high outdoor track squad. Permission to use the track was granted and the B. U. officials asked to take up the other matter inasmuch as there would be no game for B. U. on that day. The university authorities have the matter under consideration and will probably make a report one way or the other within a few weeks.

Newton has been handicapped for lack of a suitable football field for the past two years, both of its games with Brookline having been played on the latter's gridiron. Newton is not anxious to play at Brookline every year and as it is not expected that the new gridiron will be in shape to play on for at least another year or two the suggestion was made to play at Riverside.

The baseball team cannot play home games at Newtonville this year and these will be played at Victory field, Nonantum, with the exception of games with Everett and Somerville which will be played on the opponents' fields. The track team, without adequate facilities for outdoor practice in any one locality is under an even more severe handicap. Coach Don Enoch has some men practicing at Nickerson Field, others at Boston College, and others even running around the block. Needless to say it is an utter impossibility for the Newton mentor to give full attention to every member of the squad. With Dick Reynolds, Bob Ewing, Carl Pescosolido, Arthur Chamberlain, Fred Burton, Charles Hall and several other likely-looking prospects getting into shape better than last year, the team will be entered in the state meet at Harvard on May 11th in addition to the B. C. interscholastics, and Brown intercollegistics and the several dual meets. Ewing is looking much better than he did during the indoor season when he cleaned up in nearly every dash event while Dick Reynolds, indoor captain, is taking the low hurdles in brilliant fashion.

While Clafin Field remains in its present state all athletics at Newton are under a severe handicap but a gleam of hope is seen in an expected appropriation from the city for continuing the excavating and grading of the field. The city intends to continue the work this spring and summer but the exact amount to be spent will not be determined until it is settled as to whether or not the work is to be completed within two or three years. Should a public fund be raised to build a stadium as a memorial to the late Alie Dickinson, revered coach of Newton sports for seventeen years who passed away in 1927 it might be possible to complete the work in one lump and a considerable amount saved by so doing. If the work is to be stretched over a longer period it will mean additional expense. One section remains to be excavated and graded and if the track, gridiron and stadium are laid out at the same time this work is done athletics would be in excellent shape. If only the rough grading is done the existing handicap will not be removed and if the track and gridiron are laid without the stadium it means that when the latter is erected that because of trucking, and concrete work on the work on the track and gridiron will undoubtedly have to be done over again. Not only the high school athletic officials but many Newton residents interested in athletics would be glad to see the project go through.

Martin to Coach B. U. Tennis
Donald Martin, Chestnut Hill youth and B. U. tennis captain in 1927 and 1928, will be amateur coach of the Terrier's net team this season, according to the announcement made at B. U. this week. Indoor practice will be held at the B. U. gymnasium until the courts at Nickerson field are in shape. Five veterans and four members of last year's undefeated freshman team should prove a good nucleus for Martin to work with.

Huskies Start Right
Captain Neil Mahoney and his teammates on the Northeastern University basketball team started off right in their first game of the season last Saturday by trouncing Lowell Textile, 9 to 2, on the latter's diamond. Captain Mahoney hit safely twice in three official trips to the plate, one of his bingles being good for two bases. He scored two runs and added a stolen base to his offensive record for good measure. Defense was accounted for nine putouts, three of which were strikeouts, and had one assist.

SEASON OPENS AT LAWRENCE

Coach John L. Sullivan and his Newton high baseball team will journey to Lawrence tomorrow to raise the 1929 baseball curtain and attempt to defend its 1928 titles. Whether or not the organs and black can do so will be determined shortly and while it is true that much of the strength of last year's outfit has gone a visit to Clafin field during the practice session would convince most anyone that there is plenty of power in the Newton bats this season.

For his opening lineup the Newton mentor will have Bill Reilly, 1928 ace, to take things easily this week because of a spiked toe. Charley Olcott will substitute for Payne. Walter Warren and Francis Duane are still fighting for the chance to start at second base. The former has the edge in the field while Duane is a little stronger with the bat. Captain Al Fletcher will play shortstop and seems ready for another good year. Last year he played a great game at second and with the stick. If he repeats this year no one could ask more—in practice he has been hitting, fielding and throwing as well as ever. Charley Barry will be at the hot corner.

In the outfield will be John Mullen, Perry Elrod and probably Bartlett Nichols. The batting order will be Mullen, 1f; Barry, 3rd; Nichols, rf; Fletcher, ss; Wilson, c; Elrod, cf; Warren or Duane, 2nd; Payne, 1st; Reilly, p.

Hoyt Elected Captain
Franklin K. Hoyt of West Newton was elected captain of the Williams College hockey team for next year recently. He is a member of the junior class and has played a strong game at forward on the Purple sextet the past two seasons. He is also a member of the varsity baseball squad now on its spring southern trip to Virginia.

Whitmore Wins Opener
Unseasonable baseball weather caused the postponement of the Harvard-Boston intercollegiate game scheduled for last Saturday at Clafin field. The Harvard nine away on its spring trip without having engaged in a game. Nevertheless Harvard opened its season successfully on Monday by turning the William & Mary College team back 14 to 5. Howard Whitmore, former Newton high pitcher, led the full route and was topped for nine hits. He fanned five, passed five and hit one batter. At the bat he hit safely on one of his two official trips to the plate and sacrificed once.

Gilligan Triples
Harvard suffered its first defeat of the season on Wednesday by going down under a 6 to 3 count at the hands of the U. S. Marine team at Quantico. Coach Fred Mitchell sent senior pitcher Tommie Gilligan to the mound for the last few innings of the game and on one of his two trips to the plate the former Newton and Exeter athlete poled out a smashing triple. He got no further, however, as the succeeding batters failed to bring him home.

On Way to Third Letter
Harold Andres, former star athlete at Newton high, is well on his way to winning his third varsity letter while a sophomore at Dartmouth college. Andres had apparently clinched the regular catching berth on the Green baseball team which opened its season and also that of the newly formed intercollegiate league on Monday with a 5 to 1 victory over Princeton University on the latter's field. Andres collected one hit, a single, in three trips to the plate, and scored one run. He had gotten on base by being hit by the pitcher. The Newtonville youth was first string centre on the football team and substitute on the hockey team, being awarded letters in both sports. As a freshman Andres won numerals in all three of the major sports, football, hockey and baseball. Unless he meets with injuries he has a chance of winning varsity letters before graduating in 1931.

McCoy May Succeed Bond
Al McCoy former Newton high and Lafayette athlete may succeed Bond, former Harvard and Everett star, as coach of the Northeastern University basketball and baseball teams. Nothing definite has been announced as yet but it is said that Bond, a former assistant director of the Newton playground department, is retiring at the close of the baseball season this year because of the pressure of other interests. Bond has turned out excellent teams during his tenure at Northeastern and has played an important part as backfield coach in the development of Harvard freshman football teams. With the prospective advancement of Freshman Coach Edlie Casey to the varsity staff it may even be possible that Bond will succeed to the latter's present position. McCoy is at present teaching at Hackettstown high school in New Jersey, where he has done well there and seems to be ready for a college berth. A desire to get back nearer home has led him to Northeastern. At Newton high from which he graduated about 1919 he played baseball and football under the late Alie Dickinson. He was a brilliant end and a first-class pitcher. After leaving Newton he went to Penn State where he made the grade under Hugo Bezdek. He is now at Lafayette where he finished his education and was a sensation at end on the football team and also a varsity pitcher.

GIRL SCOUTS

At 2:30 on Saturday, April 6th, the Newton Corps, State Corps for 1928, ushered into the Gymnasium at the High School over 560 Scouts, all eager for participation in the Annual Spring Rally. A very effective opening ceremony was then held, when the Honor Color Guard, marching down the room between two lines of massed American flags, raised the flag, and Colors was followed by "The Star Spangled Banner" played by trumpeters. The Honor Color Guard was made up of girls who received Special Awards at the Rally: Jane McGregor was Color Sargent, and Louise Kimball, Elinor Brown, Louise Trowbridge, and Constance Reche formed the guard; these girls are all Scouts in Troop 10, Newtonville.

Following the opening, Mrs. Arthur Hartt, State Commissioner, was presented with a beautiful bouquet by the "Littlest Brownie to be found," from Brownie Pack No. 1 in Waban. Mrs. Hartt then awarded the Golden Eaglet, the highest award in Scouting, to Jane McGregor. Jane has been a Scout for 7 years, and holds 29 Merit Badges as well as the Letter of Commendation, the character award required for Golden Eaglet. Scout McGregor stands for everything that is fine in Scouting, and every Scout was glad to see her welcomed into the Order of Golden Eaglets by those other Newton Eaglets who have already achieved the honor of membership.

Mrs. Lillian Collins, Deputy Commissioner for Newton, presented Letters of Commendation to Louise Kimball, Elinor Brown, Louise Trowbridge, and Constance Reche of Troop 10, and Priscilla Hudson, of Troop 13. These Letters are character ter awards and girls who receive them have proved themselves fine, all-round Scouts in the home, the church, the school, and the community.

Competitive events followed for Junior and Senior Troops. The Junior Compass game was won by Troop 2, Newton, with Troop 28, Newtonville, second; the first place in the Observation was secured by Troop 4, Waban, with Troop 23, Newton Centre, coming second; and the Dressing Relay was won by Troop 1, Newtonville, second place going to Troop 2, of Newton. The Rally award for Junior events went to Troop 1, Newtonville. In the Senior events, the Signalling was won by Troop 14, Waban, with Troop 20, of Newton second; the Relay race went to Troop 21, Newton Highlands, while Troop 20, Newton, and Troop 14, Waban, tied for second place. The third Senior event was most interesting; it consisted of Merit Badge demonstration judged for (a) educational significance to the audience (b) skill in dramatization and (c) ingenuity in interpretation. All the badges were well thought out and executed; Troop 15, of West Newton, won the event with their Life Saving and Swimming exhibition, while Troop 14, Waban, came second with a very clever representation of Musician. Troop 10 demonstrated Motorist in a very picturesque and realistic fashion, while Troop 13, Newton Centre, gave Star Gazer, Troop 21, Newton Highlands presented Photographer, and Troop 20, Newton, Drummer; Scout Marber has won the cup for 3 successive years and now holds it permanently.

The Midlet Corps, with Scout Wood, Troop 4, Waban, as Drum Major, gave a very fine performance, while the Major Corps, Official State Corps for 1928, led by their Drum Major, Armada Lamont called forth a burst of applause from the audience as soon as they appeared on the floor.

The presentation of Merit Badges and the various awards was followed by Retreat and Taps, as another Newton Rally was brought to a most successful close. Friday night, April 5th, Troop 3, Newton Centre, under the leadership of Captain Ordway gave a delightful banquet to which the parents of the Scouts were invited. After the supper and interesting speeches, a Trefoll Ceremony was held at which Tenderfoot and Second Class badges were awarded. The girls then gave a most ingenious demonstration of Star Gazer Merit Badge, showing the action of the sun, moon, and earth, and forming various constellations with the aid of stars on short sticks, held in position against a dark background. The collision of two madly speeding kiddie-cars called for a First Aid demonstration, in which the audience took part—mothers, fathers and daughters forming three separate teams, and the mothers won! The Scouts then gave a pantomime which brought the evening to a close.

Stuart on contract for supplying horse feed to the City of Newton for the next three months: Highland Mills Co., Newton Highlands, $5,105.80; F. H. Sargent Co., Watertown, $5,193. The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather took up an interesting phase of modern literature at the regular weekly meeting of the Mather Class last Sunday morning at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This consisted of a consideration of the modern epic poem, "John Brown's Body."

By way of preliminary remarks he said that there was much beauty in this poem and much that was not beautiful. In other words, it was spotted, like most modern literature. He had selected some portions, not necessarily the best, worst, or anything in between, but just those passages best suited to present the theme of the poem and drive home its impression or message. These passages he then proceeded to read, and it made a highly dramatic reading.

The terrible tragedy of John Brown's attempt to free the slaves was vividly, even vividly, portrayed.

Prof. Mather announced that next Sunday he will take the book up at length, comment on it in detail, and endeavor to give the class a very thorough exposition on the poem and what it is designed to depict.

The apparent futility of John Brown's earthly body, as contrasted with the triumph of his soul and what that soul stood for, led up quite naturally to the very interesting Round Table discussion of the topic, "Is God Omnipotent?"

This Round Table was held in the evening at the home of Mr. Percy Brough, 192 Washington street, Wellesley Hills.

The questions raised by this discussion were many and weighty. In a world of law and order, has God any freedom or is He bound by the chains of Natural law?

If man is in part free, does that limit God? We might make up our minds to do unexpected things and use natural law for our own purposes. Theoretically and conceivably this might thwart God to such an extent that God might not be wholly free if man were free.

We get our ideas and our knowledge or what we call knowledge, of God's nature of the motive power of the universe, comprehend, more or less, the nature of the motive power of the universe. Prof. Mather spoke of what he called the universality and inflexibility of natural law. Do not things happen anyway? Has God the power to help us in time of need, which for most of us is all the time?

God uses natural law to work His purpose and His will. He is consistent and law abiding.

We get our keenest sense of God when we see Him work through man. We know Him best when we see Him power crystallized in human beings. Man was created in the image of God. Man therefore displays partially the nature of God. Men use natural law to work their will. This is a creative expression of a divine spark.

Does the freedom which men have set a limit on God's power? What does omnipotent God mean to modern man? Does man's theology depend on an all-powerful God? In this matter of human freedom and divine omnipotence, does it make a difference in our faith whether or not God is omnipotent?

Jesus did not claim omnipotence for himself. He always subjugated himself and His own desires to something bigger, broader, truer, and better, and that was God. Jesus displayed the will of God to men. God reveals Himself from time to time as He sees fit. Jesus was the supreme conductor of God's will because He came the closest to God. Paul came into very close contact with God. Others may do so. We should strive toward that contact. The way is Jesus' way—through prayer. Those who deny God do so in part because they look for a certain definite accomplishment at a particular time, and when they don't get it, they think there is no God. They overlook the fact that God is capable of accomplishment in His own good time, and that is not always our time.

If men are free, how do we know that God will make a success of the world? The trouble here is we do not know how free man is, or in what ways, if any.

There is a big difference between a machine and an organism. If the world were nothing but a machine, then God would have failed, for, judged merely as a machine, the world is in many respects a sad failure. But as an organism it is far superior to mechanics.

One suggestion is that man may perhaps be free, but free only to obey God's laws or else suffer very evil consequences.

There would be no advantage in loving God if we had to. It is because we want to, in spite of the fact that we can refrain from doing so, that makes it so very much worth while. Christianity depends on the free individuals who, through the power of love, want to do what is right.

God has a certain consistency, not the consistency of a machine. He keeps the goal ahead. New conditions may require new methods. A consistent personality is not marked by invariability of action. The mark of a consistent personality is marked, however, by invariability of the point of aim. The consistency of aim remains. The ideal is fixed.

As far as God and the world are concerned, there is volition within and purpose without. The inability to do certain things at certain times implies no limitation on omnipotence. What seems like inability may turn out to be deliberate choice, for all we know to the contrary. When Jesus wanted to save Jerusalem, what happened? Jerusalem failed; Jesus did not. They would not accept Him.

Jesus believed in humanity. Regardless of Knowledge, we have faith that God will succeed and that man will succeed.

All of us have to live by faith in the omnipotence of God, faith in His wisdom and purposes, faith in the personality of God, faith in the capacity of men to achieve, and faith that humanity will win through.

Troop 1, Newtonville, Wins

The State Armory at West Newton was the scene of a most stirring and spirited competitive rally between Troop 1, Newtonville, Norumbega Council and Troop 1, Hingham, of the Old Colony Council, last Saturday evening. Troop 1, Newtonville, won the rally with victories in four events, while their opponents took three events. About 1000 Scouts officers and guests were present. As Troop 1 Hingham, has claimed the championship of New England, our own Troop 1 can now lay claim to that distinction.

The award for the winning of the Rally was a very artistic job done by Scouts Robert Kenngott and Robert Spooner of Troop 1, Newtonville. It was a piece of green tanned calfskin, lettered and tooled by those Scouts, with gold lettering and was laced into a rustic frame-work of rough natural wood.

The Rally was preceded by one dinner given by President Maynard Hutchinson of Norumbega Council to some of the officers and members of the visiting Old Colony Council at the Brae Burn Club, with Norumbega representatives present. From the Club, the men proceeded to the Armory to be ready for the opening ceremony at 7:25.

At the Armory, as guests of Troop Committee and Scoutmaster Sloane of Troop 1, Newtonville, were the Troop Committee, officers and Scouts of Troop 1, Hingham and the officers and Scouts of Troop 1, Newtonville. As guests of honor were Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Lt. Commr. Hatch and Deputy Commissioner Bartram, Mr. A. M. Ziegler, Chairman of Troop 1, Newtonville, Committee, welcomed the guests from Hingham. Mayor Childs spoke to the assembled group on their opportunities and obligations as Scouts.

Music by Troop 1 Corps

At 7:15 the Drum and Bugle Corps of our Troop 1 assembled under Drum Major Philip Margolin and gave a concert while the audience was gathering. At 7:30, the Corps sounded four ruffles and President Maynard Hutchinson led the official staff to the stage, escorted by Assistant Scoutmasters Stafford and Ziegler. Immediately afterwards the Troops, led by 1, Hingham, marched in and formed up facing the audience. Scout Executive Bruce of Norumbega Council was the Commanding Officer. Colors were presented; paraded and posted for the evening. Scout Executive Bruce then turned the program over to Scout Executive Holbrook of the Quincy Council; he introduced President Hutchinson, who welcomed the guests and Troop 1, Hingham.

Then the Rally began and the close margins in practically every contest kept the whole audience on the edge of their chairs. Troop 1, Newtonville, won the Morse signalling contest, the friction-fire and flint and steel contest and the Paul Revere Race. Their opponents won the knot-tying contest, the semaphore signalling contest and the Scout drill contest.

Following the contest there was an exhibition staff drill by Troop 1, Hingham, which was most enthusiastically received. At the close of the Rally Executive Bruce again took charge and Executive Holbrook with his staff—Scoutmaster Galloway and Assistant Executive Hosmer of Waltham, reported the winners of the Rally.

President Hutchinson presented Commissioner Hayes of the Old Colony Council, who spoke in thanks and appreciation of the reception of the Hingham Troop and the whole affair and complimented Troop 1, Newtonville as one of the finest he had ever seen in action.

President Hutchinson was then escorted to the floor by Scout Commissioner Bierer and Deputy Commissioner Bartram of Norumbega Council. Executive Sly of Old Colony Council presented Mr. Sloane while Executive Bruce presented Mr. Everett Wilder of Troop 1, Hingham to President Hutchinson. As an indication of the fine sportsmanship of the affair, Mr. Wilder requested that he be allowed to make the award to Mr. Sloane and that he be interviewed, in order that there shall be correct presentation of Indians from this section. The Chief of the Algonquin Council, which is the assembly of Indians in this section, lives in Cranston, Rhode Island, and he will be consulted as one expert. It will be remembered that Indians from this Council, of the Hassanamisco Tribe, were present at the dedication of the Nobscot Reservation last fall.

dressed by President Maynard Hutchinson, who told them of the purpose of the affair and how it is being handled here and what its results could and would be. Scout Commissioner Bierer answered questions as to administrative details; what the Scouts would eat; where they would go; what further preparation was necessary and so on. The parents were just as keen about the whole affair as the Scouts themselves and will be having just as good a time this summer as their boys, though vicariously. At 3:30 the Scouts who are going were assembled and the whole plan and program was talked over with them by Scout Commissioner Bierer. Scoutmaster Harris of Troop 10, Waban, one of the leaders who is to make the trip with the Scouts, was present. Several ideas for the exhibit and demonstration for the Norumbega group were considered and the Scouts themselves unanimously voted to make it an Indian affair. Leathercraft will be studied in order that they will be able to make their own moccasins; leather shirts and breeches; archery, in order that they may make their bows and arrows. The group will go as New England Indians and chiefs of Indian Tribes still maintaining their tribal organization in New England and will be interviewed, in order that there shall be correct presentation of Indians from this section. The Chief of the Algonquin Council, which is the assembly of Indians in this section, lives in Cranston, Rhode Island, and he will be consulted as one expert. It will be remembered that Indians from this Council, of the Hassanamisco Tribe, were present at the dedication of the Nobscot Reservation last fall.

Patrols Organized

The Scouts were divided into Patrols, with leaders, as follows: Walter Brandt, Troop 7, West Newton, Patrol Leader; William Dillaway, Troop 4, Highlands, Assistant P. L.; Scout Andrew Hutchinson of Troop 7; Scouts Richard Shaw, Paul Henrich and Gordon Campbell of Troop 15; C. R. Boggs, Jr., of Troop 9 and Hamilton Ferris of Troop 10, Waban, C. Warren Dillaway, Jr., Troop 4, Highlands, Patrol Leader; Scout Charles Frary of Troop 7, Assistant Patrol Leader; Scouts John C. Bierer, Jack Ferris, Harry Ham, Donald Robbins, Troop 10; Richard Young, Troop 18; George Fremault, Troop 3. The officers of these Patrols, as Commissioner Bierer told them, are tentative, as each Patrol will elect its own officers before leaving for Europe.

Norumbega Council is sending the largest delegation from New England and already six other Councils have requested Mr. Bierer to include their Scouts with our group. Every Scout and leader has been vaccinated and has had three "shots" of typhoid vaccine; every one is working for the Hiking Merit Badge, to get in trim; those without them are preparing for the Merit Badges in Cooking, Personal and Public Health, and Camping. Additional details will be published from time to time.

Last Friday evening, The Troop Committees and officers of Troops 2 and 15, Auburndale, were invested and presented with their Troop Charters. Troop 2's Committee is C. A. Cleveland, Chairman, Messrs. E. B. Gale, Walter P. White, Deane Reynolds, W. A. Jarvis, F. C. Cleveland and Rev. M. L. Bulloch. Its officers are Scoutmaster E. C. Hilliard, Assistant Scoutmaster F. Van Wormer and Carl Page. Troop 2 will be awarded a Fifteen Year Veteran Rating on May 1st, 1929. The Men's Club of the Methodist Church, where Troop 2 meets is presenting the Troop with a completed equipment of Large Troop and American Flags with full accessories.

Troop 15's Committee is Charles B. Floyd, Chairman, Messrs. R. C. Smith, Harold Cook, Charles Valentine, W. R. Amesbury, E. G. Bates, J. H. Coleman, its officers are A. L. Shaw, Scoutmaster, Donald McCallan and Bartlett Nichols, Assistants.

Troop 3, Nonantum, under acting Scoutmaster J. M. Woodbridge, Jr., went in a group to see the African Motion Picture, "Simba", last Saturday morning.

Building at Nobscot
Cabin construction at the Nobscot Reservation continues unabated. Troop 18, Center, is pouring the cement foundations for its cabin and building will start soon, as all the material is on the site.

Troop 5, Center, has its log cabin on the site and it will doubtless be erected and ready for use by the last of this month.

Troop 19, Center, has ordered its cabin and those in charge plan to have a "raisin'" on April 19, so that cabin should be ready for occupancy soon.

The Gate Lodge, given by Capt. and Mrs. Frank L. Nagle of Newtonville, will be of stockade-log type and it has also been ordered and will probably be ready for use the latter part of this month.

Over the last week-end there were seventy Scouts and officers at the Reservation, working on their cabins, sites and on the fire lane which is nearly completed along the south border, and is being cut under the direction of Ranger Ingraham.

On April 12th a regular Court of Honor will be held at the Levy Warren School, West Newton. Many awards will be made. Two Eagle awards will be the main feature of the awarding part of the program, reports J. M. Woodbridge, Jr., Chairman of the Court of Honor Committee, Motion Pictures of the 1924 Jamboree in Denmark will be shown.

On Sunday morning, Deputy Commissioner Bartram, Director of the Board of Scout Examinations, went to the Trumbull Hospital, to give final tests to Scout Earle Tilton, of Troop 20, Center, in order that the Scout might receive his First Class award at the Court of Honor. Just an example of the type of service Newton men are giving to Scouts in this Council.

Summer Camp Coming
Mr. Woodbridge, Director of the Cape Cod Camp, reports that he has completed the Senior Staff with representatives from this Council. Donald M. Curtis, Quartermaster in the Seagirt Division and Freshman at Princeton University, will be the sailing master; Robert Wilkie, Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 4, Highlands and an Eagle Scout will be in charge of over-night camping and of Pioneering.

The warm weather which came the first of the week caused the tar to exude in the street surfacing to such an extent that many automobiles were seriously damaged. While the Street Department must bear part of the blame on account of using an excessive amount of tar in its surfacing work, the only sensible remedy for this condition is the construction of concrete roads. Newton has only a few hundred feet of this class of street construction and there can be no question that much more should be built.

We welcome the return of former Governor Fuller into the political arena as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator next year. With the sole exception of ex-president Coolidge Mr. Fuller is the only Republican who can carry the next election for senator and the party will go down to a defeat if it nominates any other person for that office.

The action of the State Senate in refusing compensation to a man convicted of a crime he did not commit is a reflection on the good name of the Commonwealth. We are glad to note that Senator Hollis was in favor of the bill.

Governor Allen should receive a hearty welcome next week when he visits Newton Centre.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The subject of old-age pensions appeared to have been disposed of as far as the Senate was concerned but the House this week took a different attitude, substituted one of the bills for an adverse committee report and referred the bill to the Ways and Means Committee. The whole thing is now in the air and if again passed by the House will have to go to the Senate. The Senate last week accepted adverse reports on some eight different measures directly or indirectly affecting the question of old age pensions. The one to command the greatest attention was that on petition of Wendell P. Thore for the establishment of a system of non-contributory old age pensions with an old age pension board to protect citizens from want in old age. On the motion to substitute the bill for the adverse report of the Committee on Pensions there was a rollcall of 13 in favor and 17 against. Senator Hollis was recorded as against substitution. Another bill in this connection was that of the Fraternal Order of Eagles for the establishment of an old age pension commission and in each county an old age assistance board. The Senate by rollcall refused to substitute the bill for the adverse committee report. There were 12 votes for substitution and 18 against, including that of Senator Hollis. The House substituted the Thore bill by rollcall, 114 to 104. The 1928-1930 edition of the Manual of the General Court is out. That is the first copy appeared this week and were soon taken. Gradually more copies are being turned out by the printer and before long there will probably be enough to meet the demand. As usual, the manual is not out until the end of the legislative session seems almost in sight. It is too bad that it cannot be printed earlier in the year but as long as it gets out in April the State officers and others who use it are grateful to have a new edition. It used to be an annual publication but with biennial elections there has come a feeling that if the manual is issued every two years people ought to be well satisfied. If you desire a copy, by the way, you must make application through your Senator or Representative since that is the only way they are obtainable.

A House resolve has been passed providing for an investigation relative to the advisability and feasibility of constructing an underpass or underpasses under Causeway street, near the North Station in Boston. The matter has been agitated for some time by patrons of the North Station who contend that the traffic on the streets is so great that during the morning and evening rush-hours (meaning the time suburbanites come to work and return from it) that it is with great difficulty and at a risk of one's neck that one can cross the street. This situation applies to Dewey Square and the South Station but inasmuch as the distance is far greater in the latter instance little hope is held out for an underpass under Dewey Square at least for some years to come. No doubt Newton people would welcome it, however.

Senator Hollis has every right to be congratulated on his success in getting through the Senate a bill to permit the use of public highways by funeral processions. He had to accept an amendment limiting the number of cars in a procession to ten and the use of the highways to weekdays not including holidays.

Another matter in which Senator Hollis took a conspicuous part was the unsuccessful attempt of Senator Hollis and a number of his colleagues to have the Senate pass an order for the payment of $500 to Benjamin F. Collins of Lowell as partial recompense for his false imprisonment. Collins was arrested on the charge of snatching a woman's purse. He was held in jail for weeks and then sentenced to the State Prison for four years. After he had served four days, one of them in solitary confinement, another man confessed he had committed the crime and Collins was released. The attempt to secure $500 as partial recompense was favored by the House, but the Senate Ways and Means Committee reported that it ought to be rejected. Senator Hollis led the opposition to rejection, arguing that it was only fair and just that a man falsely accused and imprisoned should be paid something by the State. The bill was rejected by the Senate, however, by rollcall, 20 to 18.

There was no session of the Senate on Tuesday. The entire membership attended funeral services held for Senator Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy whose death last Saturday was the first in a long period of years that has occurred among the members of the upper branch of the Legislature during the progress of a session. By rollcall, 110 to 92, the House refused to substitute for an adverse committee report a bill authorizing cities and towns to appropriate money for advertising the advantages of their community. Mr. Lutiweiler voted for substitution and Mr. Baker against. Mr. Thompson was not recorded.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

Never say die while you can still try.
What is worth a million dollars and costs nothing? A smile.
The sweetest music in the world is played upon heartstrings.
How foolish we are to curse an other. Curses descend upon the head of the curser.
Do not make so much racket knocking that you cannot hear opportunity at your door.
I would rather be a wild dog on the moor than a fat poodle upon an ostent.

EDITORIAL

The warm weather which came the first of the week caused the tar to exude in the street surfacing to such an extent that many automobiles were seriously damaged. While the Street department must bear part of the blame on account of using an excessive amount of tar in its surfacing work, the only sensible remedy for this condition is the construction of concrete roads. Newton has only a few hundred feet of this class of street construction and there can be no question that much more should be built.

We welcome the return of former Governor Fuller into the political arena as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator next year. With the sole exception of ex-president Coolidge, Mr. Fuller is the only Republican who can carry the next election for senator and the party will go down to a defeat if it nominates any other person for that office.

The action of the State Senate in refusing compensation to a man convicted of a crime he did not commit is a reflection on the good name of the Commonwealth. We are glad to note that Senator Hollis was in favor of the bill.

Governor Allen should receive a hearty welcome next week when he visits Newton Centre.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The subject of old-age pensions appeared to have been disposed of as far as the Senate was concerned but the House this week took a different attitude, substituted one of the bills for an adverse committee report and referred the bill to the Ways and Means Committee. The whole thing is now in the air and if again passed by the House will have to go to the Senate. The Senate last week accepted adverse reports of the Committee on Pensions on some eight different measures directly or indirectly affecting the question of old age pensions. The one to command the greatest attention was that on petition of Wendell P. Thore for the establishment of a system of non-contributory old age pensions where an old age pension bequest fund to protect citizens from want in old age. On the motion to substitute the bill for the adverse report of the Committee on Pensions there was a rollcall of 13 in favor and 17 against. Senator Hollis was recorded as against substitution. Another bill in this connection was that of the Fraternal Order of Eagles for the establishment of an old age pension commission and in each county an old age assistance board. The Senate by rollcall refused to substitute the bill for the adverse committee report. There were 12 votes for substitution and 18 against, including that of Senator Hollis. The House substituted the Thore bill by rollcall, 114 to 104.

The 1929-1930 edition of the Manual of the General Court is out. That is, the first copies appeared this week and were soon taken. Gradually more copies are being turned out by the printer and before long there will probably be enough to meet the demand. As usual the manual is not out until the end of the legislative session seems almost in sight. It is too bad that it cannot be printed earlier in the year but as long as it gets out in April the State officers and others who use it are grateful to have a new edition. It used to be an annual publication but with biennial elections there has come a feeling that if the manual is issued every two years people ought to be well satisfied. If you desire a copy, by the way, you must make application through your Senator or Representative since that is the only way they are obtainable.

A House resolve has been passed providing for investigation relative to the advisability and feasibility of constructing an underpass or underpasses under Causeway street, near the North Station in Boston. The matter has been agitated for some time by patrons of the North Station who contend that the traffic on the streets is so great that during the morning and evening rush-hours (meaning the time suburbanites come to work and return from it) that it is with great difficulty and at a risk of one's neck that one can cross the street. This situation applies to Dewey Square and the South Station but inasmuch as the distance is far greater in the latter instance little hope is held out for an underpass under Dewey Square at least for some years to come. No doubt Newton people would welcome it, however.

Senator Hollis has every right to be congratulated on his success in getting through the Senate a bill to permit the use of public parkways by funeral processions. He had to accept an amendment limiting the number of cars in a procession to ten and the use of the parkways to weekdays not including holidays. Another matter in which Senator Hollis took a conspicuous part was the unsuccessful attempt of Senator Hollis and a number of his colleagues to have the Senate pass an order for the payment of $500 to Benjamin P. Collins of Lowell as partial recompense for his false imprisonment. Collins was arrested on the charge of snatching a woman's purse. He was held in jail for weeks and then sentenced to the State Prison for four years. After he had served four days, one of them in solitary confinement, another man confessed he had committed the crime and Collins was released. The attempt to secure $500 as partial recompense was favored by the House, but the Senate Ways and Means Committee reported that it ought to be rejected. Senator Hollis led the opposition to rejection, arguing that it was only fair and just that a man falsely accused and imprisoned should be paid something by the State. The bill was rejected by the Senate, however, by rollcall, 20 to 18. There was no session of the Senate on Tuesday. The entire membership attended funeral services held for Senator Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy whose death last Saturday was the first in a long period of years that has occurred among the members of the upper branch of the Legislature during the progress of a session.

By rollcall, 110 to 92, the House refused to substitute for an adverse committee report a bill authorizing cities and towns to appropriate money for advertising the advantages of their community. Mr. Luitwiler voted for substitution and Mr. Baker against. Mr. Thompson was not recorded.

Never say die while you can still try.
 What is worth a million dollars and costs nothing? A smile.
 The sweetest music in the world is played upon heartstrings.
 How foolish we are to curse an other. Curses descend upon the head of the curser.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM OF BOSTON

Spring is being met more than half way at the Children's Museum of Boston through a variety of activities designed to explain the mysteries of the April awakening and to create a better knowledge of nature and a deeper understanding of it. Last Saturday 46 young people went on the first Saturday bird walk of the season, and a thrilling time was had by all, if one can judge by the bright eyes and eager chatter of the group as they burst into the Museum at ten o'clock. They "stalked" a chickadee, saw and heard a variety of spring migrants, and, among other things, observed the ferocious combat of two male mallards over a female. The next bird walk, which the Museum sharply at eight o'clock, Saturday, April 13, will go southward from the Museum, along Jamaica Pond, and into the Arnold Arboretum. Young and old are welcome on these walks.

Rubbers are a necessity and pencils, checklists, and bird glasses add to the enjoyment of the trips.

"Thrilling Words and Ways of Birds" is the subject of the Sunday afternoon lecture at 3:30, April 14th. Mr. Charles Crawford Gort will give his wonderful imitation of bird songs and calls.

"The Legend of the Snow Drop" features the Saturday morning story hour at 10:45, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Forbes. Because Eve so missed the beautiful things of the earth during the long winter, an angel breathed on a flake of snow, made it live, and sent it down to console her.

—This is one of the pretty legendary explanations of the snow drop.

"On Mediterranean Shores" is the subject of the motion picture talk Saturday afternoon at 3:00, by Mrs. I. S. Harlow. Something of the story of the civilization that waxed and waned on the shores of this great enclosed sea, and modern conditions of life, social, commercial and industrial, will be covered in the lecture.

The vacation week program, April 15 to April 20, inclusive offers a delightful variety of subjects. Mornings will be devoted to nature study; afternoons to motion picture talks. The program follows:

Monday, April 15, 10:45, "In and Out of the April Ground," all about night crawlers, plant rootlets, witch grass and its roots. Tuesday, the 16th, 10:45, "Down the Puddingstone Steps" Wednesday, the 17th, 10:45, "Reaching toward April Skies"; secrets of trees, including a walk around the new Tree Trail made by the Museum nature club. Thursday, the 18th, at 10:45 "In April Brooks and Streams"; the "Knight of the brook" and his queer companions—whirligigs, snails, tadpoles, skaters and balloon-toed spiders.

The afternoon program, at 3:00, follows: Monday, the 15th "Treasures and Flavors," Tuesday, the 16th, "School Days"; Wednesday, the 17th, "To the South Pole with Commander Byrd." Thursday, the 18th, "The Panama Canal"; Friday, the 19th, a special holiday program including "Paul Revere's Ride," with colored lantern slides. Saturday, the 20th, "Animal Friends."

Czechoslovakian toys, drawings by school children, embroideries, and textiles are on special exhibition in the lecture hall. Untrammeled by tradition and with a large measure of natural artistic impulse, Czechoslovakia has gone a long way toward solving the problem of the educational meaning of the manual arts and industries. The toys on exhibition are quaintly shaped and gayly painted. Apparently their manufacturers know the economy of using up odds and ends. The embroidery by school children is beautifully done, and the exhibition as a whole should be of great interest to young and old.

Regular continuing activities are the Saturday and Monday stamp clubs, the Tuesday afternoon class in

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Ninth Grade Dance

Had a spectator wandered into the F. A. Day Auditorium last Friday afternoon he would have found faint traces of the usual gymnasium atmosphere. Almost as if by magic, the hall took on a festive air, and with the aid of a peppy orchestra became the scene of a dance. From three to five o'clock there was music, and dancing which paused only once for a short intermission during which ice cream and little cakes were served. Patronesses for the affair were Mrs. Fred S. Chapman, Mrs. Wm. F. Varner, and the ninth grade teachers. The scene of a dance. ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

An attractive cupola will surmount the new fire station at Newton Corner. The primary purpose of this cupola is to afford a location for the big fire alarm bell which for over 40 years has sounded alarms, tolled knells at deaths of local and national celebrities and pealed to acclaim the successful conclusion of two wars in which this country was engaged. The cupola will also add considerably to the attractiveness of the new building. It can, and should also serve another purpose. In days of yore Newton Corner, in common with other villages throughout the land contained a number of weather-vanes atop some of its prominent buildings. These have disappeared. Many of them passed out of the picture when the old buildings on which they were located were torn down. The cupola of the new fire station would be an excellent place on which to put a weather-vane. Possibly the old weather-vane which for many years was on the tower of the old engine house may be repaired and again do duty on the new fire station. If not, a new weather vane should be obtained and erected. Many persons today get weather forecasts over the radio. But, somehow, or other, the older folks like to see a weather vane do their own forecasting themselves. And, it would be a good idea for the younger generation to take up what perhaps now would be only a diversion, but which in former generations was an important factor in the life of Massachusetts, keeping tabs on the weather.

While discussing the new fire station it might be well to suggest that provisions be made to allow the firemen who will be quartered there to have the opportunity of enjoying an outdoor recreation area on the roof of the structure.

Former Governor Alvin T. Fuller is quoted as being quite concerned at the disadvantages under which his sons are placed because they have such a wealthy father. Mr. Fuller can very easily remove this alleged serious handicap by emulating certain zealous Christians who in past centuries gave their fortunes to charity and became poor, or comparatively poor.

A simple way to solve the embarrassing social and diplomatic tangle at Washington, caused by the ruling of former Secretary of State Kellogg in connection with the status of Mrs. Gann at formal social affairs, is to have Vice-President Curtis take unto himself another wife.

The hot weather starting last Sunday softened the tar on the streets much earlier than usual.

Mechanic Bert Stuart has been given additional men to keep the cross-walks, parking space lines and other traffic guides painted. The results are quite noticeable—and satisfactory.

Because the traffic towers for Nonantum Square and Newton Centre square have not yet been received from the McNear Company which was awarded the contract for their construction some months ago, said towers were not erected this week. It is expected that they will be delivered within a few days and will probably be installed next week.

EMBLEM CLUB HOLDS INSTALLATION

The annual installation of Newton Emblem Club No. 8 was held on Monday Evening, April 8, 1929. The officers were given their new stations by Mrs. Florence K. Kelley of Peabody, Supreme President of the Emblem Clubs of the United States, and her suite. The new officers of the club for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. Alice K. Burns; Vice-President, Mrs. Christina A. Bryson; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Blanche M. McGowan; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Jennie L. Coffey; Treasurer, Miss Florence Geegan; Trustees, Mrs. Lillian Jasnet, Mrs. Marion Brophy, Mrs. Etta Haverly, Mrs. Mary B. Connors, Mrs. Annie Blakely; Guards, Mrs. Nettie B. Connors, Mrs. Margaret Bresnahan; Chaplains, Mrs. Edith Gillies; Marshal, Mrs. Dorothy Jans; Pianist, Miss Theresa Caruso; Press Correspondent, Miss Helen E. Conroy.

A notable feature of the exercises was the initial appearance of the drill team, Newton Emblem Club is the first to have one, and is very proud of this. The members are dressed in our national colors, and hence the team has been properly named "The Red, White and Blue." It consists of twenty-one members, and a captain, Mrs. Mary Connors. Capt. Thomas Hickey is its instructor. The team performance was excellent, and won the applause of all present.

Under the direction of Mrs. Marion Brophy, Miss Mary Curran gave a beautiful violin selection. Miss Blanche Phillips of Mrs. Butler's May Festival, danced a delightful solo, and Mr. John Foley's songs added entertainment which was much enjoyed.

Past Grand Exalted Ruler John F. Malley of the B. P. O. E. honored the gathering by his presence. Guests were also present from Newton Lodge 1327, B. P. O. E., Brookline, Peabody, Natick, Watertown, Winthrop, Lynn, and Boston. Refreshments were served and the program of the entire evening was one of interest and success.

The retiring president, Mrs. Fannie Askell, was presented with a beautiful basket of flowers, and a purse of gold. Mrs. Florence Kelley, Supreme President, was presented with a beautiful Cameo ring.

CANDLELIGHT CONCERT

Last Monday evening the 18th Century Orchestra pleased a fine audience at the Auditorium Theatre, Newton Upper Falls. This orchestra, the first of its kind, has brought to this country, through the research work of its conductor and originator, Mr. Raffaele Martino, a knowledge of many forgotten scores of the old masters.

This wonderful music with its setting of candlelight and colonial costume never fails to enthrall its audiences.

The soloist, Miss Zoe Musgrave, also in colonial dress, gave a delightful interpretation of old songs.

Many expressed the hope that this group might be heard again in Newton.

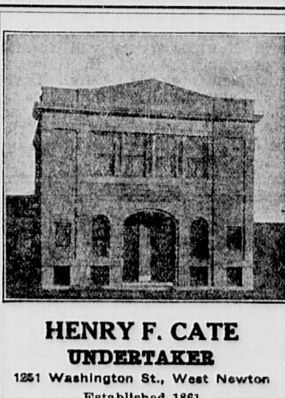

Graphic Outlines of History By BURT M. RICH

Indian Totem Pole

This Indian totem pole at Vancouver Island is typical of those found on the northwest coast of America. Each tribe possessed one of these totem poles, supposed to be a protecting spirit. The symbols on the pole represented the sign of an imaginary ancestor common to the clan, such as a wolf, bear or eagle. Our representatives can be of immeasurable assistance in the selection of details that will allow a service of dignity at reasonable charge.

POLICE NEWS

The crusade of Patrolman Michael Connelly against overtime-parkers at Newton Corner resulted in seven men and two women, some of them residents of this city, appearing in the district court on Friday. Judge Bacon placed the cases on file. Patrolman Connelly's activity in this matter is the result of protests from Newton business men against autoists parking cars much longer than the limit of 30 minutes with the result that persons desiring to trade in Newton Corner stores can find no spaces in which to park cars.

Four speeders were fined $10 each in the Newton court last Friday. They were: Charles Wing, Jr., 98 Homer street, Newton Centre; Percy Patterson, Wellesley; William McLean, Brookline street, Boston; Bernard Davis, Revere.

John M. Ferguson of 9 Oakwood avenue, Anbursdale was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday for giving an air rifle to his son David Ferguson. He appealed. The boy, who was 14 years of age several weeks ago discharged the rifle at a playmate after the latter had thrown a snowball at him. The bullet from the rifle hit the other boy in the eye causing the loss of sight in that optic. Mr. Ferguson testified he had given the rifle to his son several years ago before the law prohibiting boys under 15 from having air-rifles went into effect.

Last Friday Patrolman Dowling observed an attractive girl hiking along Commonwealth avenue attired in blue overalls, a man's sweater and a cap tilted at a rakish angle. Dowling became interested and asked the girl why she was so unconventionally attired and whither was she bound. The young lady gave the information that her name was Patricia DeCoulter, that she had left her home in Topeka, Kansas last year in company with other young men and women to solicit subscriptions for a magazine, that she had become stranded several months ago, had lead a wandering life since and was "hitch-hiking" back to Topeka. Dowling placed the girl under arrest for vagrancy and she was obliging enough to ride to police headquarters uncomfortably perched on the rear of the policeman's motorcycle.

The police communicated with Topeka authorities and ascertained that the girl had told the truth regarding her name and address in that city. She was placed in charge of Mrs. Wellman, assistant probation officer, who found shelter for her until she appeared in court on Monday. Judge Bacon gave Miss DeCoulter a suspended sentence to the State Farm and Mrs. Wellman arranged for the girl to be cared for by the Florence Crittenton League until means will be provided to return her to Topeka.

Tuesday noon Patrolman George Kilmain, the garrulous guard on duty at police headquarters in West Newton espied a car owned by a local alderman parked a few feet west of the driveway into police headquarters. Being in his usual jovial mood, George took advantage of an existing, but never enforced, local traffic ordinance to tag said car for not being 10 feet away from the side of the driveway. The alderman presented the tag to George and gave the latter a very explicit suggestion as to what disposition he might make of said tag.

Among the speeders fined in the Newton court on Tuesday was Nancy Whittier of Farm road, Dover who was assessed $25 because it was her second appearance in the local court for such an offence. Fines of $10 were imposed on Carl Hansen, Framingham; Thomas Hegarty, Wellesley; John Lawson, Wellesley; Harvey Perkins, Foxboro; Austin Cooper, 74 Bowan street, Newton Centre; Helge Ostrom of Norwood was fined $5 for driving on the left side of a street; Louis Borney of Jamaica Plain, charged with a similar offence had his case placed on file.

Mrs. Sumner Robinson is chairman of program.

Shakespeare Club

The meeting of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands scheduled for April 20th, has been postponed to the 27th, for several reasons, chief of which is the holiday of the 19th, with attendant plans of members and their families.

General Federation

GARDEN WEEK. Observance of National Garden Week, April 14th to 20th, by the 14,000 Clubs belonging to the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is urged, and a varied program of suggestions is offered by Mrs. Alma Margaret Higgins, of Butte, Montana, chairman of Gardens. Her suggestions include talks on gardening, tree planting and bird sanctuaries broadcast from nearest radio stations, display of films of parks, gardens, flowers and birds at motion picture houses, and the planting of trees by Women's Clubs, churches, schools, fraternal and civic organizations, Boy and Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

One suggestion is to ask the superintendent of schools to designate Friday afternoon of Garden Week for the presentation of a special program; another is to combine observing Arbor Day with Garden Week; a third, to encourage children to have gardens of their own by offering prizes for the best flower gardens; a fourth, to scatter seed of the State flower along the highways; a fifth, to plant evergreens in home gardens, school grounds, and city parks to illuminate next Christmas; and still others are exhibits in libraries, schools, and shop windows, of photographs of gardens and bird houses, the organization of garden Clubs, and prizes for the best gardens.

Illustrated lectures on gardens are obtainable from the Department of Agriculture and State Agricultural Colleges, the Art in the Home and Gardens Division of the General Federation, the American Garden Association, Garden City, New York, American Rose Society, West Grove, Pennsylvania, and local landscape gardeners.

SCHOLARSHIPS. General Federation reports that there are Scholarship Loan funds maintained by thirty of the State Federations. Kansas holds first place with a fund valued at $34,000; Iowa second place, with $30,000; Oregon third place, with $29,605; Ohio, fourth place with $18,608; West Virginia fifth place, with $17,825 and North Carolina, sixth place with $17,231. The Kansas fund was started in 1907; the Oregon fund was started in 1908; Ohio in 1910, and West Virginia in 1912. These statistical facts will be of interest, and perhaps a spur to Massachusetts Clubs who already have this worthwhile activity, or are planning to have it.

JUNIORS AT THE COUNCIL MEETING. Clubwomen are looking forward with keen anticipation to the General Federation Council Meeting at Swampscott when the State Federation is hostess from May 28th to 31st. But the interest of the Juniors who go to have every courtesy and hospitality shown them is of an enthusiastic nature that puts the seniors' interest quite in the commonplace sphere. The trend of their thought has a delightfully romantic appeal that is worth bringing to the attention of our Newton Clubwomen.

Mrs. Edwin Bevens, of Helena, Arkansas, chairman of the Juniorship, has asked the Juniors what they want to do. Their composite answer is:

"A real Junior Headquarters during the Council, a luncheon to consist of Boston baked beans in little brown pots, brown bread, codfish balls, apple pie and tea; to furnish a cabaret program under the title of "Then and Now" at one of the Senior diners; a trip on the Atlantic ocean; a tea at the Copley Plaza, a visit to the historical spots in and about Boston and last—but not least—a dance with Harvard boys for partners."

Is it too much to hope that their fondest hopes may be realized? And Tuesday, May 28th, will be Junior Day, the day, perhaps!

In addition to several functions the Juniors will be given an opportunity on the general program to prove how Juniors "serve the community."

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club held its regular bi-monthly meeting on Monday evening, April 1st, in the Club Rooms, Emerson School. Notice was given that the American flag to be given to Troop 16 Boy Scouts would be presented to the troop on Tuesday evening, April 9th, at St. Mary's Hall. The report of the Nominating Committee, Miss Grace Hunt, chairman, was accepted. After the conclusion of the business session, members of the Executive Board, assisted by three other members of the Club, presented two short plays: "Rocking Chair Row" and "Mrs. Kirkpatrick's Brilliant Idea," a two-act play in which the Club members used their own names so adding greatly to the amusement. At this time it was decided to hold the Annual Meeting and banquet in the Kindergarten Rooms, on April 15th, as the 22nd came in the vacation of the schools. Refreshments were served by the Hospitality Committee, and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, president of the Club, entertained the members of the Executive Board at a turkey dinner at her home on Waldorf road, on Saturday evening, April 6th. At 6:30 they gathered about the "festive board," the centerpiece of which was a bowl of sweet peas and yellow Marguerites, at the four corners of which were lighted yellow tapers. The fun began immediately in finding their places which were designated by daffodils, with an appropriate verse attached. Then followed a most delicious turkey dinner with all the "fixins" from soup to nuts, which were in charming yellow nut baskets. With the ice cream, cake and coffee were served "Poor old Bill," a Rime of Twisted Words; "Try it Yourself," "Queer Quirks" and "The Great Secret," which caused much laughter, and ended only when Mrs. Herbert E. Child in a graceful speech presented Mrs. McLaughlin—in the name of the guests—with a Presidents' Club pin of gold with a tiny map of Massachusetts in blue enamel, and which may be worn by the Club members only. Mrs. McLaughlin's face showed the surprise she felt as she graciously responded. The evening continued till a late hour, with laughter and music, with Mrs. Albert Proctor at the piano. Those in attendance were: Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, Mrs. Warren H. Hoey, Mrs. Maurice Lacroix, Mrs. Walter R. Evans, Mrs. Justin Starkie, Mrs. Bernard A. Meehan, Mrs. Henry A. Sharrott, Mrs. William H. Warren, Mrs. Albert Proctor and Mrs. Herbert E. Child.

The final board meeting of the year was held and plans made for the Annual Meeting and a general wind-up of affairs for the year.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

It was learned with great pleasure that a progressive dinner is to be the next event for the Juniors. The girls will meet at Miss Dorothy De Witt's home, 376 Central street, May 1st, at 6:30 o'clock, for the cocktail. From there the Juniors will go to the different houses for the other three courses.

Miss Chapin, of the Newton Welfare Workers, spoke to the girls at the last meeting of the Auburndale Junior Woman's Club, which was held at Miss Dorothy DeWitt's home, on April 3rd.

At the conference for Junior Women's Clubs at Dorchester on April 6th, there were nine representatives (Continued on Page 13) from Auburndale. Two numbers from the Rainbow Cabaret given on Junior day were part of the entertainment.

Shakespeare Club

At the meeting of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands on Saturday, the 6th of April, the topic for discussion was the close of the reign of Henry IV. Acts IV and V include the pathetic scene between the dying king and the now thoughtful Prince Hal, who is renouncing his past riotous life and companions, and is contemplating his future kingship as one of devotion to the best interests of England, as he understands them.

One of the most engaging of these interests is a war of Conquest in France, keeping Englishmen so occupied that they will not fill their minds with any thought of the Earl of March, the real heir to the throne of England, so carrying on the policies of the ambitious House of Lancaster. These Acts also contain the scene of the breaking off with Falstaff, indicating in the young King a certain hardness and a desire to play to the gallery; another of the characteristics of the Lancasters.

All of which shows that he made a clever beginning as King, winning applause from the "Archbishop down to the Clerk of the Crown."

The Quiz and discussion of these dramatic points were greatly enjoyed by the members of the Club under the direction of Miss Mary L. Sweeney. The Club met at the home of Mrs. A. L. Pratt, of 67 Fisher avenue.

STATE FEDERATION

CLUB INSTITUTES. On Thursday, April 4th, at the Hotel Vendome, Clubwomen who attended the session of the Club Institutes had a most entertaining morning. The suggestion for Club Programs, based upon the practical experiences of the past year, must assuredly have given Club officers present ideas for their own Clubs to work out. Only in one instance was the program reported one of a paid lecturer. All others were original ideas of Club members, worked out within the Club, and at a cost of the incidental expenses only. They ranged from the serious to the comic—one almost might say from the sublime to the ridiculous, except that this phrase might give a false impression of the altogether delightful "ridiculous" which must have entertained one Club so successfully. This was the Gymkhana of the Whitman Club. 13 episodes given by the various committees that so piqued curiosity that over 300 members turned out to find out "what was doing." It was called "Gymkhana," said the chairman who related it, because no one knew what this word meant, and they had 13 episodes to prove that no one was superstitious. The forecast of the event that so piqued curiosity and drew the throng was probably the statement at the preceding meeting that all were to come prepared to take off their hats, and their SHOES. It seems that each episode was a contest with prizes. The shoe one proved to be that in which all contestants left their shoes in a pile at the front of the hall, then raced from the back of the hall, found their own footgear and donned them. While the event must have been hectic, the chief charm of the contest lay, it would seem, in the request to come prepared to take off one's shoes. It raises such a number of contingencies, not to say accidents, to the imaginative mind!

This is just an example of the many reports of presidents of their successful Club days. There were dramatics, pageants, musical productions, birthday celebrations, some rivaling the Whitman Club's for ingenuity, suppers, fairs, Christmas parties, and a multitude of others. Newton was honored by having three of the Clubs represented on the platform, of course at the request of Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, chairman of Club Institutes, without whose invitation no one would speak.

Mrs. George F. Nudd, president of the Auburndale Woman's Club, told of their President's Day, when the Chorus—whose history and development she related briefly in an explanation that would be valuable for the Club considering forming a Chorus—gave the pretentious program of an operetta of the South Sea Islands, "The Castaways," conserving their effort and talent for one event rather than learning many songs and giving them at each Club meeting.

Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, president of the Auburndale Review Club, described their delightful playlet and tableau, given on their Guest Night, in which three ladies of the White House—Martha Washington, Dolly Madison, and Mrs. Lincoln—stepped down from their frames and gave wise counsel to Mrs. Hoover, who wishes for such advice after the departure of Mr. Hoover upon his errands of state.

Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, president of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, described with a pleasing sense of humor and with wholesome frankness the problems and their ingenious solving when their Club decided to celebrate their Birthday Party and Presidents' Night with a Supper—given under the difficulty of headquarters in a School building, where only a trickle of water was possible to serve in place of a kitchen. That success crowned inventive genius of course goes without saying, the affair being a most happy one.

The value of this innovation this year by Mrs. Walker for the informing of Club officers on various phases of Club work has been proven by her statement that at the first meeting in the Fall the Conference was allowed a few feet of space in the corner of the room with about ten persons present—and the next meeting, and all thereafter, required the entire room, with an attendance well over one hundred.

Monday Club

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands met on April 8th at the home of Mrs. W. R. K. Mick of 370 Dedham street, Newton Centre.

The program given by Mrs. Frank Frost and Mrs. H. J. Fawks was on "Alaska," and proved a most instructive and fascinating subject, showing how wonderful a country Alaska is in its scenic beauty, and among other things in its lovely and profuse flora, its vegetables, fruits and berries, its minerals, its animal life, large and small, its fisheries, its manufacture of ivory toys, its development of the business of raising bulbs, and its great yearly fair. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, following the program, in a pleasant social hour.

Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club

The Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club held its Annual dinner and business meeting in the Auburndale Club House Auditorium, on Monday evening, April 8th, at 7 o'clock. It proved to be a very successful and enjoyable evening.

The guests of honor were Mrs. Horace B. Gale, twelfth District director of the State Federation; Mrs. J. Porter Russell, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. George F. Nudd, president of the Auburndale Woman's Club. Other invited guests were Mrs. Stephen E. Wright, the originator and an honorary member of the group, Mrs. C. Carter Willson, first vice-president, the Auburndale Woman's Club; Mrs. Van Patterson Steiger, second vice-president of the Auburndale Woman's Club; and Mrs. Albert L. Puffer, and Mrs. John F. Brown, both honorary members of the Club.

During the dinner, music was furnished by the Polyannas of the WBZ Radio Broadcasting Station, which added greatly to the program. Mrs. Ruth Allen Weston, of Auburndale, was in charge of the dancers, and deserves much credit in making the evening a success.

A very appetizing dinner was served with the special dances filling in for several courses. The children taking part were Betty Ferguson, who danced a Sylvia Ballet; Dorothy Smith and Burton O'Neill, in a Flirtation Waltz; Janet Givillum in The Spirit of Spring; Ponies, Beatrice Lamb, Jean White, Betty Ferguson, and Jane Elizabeth Wilson, a waltz; and Marjorie Clark and Delightful Snow Flakes, Virginia Wilson, soloists; Lynda Smith, Marjorie Gale, and Arleen Webster.

There were five young women of the Junior Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club who acted as waitresses. Helen Perkins, Helen Derron, and Doris Elliot, who dressed in Rainbow costumes, completed the dinner program by a very snappy dance to the popular music, "There's a Rainbow Round My Shoulder," with a solo dance by Polly Godfrey.

Mrs. Raymond Perkins efficiently accompanied the dancers on the piano. All were heartily applauded.

The Business Meeting was preceded by short three-minute speeches by the Honor guests. The ballots for the officers for the coming year, a waltz, been cast during the early part of the dinner, the following officers were elected: Miss Rosa B. Allen, chairman; Mrs. Doris Fuller, vice-chairman; Miss Ellen Fuller, treasurer; and Miss Mary Dooley, secretary.

In the absence of Miss Vera MacKenzie, chairman for the past year, Miss Allen had charge of the evening.

The Hospitality Committee was in charge of Miss Lisette Henderson of Newtonville, who was ably assisted by Miss Jane Wyman. The tables were very prettily decorated in yellow and white.

A CHANCE TO KNOW UNKNOWN BOSTON

How much do you know about the Syrians living in Tyler street in Boston? Or about the Greeks who worship in the Cathedral on Huntington avenue? Or the thirty-thousand Hebrews who occupy the parts of Boston where Paul Revere used to live?

A novel social service enterprise called the "Boston Friendship Tours" is just completing its second year of successful operation. On its sixteen trips an even thousand persons been introduced to picturesque aspects of life in the city which would have largely remained unknown. The board of directors of the Tours consists of nineteen well-known social workers.

The trips have taken up the study of the following groups, in each case a Saturday afternoon and evening being devoted to visiting the centers where the investigation could most easily be presented: Negroes, Chinese, Roumanians, Italians, Syrians, Jewish Religion, Mysticism and New Thought, Radical Thought, Unique Charities, and Labor Unions. Talks by capable speakers have been essential to the programs, which have been made colorful too by national music, folk dancing, and dramatics.

Anybody interested may secure further information by communicating with the chairman of the Friendship Tours, Rev. Herbert A. Jump, Union Church 485 Columbus Avenue, Boston, or Nonantum street Newton.

The next trip will be conducted Saturday April 13 when the group will spend a half a day studying in Industrial Relations and the Labor Movement.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. George F. Spalding of Newton Centre was the guest and speaker on Monday at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. Spalding spoke on "Apples" 444 in a most entertaining and instructive manner, tracing the history of the apples grown in New England and showing how the Western apples had obtained a foothold in the Eastern market.

The Blue Triangle Club on last Monday had a very interesting talk by Miss Grace Weston on Antique Furniture. This coming Monday the girls are meeting for dinner as usual at 6:30, and are making plans for a social evening of unusual interest. It is hoped that all the members will be very sure to be present on April 15th. A new series of swimming lessons begins on Tuesday evening, April 16th from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. Enrollments for this class are already being received. Classes will run for a period of five successive Tuesdays. It will be necessary to have at least ten more girls join the class, and to inform the office of their intention to do so before next Tuesday. For further information, please telephone Newton North 3447.

NEWTON CLUB

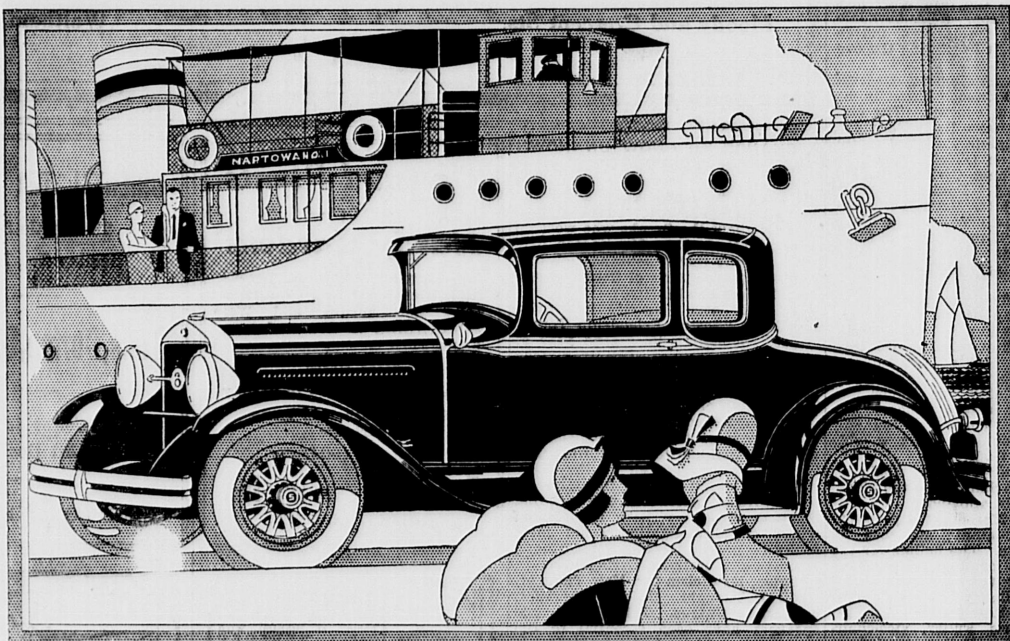

A fine program is being prepared for the Newton Club Novelties to be given April 16 and 17. The entertainment will include the famous "Newtonians", the crack syncopators of Newton High under the direction of Martin Kingsland, son of a Newton Club member. Miss Mary Jeans Willard the well-known mezzo soprano of Christ Episcopal Church, Hyde Park. "The Trysting Place", a sparkling comedy directed by the versatile Hazel Sholley—the Newton Club's own Symphony Ensemble—"Oh! Mister Duffy", a golf sketch about which there is great mystery and finally the "Noveltians" in an uproarious grand finale called "That Bachelor Dinner", to be followed by the usual dance.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The Commonwealth Country Club will be the scene of a Matinee Auction Bridge Party on Monday, April 15. Mrs. Frank H. Chamberlain, Mrs. James C. Duane and Mrs. Alex R. THE NEW COMMANDER EIGHT COUPE FOR TWO—$1495. COMMANDER SIX COUPE—$1350. Ideal for business. Large luggage space under rear deck. Also available with rumble seat. Prices at the factory. Bumpers and spare tire extra.

THINK of it! An eight, a Studebaker—and a Commander—for $1495. Worthy successor to the world-famous Commander which sped 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes in heroic proof of its speed and staying power. Heir to the full fruits of Studebaker's engineering genius, which requires no further evidence than the fact that Studebaker today holds, undisputed, every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars.

Today's Commander is emphatically today's motor car. Its superb performance is matched by forward, youthful style, which beautifully interprets that performance. Lower—lower looking—and steadier at great speed—because of its costly double-drop frame. Restful riding, such as motoring never knew until Studebaker introduced the luxury of ball bearing spring shackles, is still further enhanced by hydraulic shock absorbers.

Available either with straight-eight or with six-cylinder motor, The Commander is offered by Studebaker, Builder of Champions, as "the greatest motor car ever built and sold at its price." Your first ride will prove it.

Gov. Allen at Newton Centre on Automobile Questions

More exacting examinations for drivers' licenses in Massachusetts was the keynote of Gov. Frank G. Allen's speech at the joint banquet of the Men's Clubs of the various Protestant churches of Newton Centre in the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse on Wednesday evening. In addition to Gov. Allen several other prominent public officials were among the speakers. C. Randolph Bennett, president of the Trinity Men's Club, which acted as official host for the meeting introduced the speakers.

Gov. Allen stated that the examination for drivers' license should be more than a brief test under favorable conditions. He should be tried out while operating under unfavorable conditions. Not only that but his faculties should be tested just as the eyesight of a train engineer is thoroughly tested before he is permitted to have the lives of others in his care. This eye test has become the more necessary since the almost universal adoption of red, green, and yellow signal lights along our streets and highways.

The Governor cited the increase in registration in the State and the percentage of fatalities due to motor vehicles. He showed that the fatalities decreased in proportion to the increase in registration because of the safety campaigns. "Drastic treatment is needed for the hit-and-run driver," said the speaker. "He is the most desperate, the most dreaded menace on our roads today and has become one of our most perplexing problems." (Continued on Page 8)

New Bathing Rules At Crystal Lake

Bathhouse Assured—Non-Residents
To Pay Fee

The special committee of Aldermen and citizens appointed to study conditions at Crystal Lake and to make recommendations for the regulating of bathing at that place made its report to the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night. The Aldermen also appropriated $500 to engage an architect for the proposed new bath house at the lake. The report followed:

The Aldermanic Committee and the Citizens' Committee appointed by His Honor, the Mayor, are prepared to report as a joint committee on Crystal Lake.

A year has been taken in studying conditions so we feel that we have not hurried in coming to a definite decision.

This matter of bathing at Crystal Lake is a proposition which has been before the different Boards of Aldermen a number of times. So that all members will know fully the history of bathing at that place, they will find on their desks a report on this same subject by a committee appointed twelve years ago.

Conditions have changed materially in thirteen years. In 1916 it was estimated that the total number of persons bathing in Crystal Lake that year was about 16,000, whereas the number for 1928 was estimated at not less than 150,000. This increase is due to a number of reasons.

1st.—Increase in population of this City.

2nd.—Increase in use of automobile.

3rd.—Proper supervision by the Playground Department and better equipment.

4th.—A large increase in bathing at that place by people living outside of the City limits.

As Crystal Lake is a great pond, the people living outside of the City have had the same privileges, at the City's expense, as our own people, and the number of outsiders has been a large percentage of the number bathing. Your joint committee are unanimous in agreeing that bathing should not be eliminated at Crystal Lake. It was voted to ask the State Board of Health for a report from them as to their opinion of conditions at Crystal Lake. This was done owing to the fact that in other years they had made certain recommendations which had not been adopted. The synopsis of their report under date of October 16, 1928, stated positively just what should be done in bettering the sanitary conditions and if we did not do it they would recommend discontinuing the use of Crystal Lake for bathing. In consulting with them since their reply, the Board of Health made it very plain what they considered should be done.

With this definite information before the Committee it was decided we could go before the Department of Public Works of the Commonwealth asking for their approval of certain new rules governing the bathing at Crystal Lake.

Wm. T. Halliday, Vice-President Of Growing Newton Corporation

Resigns From Trust Company To Join Newton Mortgage Corporation Whose Assets
Have Grown More Than a Million Dollars in Six Years

Early this week it was officially announced that William T. Halliday, until now Vice-President of the Newton Trust Company, became associated with the Newton Mortgage Corporation in the capacity of Vice-President.

Mr. Halliday makes this change in his business situation after satisfying himself by a careful investigation of the ability of the management, soundness of the project, and future possibilities of the Newton Mortgage Corporation and allied interests.

Mr. Halliday joined the organization of the Newton Centre Trust Company in April, 1903, and for the succeeding fourteen years was identified with its growth, serving through the various departments of the bank and being actively located for a material length of time at each of its offices until he left as Asst. Treasurer to take a position as Cashier of the Second National Bank of Malden, Mass. During the four years he was away from Newton, he retained his membership in several Newton fraternal and other organizations of which he was a member. He returned to the Newton Trust Company through the consolidation of interests with the City Trust Company of Newton as Treasurer of the Newton Trust Company.

His banking ability and standing in the community were again recognized when the Old Colony Trust Associates acquired control of the bank—by his promotion to the office of Vice-President.

Mr. Halliday enjoys a very broad list of acquaintances in all parts of the community, having for years served as a participant in the various series of city baseball championships. That his interest in the National Bank still continues is demonstrated by the fact he is President of the Newton Amateur Twilight League.

As organizer of the Rotary Club of Newton he started the Service Club idea for this city. He is at present acting as special representative of Rotary International, forming a Rotary Club in Needham, our neighboring town. He has served for years as a director of the Newton Welfare Bureau, and as its treasurer. Two outstanding accomplishments from an organization standpoint have been the two years he served as President of Norumbega Council Boy Scouts of America during the period when that Council changed from a second class Council to one of the best first class Councils of the United States. He was Vice-Chairman, assisting Henry J. Nichols, Chairman, in forming the committee of some seven hundred and fifty workers on the Newton Hospital Drive.

His work as Chairman of the Big Brother Committee has been successfully completed.

He is a director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Brae Burn Country Club, Alhambra Golf Club, the Newton Club, the Rotary Club of Newton—having served as President the first two years of its existence—and of several fraternal organizations.

WILLIAM T. HALLIDAY
Vice-President of the Newton Mortgage Corporation

In banking circles he has a state wide reputation, having been President for two years of the Associated Savings Trust Companies Association of Massachusetts; also as Cashier of the Second National Bank of Malden. He is a member of the National Bank Cashier Association of Massachusetts. He has a knowledge of various types of banks, having been for years an officer of the First National Bank of West Newton and a director of the Newton Co-operative Bank.

This change by Mr. Halliday is the realization of a desire of many years standing. He has long wanted to engage in business for himself, already having under way an extensive summer colony development at Brewster, Cape Cod, and the building of small homes on Walnut Street in Newton Highlands.

Mr. and Mrs. Halliday reside in Newton Highlands with a family of three children. He is forty-two years of age. He was educated in the Newton Schools and Northeastern University Evening School of Law.

The Newton Mortgage Corporation, of which Mr. Halliday is now Vice-President, was organized in 1923. Before the date of inception of the company exhaustive conferences were held with banking advisers for the purpose of definitely assuring the soundness of the plan of organization. W. Mark Noble, Jr., and Merrill C.

Nutting, both Newton young men who had been close friends from boyhood, were the organizers of the corporation that was to grow with time into the prominence it has now assumed.

The capital at first consisted of but a few hundred dollars, invested by local people. From the moment of the new company's inauguration there was a steady growth, both in capital and surplus, and in that intangible, yet highly necessary asset—popular esteem. There are now stockholders of the Newton Mortgage Corporation in every state in New England.

As the company now stands the assets aggregate one million and a quarter dollars, with a healthy surplus. The corporation is housed in the splendid banking quarters, on the corner of Union street, nearly opposite the Newton Centre railroad station.

While the Newton Mortgage Corporation has been recognized for some time as one of the leading firms in its field of endeavor the entrance of Mr. Halliday into its membership not only puts the seal on the solidification of public and banking relations but it also definitely establishes the Corporation as one of the largest and most prominent of its kind in New England.

The addition of other prominent Newton men to the Directorate is a matter of only a few days.

In addition to its regular assets the Newton Mortgage Corporation owns a twenty-five percent interest in the United States Securities Corporation, a holding company now being organized to correlate the different phases of the real estate business and to secure for the public complete and efficient service in all aspects.

The Newton Mortgage Corporation is enabled to offer its patrons all the services of real estate brokerage. This service can be extended the public through the combination of the M. C. Nutting Co., Inc., and Schwab & Smith, of which A. N. Schwab is the manager. This alliance is staffed with a group of eager, honest, energetic, young men, among whom are some of the leading salesmen of the community.

Insurance is handled through the subsidiary firm of Noble & Brown, Inc., with headquarters in Newton and Wellesley, and with so excellent a record that the company has been granted general agencies by prominent American insurance companies. This assures the maximum in service and dependability.

The United States Securities Corporation, stock of which to the extent of twenty-five percent will be held by the Newton Mortgage Corporation, also owns the Craigie Realty Trust and the Woodchester Realty Trust, builders of beautiful homes. These trusts have created more than a million dollars' worth of the highest type of (Continued on Page 3)

Large Attendance At Annual Meeting

City Affairs Discussed by Chamber of Commerce Speakers

The annual meeting and dinner of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, held last night at the Brae Burn Club, was one of the most successful affairs ever held by this organization. Over 150 were present. President Ira Roe conducted the meeting and following a short business session introduced Mayor Childs, who lauded the work of the Chamber and paid his respects to the speaker of the evening, Hon. William F. Whiting of Holyoke.

Mr. Roe then called on President Sinclair Weeks of the Newton Board of Aldermen. Mr. Weeks referred to problems facing the city, particularly to the inability of Newton to lay out and improve unaccepted streets as rapidly as is desired because of the limited borrowing capacity of the city. He expressed the hope that the Legislature will grant Newton an increased borrowing capacity so that streets may be improved, sewers constructed and needed schools built.

Senator Arthur Hollis told of the proposed improvements along the Charles River and at the Charles River Basin. He assured those present that he will do all in his power to have the boulevard extended from the foot of Maple street at Newton along the river to California street and to have the projected boulevard extension built from Faneuil by the abattoir to North Brighton.

Aldermen Get Traffic Report—Conduct Routine Business

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night hearings were announced on the petitions of the Riverdale Home Laundry for a permit to install a 500 gallons gasoline tank at 8 Midland avenue, Nonantum, and the Newton Brick Company for a permit to install a 500 gallons gasoline tank at 391 Grove street, Lower Falls. Both these locations are in manufacturing zones. There was no opposition.

Chairman Earle of the Public Works Committee reported that this committee is opposed to the taking of the Hennessy property adjoining the new Cabot School at Newtonville for school purposes. He explained that when this site was selected, the Aldermen had been told that it would be necessary to take only one house, that of David Fecteau on Cabot street. Later it was deemed expedient to take a double house on Bridges avenue owned by Frank Vincenzo because some land and the garage site connected with this property had been seized for the school location. The Public Works Committee does not believe it necessary to take other nearby properties and opposes another home being seized. Its report was adopted.

The Claims and Rules Committee recommended that leave be withdrawn be given to the petition of Henry Abbott who asked for a waiver of the (Continued on Page 8)

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

RAIN POSTPONES
FIRST GAME AGAIN

Just as many baseball teams have been forced to put off the first games of their respective seasons so has the Newton High School. Unseasonable weather prevented the local school from prying off the 1929 lid at Lawrence High last Saturday. Wednesday's game with Woburn High at Victory Field, Nonantum could not be played because of the rain. Coach John L. Sullivan has hopes of seeing his team get under way this morning at Victory Field in one of the opening games of the Suburban league campaign. Cambridge High and Latin will be the orange and black's opponents as in former years on previous Patriots' Days.

The return of Phil Andres to the squad after an enforced absence because of an injury to his back has boosted Newton High squad considerably. Andres was the leading batter on the championship team last spring as well as one of the main defensive cogs. Two years ago he substituted in the outfield more or less while last year took over the catching job vacated by the graduation of his brother, Harold, now a catcher on the Dartmouth varsity squad. Behind the bat last year the younger Andres was one of the outstanding receivers in scholastic circles. This year, in view of his recent injury and the fact that a catcher is one of the most active players on the field and consequently exerting himself to a greater extent than the other players the Newton mentor will not send Andres behind the bat. Being of the type that can be sent to most any position and relied upon to come through the chances are that Andres will play at second base or at shortstop, the former position being one of the apparent necessities of the team with Captain Fletcher shifting to the shortfield. Should Andres look better at short than at second the Newton captain will switch back again to the position he held last year and at which he proved himself the peer of school boy second sackers.

The Newton coach is also contemplating another important shift that of catcher Art Wilson to third base. Wilson is another natural ball player. Two years ago he was carried as a catcher and with his older brother, Donald, a pitcher, the pair made quite a battery. Last year with Andres on the job Wilson went to left field and did a splendid job there. When it was learned that Andres would not be available to catch this year and might be lost to the squad for the season Coach Sullivan turned to Wilson as the logical choice for catch. Wilson, for the sake of the team's success, willingly sacrificed his own ambitions and donned the catcher's glove. Meanwhile Billy Anness, a linesman on the football team last fall, has been coming along fast as a relay for the receiver's berth. In batting practice Anness has showed up as well as on the defense which has prompted the Newton coach to try Wilson at third base. Thus it seems that Newton will take the field this morning against the Cantabs, weather permitting, with Bill Reilly and Bill Anness the battery. Norman Payne, the first, Andres and Fletcher the key-stone pair with the former probably at second, Wilson at third, and Mulen, Elrod and Nichols in the outfield. Mulen's speed and lack of height, making a hard batter to pitch too, makes him the best lead-off man on the squad. He will be followed at bat by Reilly, Andres, Fletcher, last year's wrecking crew, Bartlett Nichols, who looks like the second best pitcher on the squad yields a wicked bat to make Coach Sullivan find room for him in the outfield, will follow Fletcher to the plate. Wilson, Elrod, Payne and Anness will wind up the line. When Reilly pitches it is possible that he may be dropped to the bottom of the batting order but inasmuch as he batted second in many games last year this shift is not likely unless one of the other lads develop into an outstanding sacrifice man.

Hoyt In Left Field

Cassidy Seeks Title

Francis Cassidy of the Newton Y. M. C. A. wrestling team is among the New England delegates in the national wrestling championships which began in New York city this morning. Cassidy is in the 135-pound class. In the New England championships recently held at Cambridge the title was won by Carl Stearns, ex-Harvard grappler in a final match with Kulman, Harvard law student. Neither was able to make the trip. Cassidy, who forced Kulman to two overtime periods before being nosed out of the running for the sectional title was selected to represent New England in this division.

Albemarle Versus Sandy Burr

Sunday afternoon when the first matches of the Metropolitan Four-Ball League will be played on various golf courses. The Albemarle team will entertain the Sandy Burr golfers at the Newtonville links. The Albemarle team will pair together as follows: Fred Wright, Jr., and Joe Lynch; Parker Schofield and James Conroy; Fred Corcoran and H. L. Esterberg; and Newton Hyslop and Charles Davidson. The local club has been strengthened by the return of Schofield who was runner-up for the State championship in 1921. The Sandy Burr team lost one of its leading players by the resignation of Phillips Finlay but has been considerably strengthened by the acquisition of Perley Crosby and Emory Stratton, both local golfers of note. Framingham, the new team in the league, will be led by Clark Hodder, former Newton youth.

Two Important Games Next Week

With the Cambridge Latin game out of the way the Newton team will face the task of conquering two old rivals next week. On Wednesday bats will be crossed with Everett on the Everett field in another Suburban league encounter. Everett was the only team in the state last year to turn back the Newton high regulars—Somerville doing so in the well-remembered seniority game—and it took Everett ten innings to turn the trick, aided materially by a combination of circumstances over which the Newton players has no control. While the odds of the best games of last spring and perhaps if the weather is good Wednesday's affair may be just as interesting.

On Saturday Newton will go away again as it will do many times this season. Medford will be the scene of the weekend conflict although the outcome of the game will not have any bearing on the Suburban league title since Medford is not a member of the league. Medford has long been a deep rival of the orange and black and the Newton team is just as anxious to turn them back as it will be the only time the two meet on the diamond this year. While the orange and black is not claiming the highest honors there may be they are confident that every team they oppose will have a battle on their hands. With an apparent wealth of batting power and strong defense this year's orange and black aggregation looks to be a fitting successor to the 1929 champions.

SPORT NOTES

Entered in Marathon

Several local youths are entered in the annual B. A. A. marathon road race from Ashland to Boston which will be held today. Julius Ober of Newton, a previous entrant, will make another attempt to finish well-up with the leaders. Ober is a Newton high school senior. Lewis F. Good will represent the Immanuel Associates of Newton. Peter A. Marchant, who has also been an entrant in previous years, will make another try. Gordon Slide, both of Newtonville, and a sophomore at Newton high school, will make his first attempt in the race.

Calver Fencing Champion
John C. Calver of Newton Centre won the annual fencing tourney at Dartmouth College this week.

Dartmouth Tops Huskies

The Dartmouth baseball team defeated Coach Bond's Northeastern University nine on Monday at the Huntington street field, Boston, 10 to 8. The Green outfit the Hub outfit almost two to one and had the game won in the first inning. Captain Stou, Mahoney and his mates put on rallies in the seventh and eighth innings that netted six runs when the Dartmouth pitcher went into the air. Mahoney connected safely once in three official times at bat, sacrificed once, stole one base, and made five putouts and had five assists without an error. Hal Andres, former Newton high star athlete, now at Dartmouth, who caught several games at the start of the recent spring trip did not get into the game.

Three Inning Tie

The first and second teams of Boston University played a three-inning practice game at Nickerson field on Monday. Carleton McCullough, former Newton high captain, seems to have a safe hold on the centerfield berth in the first team. Victor Stou, former Newton high and Worcester Academy infielder, now a freshman at B. U., and one of the hardest hitters on Coach Morey's squad has been making a gallant attempt to break in to the first string lineup. Coach Morey has tried him at second and third and on the outfield. In Monday's practice Stou played third base for the second time.

Gilligan in Right Field

Coach Fred Mitchell of the Harvard varsity nine has apparently found a regular place for Tom Gilligan, former Newton and Exeter athlete, in right field. While the Crimson was on its trip south last week Gilligan went into the outer garden in order to give the team a stronger batting punch. In his first game there he hit a triple but was left stranded. Against Catholic University on Friday he went hitless in four times at bat but scored one of the Crimson's nine runs. Against Columbia on Saturday the Newton youth was the hero with a home run smash that tied up the game at 1 to 1. Columbia had taken the lead in the third inning with a solitary run resulting from a wild throw by a Crimson infielder. In the fifth Gilligan came to bat and poked the ball into deep centerfield to put Harvard back into the game. Both pitchers were in fine form the Crimson team getting but three safe blows, including Gilligan's swat while Howard and Whitmore, also a former Newton high star, held the New Yorkers to four safeties. The weather was so cold that the game was called by agreement at the end of the ninth.

Jamboree Troop on the Job

On Saturday afternoon last, the Norumbega Council Jamboree Troop met at Council Headquarters with Scout Commissioner Bierer, to go over additional affairs in preparation for the Jamboree to be held in England next summer.

The preceding Tuesday Scout Commissioner Bierer went to National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts in New York City, with the completed enrollment paper from his Council's delegation. He telephoned long distance to Norumbega Council Headquarters that we were the first group in the United States to complete the registration for the Jamboree! As one result, Mr. Lorne Barclay, Director of the delegation from this country, stated that special honor would be given Norumbega's Troop at the Jamboree.

After setting details about instruction in cooking and other matters for which his group must work, the group went to the Peabody Museum at Harvard University to study costumes, equipment, housing and living conditions of the New England Indians. They looked over arrow-heads, stone implements, bowls and spoons of wood, stone mortars and pestles and so on. Each member of the Troop decided what article he would make and is to have it ready by Friday morning, April 19th. The group returned at Council Headquarters afterwards and arrangements were completed for a trip to Institution Hill on Friday, April 19th, for cooking work under Commissioner Bierer.

On Sunday afternoon, the leaders of the Jamboree Troop went to the Boston Public Library to do further research work regarding the Indians of this section. They were rather surprised to find material so scarce, but decided that the reason lay in the fact that most of the New England Indians were exterminated before there was a Government policy for dealing with them. They have learned that those of this section did not wear the great feather war-bonnets, live in wigwags, or do many of things we think of commonly when we speak of Indians.

One of the leaders went to New York and Monday went to the Museum of the American Indians and held a long conference with the Curator of this institution about the Indians of this section. One result of the trip was that the Norumbega group of Scouts will learn how to make real wampum to wear to England and will doubtless carry the crude implements used by the Indians in making wampum to England and there make it as a part of the exhibit. In addition to all this, there are leather moccasins to make, leggings, roaches and scalp-locks, bow and arrows, drums and also dances and Indian songs to learn. Some of these projects will be "turned out" by Scouts to carry out and due information about such action will be given.

Scouts See Jamboree Pictures

Scouts, officers and friends of this Council who were present at the Court of Honor at the Levi Warren Junior High School last Friday evening greatly enjoyed the motion pictures there shown of the International Jamboree in Denmark in 1924. Rather than tell about it in detail here ask any Scout who saw the picture and he will relate it for you.

The Court opened with a fanfare of four ruffles by the Drum and Bugle Corps, led by Drum Major Robert Spooner, and the Court members marched in, headed by Chairman Woodbridge and President Hutchinson. Followed the President, a welcoming address by President Hutchinson and then a brief story of the Jamboree by Commissioner Bierer. Then the pictures were shown to a cheering, enthusiastic audience. The awards came next.

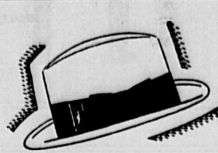

Eagle Badges Awarded

The climax of the awards was the presentation of the Eagle Badge to Scout Lauren Perry and Scout Kingston Smith, of Troop 7, West Newton. As the Corps struck up, Scoutmaster Gaddis of Troop 7, marched forward and presented the two Scouts to President Hutchinson. With appropriate, inspiring remarks, he awarded the high honor in Scouting, amid an absolute silence. Then, one by, five representatives of the Eagle Circle of Norumbega Council, walked past and shook hands, using the Scout handshake, with the two fledglings of the Circle. Then the Corps struck up and a great outburst of applause and cheering followed.

Another high spot in the Court was the award of Merit Badges to Scout Commissioner Bierer and his son, Jack, of Troop 10, Waban, who are working for the Eagle Badge award. President Hutchinson, in making the presentation, stated that it was the finest example of father and son working together of which he could think. In another place the audience was moved to spontaneous applause when told of Deputy Commissioner Bartram's visit, in full uniform, to the hospital, on Sunday, to examine Earle Tilton, a Scout of Troop 20, Center, who passed his test and whose badge was awarded to him through his father.

Awards were as follows: 2nd Class badges awarded by Deputy Commissioner Bartram and Assistant Deputy Emery and Examiner Dow to 15 Scouts of Troop 1, Newtonville; 3 Scouts of Troop 2, Auburndale; 1 Scout of Troop 4, Highlands; 4 Scouts of Troop 5, Center; 9 Scouts of Troop 7, West Newton; 1 of Troop 9 and 3 of Troop 10, Waban; 1 of Troop 11, Newton; 1 of Troop 14, Upper Falls; 6 of Troop 15, Auburndale; 3 of 15, Center; 2 of 19, Center; and 2 of 20, Center.

1st Class awards were made by Chairman Woodbridge and Examiner

Rally at Boston

On Monday evening last, Scouts and officers of this Council in numbers attended the Rally and Demonstration of the Boston Council held in the Boston Garden. There the Scouts of this Council, with Mate Dinsmore, put on a demonstration of "making port," which was highly praised by Rear Admiral Andrews, Commandant of the Navy Yard at Charlestown. Portmaster Harris and Skipper Hill were present at the affair for the officer personnel of the Seascout Division.

Father and Son Dinner

On Tuesday evening last, Troop 11 held a Father and Son dinner, at which President Hutchinson spoke. Scoutmaster Stevenson was the master of ceremonies and the meeting was a corker. Mr. Hutchinson commended Troop 11 for its work and urged the fathers present "to expose themselves to Scouting and he was sure it would take and they would greatly enjoy being in the game." After the opening ceremony, the "Troop Committee and officers were charged with their duties and were sworn in by the Scout Executive, taking the Scout Oath with the right hand up-raised in the Scout Sign. Members of Troop 11 Committee are Mr. George Grant, Chairman, Messrs. Frank A. Day, C. C. Macomber, Marvin Perry and Clifford Pratt of Troop 11; and to William Callahan of Troop 18.

Veteran Badges, five-year, were awarded by the Scout Executive to Robert Kinrade of Troop 1; Kenneth Warren of Troop 4; Frank Jordan of Troop 11 and Robert Spillman of Troop 19.

The bugler who sounded Colors and Retreat was Douglas Sloane, Jr., of Troop 1. Usherling was in charge of Troop 7, West Newton, under Scoutmaster Gaddis and the greeting committee consisted of members of Troop 7 Committee.

Regional Conference

Twenty-one men of Norumbega Council attended the Regional Conference held at Hotel Kenmore on Thursday and Friday of last week. The program was of a nature to aid and inspire the chairman of the various Council Committees. The Conference was attended by President Hutchinson, Vice-Presidents Marcy, Day and Woodbridge, Messrs. Hartshorn, W. P. Harris, R. B. Emery, H. A. Wentworth, Kenelm Winslow, C. G. MacDavit, Sr., J. R. Warren, E. S. Drowie, N. B. Vanderhoof, Wm. V. M. Fawcett, D. M. Hill (the last two of the Seascout Division), Dr. C. W. Clark and Executive Bruce.

The Seascouts of Ship 13 of this Council, put on an exhibit of material appertaining to Seascouting, which was a feature of the Conference.

Treasurer Charles H. Cobb was also present at the Conference and attended the session on Council Finance. Norumbega Council, with its representation of 21 men, was second highest of all Councils in New England. Malden, Massachusetts, was first with 28 men, so Newton was a high second, the next having 17 men present.

These two trusts build homes to order from plans and specifications, having sent experts to numerous sections of the United States to procure the finest and most modern and artistic ideas. Several of Boston's foremost business men are numbered among satisfied owners, and the work has been the subject of a leading article in a national publication.

W. MARK NOBLE, JR.
President of the Newton Mortgage Corporation

The Chestnut Hill Garage, located on Commonwealth Avenue, will also be a subsidiary of the United States Securities Corporation. Under the direction of an alert young manager the volume of business of this establishment has vastly increased.

W. Mark Noble, Jr., President of the Newton Mortgage Corporation, is a graduate of the Newton High School. He entered the infantry officers' training camp during the World war, where he contracted a partial disability, which was not of so serious a nature, however, as to handicap business progress. On a wall of his well-appointed office hangs a Service Certificate from Harvard.

Mr. Noble was affiliated with the Newton Trust Company for two and one-half years, serving in various departments. He left in 1922, with the friendliest relationships, while occupying the position of Assistant Manager in Newton Centre, and entered the insurance business as individual owner. From then on he devoted his energies entirely to building up a substantial business.

Late in 1923, together with Merrill C. Nutting, he organized the Newton Mortgage Corporation. In 1927 Mr. Noble became a director of the Newton Trust Company. He is a member of the Rotary Club of Newton and of the Boston City Club.

He resides in a quietly delightful home in the Newton part of Chestnut Hill with a charming wife and two children, an infant son and a daughter. Mr. Noble is thirty years old.

The treasurer of the Newton Mortgage Corporation, Merrill C. Nutting, is likewise a graduate of the Newton High School. Mr. Nutting was prominent in athletics and in his senior year was president of his class.

After graduation Mr. Nutting jumped immediately into business.

He entered the employ of Henry W. Savage, Inc., Newton Centre, as salesman and later became manager. Three years later he entered more directly into business for himself and, together with Albert H. McAuslan, he formed the firm of McAuslan & Nutting, Inc.

Early in 1927 he was bought out by Mr. McAuslan, after which he entered business as individual owner under the title M. C. Nutting Co., Inc. Mr. Nutting is a Corporator of the Newton Centre Savings Bank, and is a member of the Commonwealth Country Club. He is twenty-nine years of age, married most happily, and is the father of two healthy boys.

PROMINENT INSURANCE FIRM IN NEW BANK BUILDING

The removal on Thursday of the insurance office of G. Clement Colburn to new and better quarters on the second floor of the Newton National Bank Building at 392 Centre street marks the tenth anniversary of this business which was started by Mr. Colburn in Boston in 1919 where he did business until 1923.

In 1923 an office was opened in Newton.

Mr. Colburn was born in Newton and resides here at the present time, as do also the other members of this organization, Mr. Robert S. Newell and Mr. Dwight Colburn.

The Colburn office is the only organization in Newton which confines itself strictly to the business of insurance, and their motto is "Our Entire Business is Insurance."

When you have any questions to ask on insurance it would be well to visit the new office of the Colburn Agency and see what good advice a trained organization backed by the best of companies can give you.

EDITORIAL

We are in hearty sympathy with the views expressed so strongly by the Methodist ministers last week at Melrose regarding the failure of our judges to enforce the prohibition law. In our mind, however, we believe the tendency of juries in the superior courts to over turn the sentences imposed by our district court judges, is a far greater evil. The whole jury system must be reorganized if we are to have our courts function as they should.

To our mind the agitation in Washington as to where a certain lady should sit at the dinner table, is about as silly a piece of business as was ever given publicity. In a democracy such as we hope is ours, where "McGregor sits at the head of the table".

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Just as it appears that an approximate date may be considered for promulgation, a number of important matters are brought forcibly to the consideration of the Legislature. These are of such a nature that it is almost impossible to tell what may be done and how long it will take to do it. The most prominent is that relating to the future of the Boston Elevated. This bill, with dissenters, has been referred to the Senate Ways and Means Committee and that body, with the House Ways and Means Committee, will begin hearings next week, considering the matter jointly to expedite proceedings. Next comes the bill for the improvement of the Charles River Basin. A subcommittee of the Committee on Cities has a redraft of the bill which it will present to the full committee within a short time. Another piece of legislation over which there will be no end of talk is the bill for a new School-house Commission for Boston. Again a subcommittee has been selected and it hopes to have a draft that the full committee will accept and report. Then the matter of an investigation of the automobile liability insurance law has yet to be settled. These things are bound to consume a lot of time and the slow gait at which the General Court is moving at present makes it look as if adjournment would not be reached until June.

On the rollcall in the House, by which the old age pension bill was substituted for an adverse committee report, 114 to 104, Representative Luitwieler, Baker and Thompson voted against substitution. The bill was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

An exaggerated report was recently circulated that inmates of the State Farm at Bridgewater had been given meat to eat Good Friday and that no substitute was provided for those whose religious belief would not permit the eating of meat on Friday. Two members of the House promptly issued orders for an investigation. The State Department of Correction presented an explanation that was satisfactory and the orders were finally rejected.

There are two orders before the House Rules Committee for an investigation of the activities of lighting companies in this State. Furthermore, the House Ways and Means Committee has before a bill reported by the Committee on Power and Light containing provisions which must be observed when a municipality decides to purchase a privately-owned lighting plant. The entire question has attained unusually large proportions and may result in extending the length of the present session. The bill reported by the Power and Light Committee was given a hearing on Wednesday. Next Monday the two orders will be heard by the Joint Rules Committee.

Mr. Luitwieler took part in the debate on the bill providing that employees injured in industrial accidents be compensated during the entire period of total incapacity. The House substituted the bill for an adverse report of the Committee on Labor and Industries. Mr. Luitwieler was against substitution. It prevailed, however, 119 to 34.

The bill to increase the salary of members of the General Court from $1500 to $2000, which the House substituted for an adverse committee report, came before the House Ways and Means Committee this week for a hearing. The only member of the Legislature to speak for it was the petitioner, Representative Ralph E. Otis of Pittsfield. There were only four speakers in all at the hearing and one of these opposed the measure. It is reported that the House members, or a majority at least, will support the bill but that there is a chance the Senate will kill it. The Governor is silent on the matter but is understood not to look with favor on the bill in view of the fact that economy is urged in matters of salaries and departmental appropriations.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

The Newton Choral Society gave its 15th concert at the Central Congregational chapel Tuesday night. On Tuesday our city was swept by what the newspapers called the wildest storm in 50 years, so the attendance was not large, but the considerable number who braved the storm were unusually enthusiastic, and earnestly called for a repetition of the program on some more favorable night.

The chorus under the very able leadership of Mr. Edwin L. Gardiner, rendered The Omnipotence, by Schubert; Pilgrim's Song, Tchaikovsky; The Immortal, Chadwick; chorus of Bacchantes, Gounod; The devil's awa', Lamarter; Cargoes, Gardiner; Lovely Rosabelle, Chadwick; and Sullivan's Lost Chord. The chorus was assisted by a number of excellent singers from the Perkins Institution for the Blind, and the sentiment of the audience seemed to be that these works were effectively rendered and that a very fine concert was given.

Miss Virginia Gardiner, soprano, sang two groups of songs and responded generously with two encores. Her voice is very much to be admired, and the city of Newton can take pride in producing so gifted a young singer, who has trained for her work so thoroughly and has attained such excellent results. Her voice has a remarkable purity and sweetness of tone, and unusual flexibility and range. She sings with feeling and vivacity, and a very successful future can be predicted for her.

The solos in two of the choral numbers were taken by Miss Edith Matthews, a teacher at the Perkins institution, who is gifted with a voice of unusual beauty and expressiveness, and her work in these brief passages was a feature of the concert. Miss Mary Ingraham played her accompaniments very effectively, and her work through the season of rehearsals is much appreciated by the singers.

Mr. Joseph Maloney, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride was presented with a beautiful string of pearls from her husband. The bridesmaid received a platinum bracelet and the best man received a wrist watch.

Parkes Cadman, speaking in Eliot Church next Tuesday evening, April 23rd, at 8 P. M. To those who have heard Dr. Cadman personally nothing can be added to enhance his already fine reputation. These qualities at its present stage of development cannot be conveyed over the radio. Dr. Cadman's subject will be "The Mission of the Republic."

WELFARE CONFERENCE

On Wednesday, April 10, the Welfare Conference of the Newton Central Council met at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban. The Waban Woman's Club was the hostess of the Conference and served luncheon in the same room with the Women's Guild of the church. After luncheon Mrs. Louis H. Marshall thanked the church women and the club for their hospitality. The business of the conference was then transferred to another room.

Mr. Herbert C. Parsons, Commissioner of Probation in Massachusetts, gave a most inspiring and illuminating talk on the Right Application of Probation.

Mr. Parsons said that on this occasion he had intended to speak strictly on his topic, but had decided to begin by getting down to fundamentals because he had been asked at the luncheon table "What is probation?"

Mr. Parsons therefore reminded the Conference that probation is a Massachusetts invention which is just past its fiftieth birthday. It is an extension of the power of the Court into the period after conviction. The old ideal was not so much the re-education of the criminal in normal life as the protection of society and the punishment of the prisoner. Probation has transformed the whole process of correction by allowing the prisoner to lead a normal life under the supervision of the Court. At the present time in Massachusetts 6,500 persons are confined in cells; but 21,000 more have been convicted and still remain at large on probation. The economy of this procedure appeals to most men. For 25 years there has not been a single new cell built in Massachusetts. In fact there are now many unoccupied cells.

Humanity and prevention of the moral degradation which goes with imprisonment is, even more than economy, the reason why probation is such an asset to the community.

Since Massachusetts initiated the idea of probation, other states have followed suit and now only one state is without any recognized probation procedure.

For the last 4 years the Federal Government has been using probation as a method of dealing with offenders. Federal offences are not, as some think, necessarily serious ones such as treason. A boy or girl who breaks a window in a post-office is committing a federal offence. Any trespassing on a reservation belonging to the Federal Government such as an army reservation is also a federal offence. It is as necessary that the boys and girls committing such offences should have the benefits of probation as that of any other young people should have them.

In regard to the Right Application of Probation, Mr. Parsons said first that probation should be applied only to such cases as could really profit by it. "Promise of success" is necessary. It is not a constructive procedure to dump all the worst tangles on the probation office. For instance, the feeble minded should not be put on probation because they are not really capable of profiting by it and should be in institutions which are equipped for their care.

Last year in Massachusetts courts out of each 1,000 persons convicted of offences 79 were committed to institutions and 224 placed in care of probation officers. Of the remaining 70% of the cases, 50% were settled by fines and 20% simply passed on file.

Secondly, Mr. Parsons made a plea that more adequate information be given to the judge, in order that his decision could be an intelligent one in regard to each individual brought before him. Such factors as the psychological, the medical, and the sociological should be at the disposal of the judge. He should have all the advantages of the complete resources of the community to help him in making his decision. Employment, domestic life, social relationships, economic circumstances and all other pertinent factors should be studied by the probation officers.

The last plea which Mr. Parsons made was for a closer alliance between the social agencies and the courts. In the past the culprit was dealt with simply as a criminal, not as a human being. This social agency can change by bringing all the resources of the agency to the aid of the probationer. The court can also assist the agency in many crises, since it represents the Commonwealth and can wield a power in the home which the private agency lacks.

A clearing away of court formalities was felt by Mr. Parsons to be a further factor in the constructive method of dealing with criminals. He described the procedure of Judge Hoffman's Court in Cincinnati, where judge, attorneys, defendant and plaintiff sit about the room and talk conversationally of their difficulties. Witnesses are brought in as needed and join in the discussion. The real truth of the case Mr. Parsons felt could only come out where publicity was entirely eliminated and where the most intimate relations between the judge and the person on trial, and all those concerned, could be brought about. In Massachusetts we are not as advanced as other states in this respect, even in regard to the juvenile courts. In Massachusetts there is only one separate juvenile Court. With us the criminal and civil judge must suddenly transform himself into a juvenile court judge when the juvenile session of the Court takes place; but he is not always able to make this transformation as completely and as suddenly as our procedure calls for.

The juvenile Court, however, is more informal and more private than our other courts, and Mr. Parsons felt very strongly that the procedure for the age-period of 17 to 21 years should follow the juvenile procedure which it does not at present.

Statistics compiled by the Board of Probation for the month of January show that of the persons in court with ages from 17 to 21, 85% of the boys and 93% of the girls had never been in the juvenile Court. Their criminal debut, so to speak, was made at this time. Eighty-four per cent of the juveniles were for the first time in the Court.

These statistics contradict most of

By Edw. H. Powers

The Colonial Air Transport Company which has established the new passenger air route from Boston to New York went to considerable trouble in selecting names for the big planes which are carrying folks from the Hub to Gotham. It seemingly used even more care in choosing names for its craft than has the Pullman Company for its palatial cars. Believing it especially appropriate to commemorate the history and legends of America's first known inhabitants, the Colonial Air Transport Company requested the librarian of the Museum of the American Indian to submit a list of Indian names associated with New England. From this list three were selected and given to the palatial big planes which are daily speeding over southern New England to New York. The names given to these pioneer parlor ships of the air are—Nacomis, Nemissa and Nonantum. The Nacomis was christened on Monday at the East Boston airport by Miss Mary Fuller, daughter of Alvin T. Fuller. The Nemissa and the Nonantum were christened at the Newark airport by Miss Jean Trumbull and Miss Congleton. The former is the daughter of Connecticut's Governor and the fiancée of John Coolidge. Mrs. Congleton is the wife of the mayor of Newark.

Nacomis and Nemissa are legendary Indian characters. Nacomis was, according to Indian mythology the daughter of the Moon, the Earth Mother, Nemissa was a Star Maiden. One of the twelve Star Sisters, "Nantum" is not a legendary name. It is the name of a place. It is the Indian name of what is now the City of Newton. On the seal of the city the word "Nonantum" appears and above it is a depiction of John Eliot, the apostle to the Indians, preaching to the red men.

To be exact, Nonantum was that part of Newton bounded by the Charles River at the Fanell marshes and extending southerly and westerly towards what is now Chestnut Hill and Newton Corner. The early settlers of Cambridge found Indians living on the swamps on the Nonantum hill. They were members of the Massachusetts tribe and Waban was their chief. The farmers of Cambridge were short on grazing lands for their cattle, so they bargained with Chief Waban and obtained permission to keep six score head of cattle on the south side of the Charles river. Waban was to be paid eight pounds for this concession.

Rev. John Eliot learned the language of the Massachusetts Indians. Thus prepared, he went on October 28, 1646 to address the red-men on the subject of Christianity. He was met by Waban who treated him courteously. Eliot spoke to the Indians at a spot now marked by a memorial at the foot of Eliot Memorial Road which leads off Kenrick street and adjoins the property of the Commonwealth Golf Club. It is in the valley between Nonantum and Waban hills.

This memorial, erected about a half-century ago, was never completed as originally intended and it might well receive proper attention either from the city or from private sources. Many persons visiting this section have visited the memorial in late years to be disappointed at its unimpressive appearance.

One of the activities in connection with the tercentenary observance of the settlement of Newton should be the completion of the Eliot Memorial to make it more impressive than it now is.

John Eliot had such success in converting the Nonantum Indians that, with the approval of the General Court, he organized them into a Christian village. The first civil law ever established in this country for the regulation of the aborigines was made for this settlement of Nonantum. Encouraged by the progress he made in converting the Indians here, Eliot had an Act passed by the Parliament of Great Britain in July 1649 authorizing the incorporation of a company to promote this good work. To finance the project collections were ordered in all the churches of England and Wales. Circular letters were published at the same time by the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge approving of the object. In 1651 the Christian Indians of Nonantum laid the foundations of a town on the banks of the Charles River at Natick and moved their settlement there.

Nearly three centuries have passed since Rev. John Eliot and Chief Waban met on the pleasant slope of Nonantum Hill. Nearly all of the surrounding country has changed completely in aspect, developed as it has been, but the scene of the historic meeting still presents a vista of verdant fields, of rivulets and tiny ponds. At South Natick, also, where Waban and his tribe later lived, open country still prevails. The huge plane, "Nonantum", which will travel daily directly above the valley where the tribe of this name had its home, should do much to revive interest in Newton's early history.

"Nonantum" is getting to be a fashionable name. A generation ago in this burg it was looked upon with disfavor by persons in this city afflicted with superiority complex. About 40 years ago some persons residing on Nonantum street, disturbed that they might be considered as residing in the Nonantum section, had the name of this street changed to Charlesbank road. The street, the first to be built in this community by the early settlers, was known from the earliest days of this settlement as Nonantum road. It afforded means of travel along the banks of the Charles from the mother town of Newtowne, later known as Cambridge, to the grazing lands acquired on this side of the river. "Nonantum" in the Indian language means "place of rejoicing," or "meeting place of friends."

Our cherished illusions about "repeaters." The adolescent is evidently not a criminal by habit, but by accident and environment. Should we not do everything in our power to help him before he becomes an adult criminal?

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

The girls of the F. A. Day staged their annual Gym meet on Tuesday afternoon. In spite of the inclement weather the girls performed before an audience large enough to inspire their very best efforts. All the work was competitive with the seventh, eighth and ninth grades as contestants. The order of events in which each of the three classes entered, was as follows: I Entrance march and floor drill, won by the eighth grade; II Apparatus work, won by the ninth grade; III Stunts, won by the eighth grade; IV Games, won by the ninth grade. There were also dancing and a tumbling exhibition by members of the Girls' Gym Club.

At the close of the meet the girls expressed their appreciation of their leader, Miss Marian Maxim by presenting her with a beautiful bouquet of spring flowers. After the scores of the three classes were added for the finals it was announced that the ninth grade won the meet, with a total of 76.3 points. The eighth grade won second place with 67.1 points while the seventh grade captured 51.5 points.

During assembly this week the final prize speaking contest was held. The seven speakers, all winners in previous contests, spoke remarkably well and those who listened agreed that the role of judge was the hardest to play. The program which opened with a very fine piano solo by Eliza Hunter, was as follows:

1. The Revenge of Rain in the Face, Leslie Barton.
2. Touissant L'Ouverture, Rita O'Halloran.
3. Columbus, Erna Reurs.
4. The Bridge O' Tay, Barbara Midram.
5. Fishin', Miriam Swale.
6. The Song My Paddle Sings, Margaret Davy.
7. Homes, Barbara Phinney.

While the judges were endeavoring to select the winners, Edward Campbell and Charles Koche entertained with several popular songs for piano and violin. Finally it was decided that the little silver loving cup went to Margaret Davy while the second prize was awarded to Leslie Barton, who, by an eighth grade student, won the same honor last year. It is hoped that the students who took part in these contests received permanent value from the experience, and that many more will be given a similar opportunity.

School closes on April 18th for the spring vacation and re-opens April 29th. It is sincerely hoped that Mr. Carr, who has been absent so long, will be able to return to us after vacation.

LEVI WARREN JR. HIGH

At this week's assembly we are going to have an April 19th play given by members of the eighth grade under the direction of Mrs. Mooney. All during this week we expect to have visitors from many different schools. On Monday teachers from the State Normal School were with us. On Tuesday we had guests from several different places.

Last week the girls signed up for various spring activities, namely: Baseball, tennis and kick ball. They are now practicing for the Gym meet which is to take place on May 3rd.

The 7th Grade Spelling Bee pupils were from the Washington Irving H. S. of Roslindale and the Levi F. Warren Jr. H. S. of West Newton. Anne Campbell from the Levi F. Warren Jr. H. S. was the winner, Norman Henley second, and Arthur Robbins was third.

Dario Linscott, Robert Patterson and Stuart De Bard were the representatives from Warren to the Roberts Junior High School, Medford. They were shown around the building by an eighth grade student and watched a Junior Red Cross assembly in the wonderful auditorium. Our representatives were given facts concerning their organization and saw a display of articles carved from the wood-work of the Constitution, by Milton Fuller Roberts, a veteran of the Civil, Spanish, and World Wars. They ate lunch at the school, and Mr. Weston, the principal, gave them samples of the printing, Doris, Bob and Stuart enjoyed themselves immensely, and appreciated the opportunity given them to visit the school.

Washington in 1800

The seat of government of the United States was permanently decided in the city of Washington in 1800. The place was then almost a wilderness, but finally the Capitol, White House, Smithsonian Institution and other buildings were completed, and the city became the wonder place it is to-day.

The burden of innumerable details that is ordinarily borne by members of the family is assumed by the members of our staff who are skilled in looking after the necessary arrangements.

POLICE NEWS

In the Newton court on Tuesday Tony Lupo, 18, of 108 West street, Nonantum, was found guilty of receiving stolen property. He was ordered to pay $25 to make restitution for the articles stolen and was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail. Domenico Civatta, 20, of 236 Nevada street, Newtonville, charged with larceny, had his case continued until April 17. The pair were arrested Monday night by Serg. Mahoney and Patrolmen Kelly and Murphy. Civatta was charged with stealing and Lupo with receiving automobile parts stolen from 144 Linwood avenue, Newtonville.

One house at Chestnut Hill was entered and ransacked and efforts were made to enter two others according to complaints received by the police Monday evening. The house entered was that of H. D. Olson at 42 Crosby road. Many articles of value were taken. The theft was discovered when the family returned home Monday evening.

John Anzino of 65 Columbia avenue, Upper Falls, was in the Newton court Monday charged with driving an automobile after his license has been suspended, and with refusing to stop when ordered to do so by an officer. His case was continued to April 23.

Frederick V. Larkin of 1766 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, was found guilty in the district court on Wednesday morning on three charges resulting from an accident in which he figured on the night of April 8 when his machine struck and overturned another car on Commonwealth avenue, near Windemere road. This was his second conviction on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. The other two charges were drunkenness and going away from the scene of an accident without making himself known after causing damage to property. The case was continued until May 15 for disposition.

An inquest was held on Wednesday in the district court on the death of Robert H. Dilworth, fourteen years old, of 536 Walnut street, Newtonville, which occurred on March 14. Judge Weston reserved his finding after the hearing. William Kinraide was a witness at the inquest and gave his version of the shooting which he said was accidental. Medical Examiner West also a witness, declared the shooting to be accidental.

Four men displaying badges and representing themselves to be revenue officers gained entrance to the house at 501 Dudley road, Newton Centre, on Tuesday. After informing the occupant of the house, Mrs. Mary J. Hubley, of their intention to investigate the premises, one of the men waited in the automobile while the other three searched the house, and afterwards sped away in the machine which bore Connecticut number plates. After their departure Mrs. Hubley tried to phone police headquarters and found that the wires had been cut. She then telephoned headquarters from the home of a neighbor and the Newton police at once started an investigation. The headquarters of the Federal agents in Boston said that none of their agents had been assigned to search the house.

ALDERMEN MEET

set-back line on a small house lot at 6 East Boulevard road, Newton Centre. This petition, if granted, would allow all houses which may be built on this street to be placed within a few feet of the street line.

Alderman Grebenstein argued that the granting of the permit for the tank has absolutely no bearing on Larkin's violation of the zoning law. The latter is a matter for the police to enforce and the permit should be granted so that the petitioner may have the right to purchase gasoline in larger quantities. He should get the permit as have others in residential sections of the city. Alderman Powers asked Mr. Grebenstein, "Do you condone violations of the zoning ordinance?" The Ward 2 alderman replied in the negative and reiterated his contention that the petition has no bearing on the violation of the zoning. Alderman Powers answered that the petition has a distinct bearing. Larkin has had a large sign in his yard advertising his business. Persons desiring to conduct small business activities have been denied permits to do so in residence zones. The Board of Aldermen has been accused of discriminating. The zoning law should be enforced impartially. He asked the advocates of the granting of the petition why they had not displayed similar sympathy when permits had been refused to women who endeavored to start intelligence offices in residence zones? Alderman Temperly asserted that Larkin is violating the zoning ordinance and that the 125 gallon tank on his premises ought to be large enough for his requirements. The report of the committee was sustained and the petition refused.

President Weeks expressed his thanks and that of his mother, Mrs. Larkin, to the Board voted to change the name of the West Newton playground to "John W. Weeks Playground." This change was recommended by Mayor Childs in his inaugural address.

Alderman Grebenstein reporting for the Traffic Committee recommended that parking in the parking area on Washington street at Newton, near Thornton street, be limited to 30 minutes between 6 a. m. and 9:30 a. m. This is to prevent persons commuting to Boston by the B. & A. railroad from using the area for all day parking purposes and thus depriving persons doing business at Newton Corner from being able to park cars there. The Traffic Committee also recommended that Washington street be made a through way. These recommendations were adopted and Washington street will soon have signs at the corners of intersecting streets which will instruct all motorists to bring their cars to a complete stop before entering, or crossing Washington street. This system will, within a few months be extended to Beacon street and Commonwealth avenue. It will be enforced and motorists ignoring the signs will be hailed into court.

Appropriations passed by the Aldermen included—$10,000 for taking land at Cypress street from the Newton Theological Institution for a playground, $3000 to engage the services of Prof. Henry K. Rowe of Newton Highlands to write a history of Newton dating from the years covered by the history written by the late Rev. E. P. Smith, for construction of sewers in Dartmouth street, $2125; Chestnut street, 3087; Commonwealth avenue, $5126; drains on Fuller street, $4413; on Derby street, $4308; to pay deficit bills of Water Department, $12,605; changing grade of Clark street, $4819; clerical assistance City Clerk's office, $100. A street improvement bond issue of $50,000 and a sewer bond issue of $80,000 were authorized.

COUNTY OFFICIALS DEMAND ENFORCEMENT OF DOG LAW

The county commissioners of Middlesex County have communicated with town and city authorities in this county asking enforcement of the law relating to unlicensed dogs. Within two weeks State officials have communicated with municipal officials throughout the Commonwealth regarding this same matter. Chairman Wardwell of the Middlesex County Commissioners calls attention to the large sums of money which the county has been forced to pay because of damages done by stray and unlicensed dogs. He also calls attention to the large number of cases of rabies. In addition to demanding that all unlicensed dogs be rounded up as the law requires, the Commissioners ask that local officials enforce the law which compels all licensed dogs to wear collars bearing the license number on a plate or tag. There are many licensed dogs in this city whose owners allow them to run loose without complying with this law. Should any one of these dogs become afflicted with rabies and bite other animals or persons the absence of a collar or license number would hinder efforts to ascertain what other dogs had been exposed to contact with the afflicted canine.

NEWTONVILLE MAN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Anna May Peabody, a member of the Animal Welfare Association, will speak on "Children and Animals of Many Lands" Saturday afternoon at the Children's Museum of Boston at 3.00, and will show pictures of children and animals taken in Europe, as well as in the United States. Motion pictures showing the characteristics and uses of some of our cut-throat animal friends will be included in the program. Anyone who does not know how or why a cow chews her cud will find out by attending this talk, as well as a variety of other interesting facts. Saturday morning, at 10.45, Miss Marjorie Forbes, will tell the story of "Zephyrus and Apollo" or the tale of the hyacinth, which is a symbol of sadness, and yet among the most welcome of our spring visitors.

The young bird group at the Museum are hoping for a sunny morning for Saturday, when the third bird walk of the season will take place. Young and old are welcome on these delightful explorations of Birdland. Rubbers add to the comfort of the trip, and bird glasses add to the enjoyment.

"Our Hobbies," the natural history magazine group, is holding a candy and cake sale on Saturday from ten to five at Morgan's Creamery, 654 Center Street, Jamaica Plain, for the benefit of the magazine treasury. Butterflies and moths, representing all countries, and with story labels that tell in simple untechnical language the outstanding characteristics of each specimen, where and when it may be found, are on exhibition. Those who do not know the difference between a butterfly and a moth, or some of the highly interesting facts about both, can gain the good deal of knowledge by simply reading these entertaining story labels.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. John McDaid of the Dennison Mfg. Co. was the speaker at the Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. McDaid is an expert on the matter of crepe paper. He said that crepe paper was the result of an accident at a paper factory in England and was later introduced to this country. The Dennison Co. took the matter up in 1914 and has done a steadily increasing business since that time. The company last year manufactured enough paper to span the whole earth three and a half times. Mr. McDaid showed the many possibilities of the use of crepe paper, forming rosettes, boxes, and many other beautiful things. His motto he said was "Treat it rough," and he certainly obtained splendid results with that method.

Dr. Edward Mellus, Dr. C. D. Ansley, Dr. Fred M. Lowe, Andrew J. Ford, Horace Orr, A. W. Osgood and President Ellis were nominated for directors.

Rev. Dr. Ellis and Frank J. Perry were elected delegates and Dr. C. W. Clark and J. C. Brimblecom, alternates, to the spring convocation to be held at Cambridge next month.

THE RECORD BREAKING NEW NASH "400"

"400" Standard Six 4-Door Sedan

DELIVERED FULLY EQUIPPED

Ask the Salesman this Question:

EVERY prospective motor car purchaser should ask every salesman he talks to, this question: "What is the price of this car, delivered to me, fully equipped with all the equipment?"

You should also ask what the difference is between the factory (f. o. b.) price and the delivered price—and then ask what that difference buys.

Heretofore it has been customary for factory prices to cover only the bare car. This permits the dealer to sell you your bumpers and the other accessories, at retail prices.

Nash, in introducing the new "400"

Series, pioneered a new practice, by installing this extra equipment at the factory, at no extra cost to you.

When you ask the suggested question you'll find most salesmen (not Nash salesmen) reluctant to answer. They would rather not say how much more there is to pay, or what the extra money buys.

And you'll also find that by reason of the Nash policy, Nash "400" delivered, fully-equipped prices are much lower than those of many other cars with the same factory (f. o. b.) prices, and lower than some cars with even lower factory (f. o. b.) prices.

10 Sedans from $973 to $2331, delivered. 8 Coupes, Cabriolets, Victorias from $973 to $1973 delivered

On April 8 a car driven by Amidon was in collision at Margin and Putnam streets, West Newton, with a car driven by Russell Brackett of Fayette street, Watertown. Brackett testified that Amidon refused to reveal his identity, saying, "You have my registration number. That's enough." The judge, not guilty on the charge of failing to make himself known. With the boy was his father, Scidio Farino, and the police charged that both the youngster and his dad were drunk. Both were arrested and charged with drunkenness and with driving while under the influence of liquor. The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather continued his reading and discussion of the modern epic poem, "John Brown's Body," at the regular weekly meeting last Sunday morning of the Mather Class at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

Prof. Mather selected certain little fragments from the poem, in order to present some clear cut pictures of the more vividly important events.

First he read about the fall of Fort Sumter.

Then came a highly dramatic recital of a typical instance of the boys in blue leaving home for the front. The pathos and the heartache, as well as the awful agony of it all, were faithfully shown.

Another bit of the poem told about the situation in the South, with their dwindling resources, their heroic faith in their leaders, and their determination to fight on to the end.

Then came a sketch of the situation in Washington. It was hot and uncomfortable. Critics everywhere were telling Lincoln what was God's will. Everybody was quite sure he knew what God's will was, but it seemed as though nobody ever thought of considering the possibility of the revelation of God's will direct to Lincoln himself, who, of all people in the world, surely wanted to know God's will as much as, if not more than anyone else.

This passage goes on to say a great deal about Lincoln's religious ideas and his relationship to the Divine Author of all things. It gives an intimate picture of the man, and shows not merely the beautiful and the emotional strains and stresses of that time but also what very reasonably appeals to the reader as the probable actuality.

Prof. Mather wound up his reading with Lincoln waiting for news of Antietam. So many times the Union army had attempted something, but had been unable to finish it. Here was an opportunity to gain a victory, and it was particularly important that the enemy should not escape, for that would nullify much of the value of the victory.

In commenting on what he had read, Prof. Mather said that he had selected only a few passages here and there.

In between what he read there are many gems of descriptive and analytical verse. The whole poem rings true. It gives a wonderful analysis of Lincoln and follows the working of his mind.

Prof. Mather said that there were two reasons why he was laying so much stress on this book, to the exclusion of a multitude of others, and taking so much time to give the class a thorough understanding of the inner meaning and motive of it all. These reasons are as follows:

1. The sense of reality in the poem. 2. The idea of the relationship to God as it exists in the Civil War and is portrayed in the poem.

He elaborated both points. On the first one, we find a vivid sense of reality permeating every part of the poem. We often lose all sense of reality when we read ordinary histories of the past. We read that armies met and fought and thousands were killed, and other thousands wounded. Generals exchanged swords and diplomats signed treaties. We get no sense of reality from all this. Those men do not seem like men to us as ourselves. We find it difficult to profit by the history of past experience because of the human beings like ourselves. In our Biblical and non-Biblical reading we shall do well to make a definite and positive effort to get this sense of reality which so easily eludes us. In this poem the author has picked a few characters and then selected some moments of their lives which were of far-reaching importance. These high lights he has then proceeded to dramatize with proper emotional effect.

On the second point, the idea of the relationship to God, Prof. Mather said that this poem had done a real service in bringing out the fact that relationship to God was so clear an element in Civil War times. It was not so vivid in the World War. From Lincoln right down through the army, men strove sincerely, honestly, and in a very real sense to discover and do the will of God. John Brown started it. He was crazed with religious zeal. He was quickened with such a spiritual burning flame that he set fire to this whole land of ours. Religious zeal ran all over the country. The idea is well caught and portrayed in the poem.

Lincoln knew his own weakness and his own strength and grimly determined to keep on till the job was done. Though beaten at first, he would not be finished. Final victory alone counted. He was in close contact with God. He felt he had come to know Him. All this is sympathetically and delicately depicted as the poem moves on its way.

There is no picture of Jefferson Davis, but there is a fine picture of General Lee, the able general, whose loyalty to an ideal inspired men and drew them to him.

The author does not contrast the fine points of one side with the dull points of the other side. He picks out the high points of both sides and paints a fair picture. He does not minimize the fact that the South was victorious for two years and the Union shaken. Eventually, due to the blood shed, the South was rather completely drained of its resources.

A question was raised during the discussion whether the social side of Southern life had not been overemphasized at the expense of the serious side.

The Class Party will be held Thursday, April 25, at the Newton Centre Baptist Church. Each lady will bring a box lunch sufficient for two.

There will be one more Sunday evening Round Table this season. It will be held in May. Announcement of the date and place will be made later.

The final climax will be the annual Class dinner May 15. Further announcement will be made regarding the dinner.

COMING EVENTS

Monday Club

Monday, April 22nd, is to be a most delightful day for members of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands. In celebration of their Annual Meeting they will motor, as the guests of fellow members who have cars to Cedar Hill Mansion House, at Waltham, the beautiful headquarters of the Girl Scouts, where they will have luncheon at 1 o'clock. This will be followed by annual reports and election of officers, and then there will be a program under the direction of Mrs. J. G. Birch, chairman of program for the day. The combination of sociability, entertainment and the usual festivities of annual election will make a most enjoyable occasion.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

"Arts and Crafts of India" is to be the fascinating subject of a paper to be given by Miss Marion B. Morse for the entertainment of her fellow members of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands on Monday afternoon, the 22nd, at 2:30 o'clock. The handwork and talent of these people of the east who are so different in customs and viewpoint have a charm because of that difference that adds to the beauty and loveliness of their products. This is the fourth in the series of topics connected with this country that the Club has been enjoying since the first of March. The hostess for the meeting is Miss Anna S. Thompson of 63 Hartford street.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Avah S. Jordan, of 228 Highland avenue, West Newton, will entertain the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Monday afternoon, April 22nd, with Mrs. William A. Richardson as joint hostess.

Two papers will be read at this meeting: "The Danube and the Volga Rivers," by Mrs. Justin D. Starkie, and "The Hudson Bay Rivers," by Mrs. Ella Mason.

The Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held at the Commonwealth Country Club, on Friday, April 26th. The meeting will be open at 11:30, with the reading of reports, and luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

The program for the afternoon session will be a reading "Distinguished Service," by Adele Hoos Lee, and piano selections by Lewis Huntington. Mrs. D. Earl Brackett is Chairman of this meeting.

State Federation

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CONFERENCE. The Department of International Relations, Mrs. Charles E. French, chairman, will hold an informal Conference at Headquarters, 687 Bolyston street, Boston, on Tuesday, April 23rd, at 2 o'clock, where they will be glad to meet any Clubwomen interested in the subject "International Relations" that has become such a vital one in the past few years with its serious study and intent of solution of world problems.

RADIO. Mrs. Walter A. Hall, Ninth District director, is to give an air message from WNAC on "Our Community Accomplishments" next Wednesday morning, April 24th, at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Mina G. del Castillo, General Federation chairman of Music will furnish, at 11:40, a twenty-minute interval of piano interpretations.

BIENNIAL COUNCIL. Clubwomen all over the State are busy with preparations for next month's great event, the meeting of the Biennial Council, at Swampscott, May 27th to June 1st. Clubs of the Seventh District, Mrs. Bert S. Currier, director, are to provide unique souvenir badges for the visitors; the Second District, of which Mrs. George Gonley is director, is making a money gift for flowers to supplement the flowers from their gardens which the Garden Clubs of the Federation will furnish every day for the platform. Mrs. Charles R. Tuckett, of Somerville, is chairman of flower service. Clubs in Quincy, Plymouth, and Concord will take part in the Masque written by Mrs. Walter E. Thompson, of Holyoke, which is to be given at the State dinner on the opening night, May 27th. The Conservation Department, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, chairman, will decorate the platform for this.

At the tea for the officers of the General Federation and visiting delegates at Hotel Statler on "Play Day," each Club of the Sixth District will be represented on the committees in charge, by its president and vice-president, and the musical program will be given by the Music Clubs of the district under the direction of Mrs. Mina G. del Castillo. General Federation chairman of music, Massachusetts Clubwomen may attend this tea by sending check for $1.10 and self-addressed envelope for ticket to Mrs. Fred Kinney, chairman of the ticket committee, 17 Eliot street, Jamaica Plain, not later than May 10th.

A General Federation night at the Pop Conkey of June 1st has been arranged for Clubwomen staying over Sunday. This may be enjoyed by Massachusetts women as well, and tickets may be reserved at the Annual Meeting of the State Federation, and at the Council Meeting, or by mail from Mrs. Mina G. del Castillo, 324 Franklin street, Cambridge. Mrs. John F. Slippy has already promised.

The Committee in charge include, Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. Amy M. Burns and Mrs. Castillo. In addition to the sight-seeing trips for Play Day, trips to nearby points of interest are being planned for Monday, May 27th, and for the late afternoon hours of Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday. Salem will welcome the visitors at the Salm Institute and the House of Seven Gables, and a drive to Nahant will include a tea given by the Lynn Clubs at their Club House.

Through its editor, Miss Alice F. Titus, greetings for the Council have been sent out 77 State Club organs by Federation Topics. The June issue will be a special General Federation number with extra pages, and a copy will be presented to every delegate. A special committee will assist Miss Titus in preparing this, consisting of Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, Mrs. Emory D. Leighton, Federation Historian, Miss A. Gwendolin Albee, former State Press chairman, Miss May F. Pillsbury of the Somerville Journal, Miss Helen M. Winslow, editor of the Register of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, and Mrs. Carl L. Schrader.

The Biennial Council official program will bear on its cover a picture of Massachusetts' most cherished shrine, the Old North Church of Boston, one of the most famous spots in the nation, for from its slender spire, gleamed across the Charles the light that warned a nation the time had come to strike for liberty and freedom.

In addition to the Massachusetts women who will serve as hostesses to the General Federation officers, department chairmen of committees, State presidents, past presidents of the General Federation, honorary vice-chairmen, and foreign delegates, the following honorary hostesses have been chosen: Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Mrs. Frank Gilman Allen, Hon. Edith Toulson Rogers, Hon. Anna C. M. Tillingshast, Hon. Esther N. Andrews, and the past presidents of the State Federation: Miss O. M. E. Rowe, of Boston; Mrs. George W. Perkins, of Worcester; Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, of Quincy; Mrs. Henry C. Mulligan, of Natick; Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, of Brockton; and Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, of Greenfield.

Sixteen Massachusetts Clubs, four of them in the Sixth District, have recently joined the General Federation because of the coming Council meeting, and the forceful arguments of Mrs. Glazier Smith, General Federation chairman of membership, and Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, General Federation director.

ANNUAL MEETING. Although the Council Meeting is holding the center of the stage just at present, the Annual Meeting of the State Federation, May 15th to 17th, must not be forgotten. This year several new features will be introduced. In place of the reports usually given by the Department chairmen, there will be five-minute talks on methods of work and plans for the future. The afternoon session on Thursday, May 16th, will close with a Round Table discussion for all Departments at 3:30 to 4:30. This, it is hoped, will fill a need long felt by chairmen and Clubwomen for more time at this meeting for discussion of Club problems.

charge of a program to which it cordially invites all Newton Clubwomen. The committee announces a real treat in the opportunity to hear Mrs. Elsie K. Chamberlain, Home Decorating editor of the Boston Herald, speak upon the subject "Art in Everyday Life." She is bringing materials to illustrate her talk, an added feature for pleasure and information. Mrs. Chamberlain is Art chairman of the State Federation, and director of the Chamberlain School of Every-day Art on Boylston street, Boston. She is a frequent lecturer for the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, and is expert at combining artistic ideas with practicality.

At Home

The day's work is done. The evening meal is over. The members of the family gather round to relax, and enjoy a social hour before evening engagements call them away.

Could there be a better time for visiting by telephone, with greater assurance that those upon whom you call will be "at home?"

And, if any further persuasion be needed, there are the low evening rates which apply from 7:00 to 8:30 each night. For example:

From NEWTON to

Amesbury, Mass.	$.35	Middleboro, Mass.	$.35
Ayer, Mass.	$.25	Portsmouth, N. H.	$.40
Clinton, Mass.	$.30	Sanford, Maine	$.45
Cotuit, Mass.	$.40	Ware, Mass.	$.35
Dover, N. H.	$.40	Westerly, Rhode Island	$.45

Fitchburg, Mass.	$.35	Woonsocket, R. I.	$.30
Hudson, Mass.	$.20	Worcester, Mass.	$.30

These rates are for three-minute station-to-station calls. Particular person calls take full day rates.

These rates are made to decrease the cost of your evening calls at a time when you are most likely to find friends at home. Further reductions, of course, are possible on calls made between 8:30 P.M. and 4:30 A.M.

Friday afternoon, April 12th, at 2:30 p. m., Mrs. Joseph Otis, the president, presided, and after the necessary business was disposed of, the program was turned over to Mrs. William A. Richardson, chairman of the committee in charge of the afternoon. Mrs. Richardson first introduced Mrs. William Jones, who sang a group of songs in a very pleasing manner. Mrs. Richardson then introduced Mr. Harold O. Cook, chief forester for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and speaker of the afternoon.

Mr. Cook took for his subject, "Trees." He illustrated his lecture with lantern slides, which were very interesting, as well as instructive. They visualized the great havoc fire does to the forest, as well as other pests which destroy the trees and then how these forests are replanted, showing how the trees are started from seedlings and are transplanted in the forest after they have gotten a start in the nurseries. The speaker gave some interesting statistics on the amount of wood that is used in a year and mentioned a surprising number of ways this wood is utilized in everyday life, bringing home forcibly how necessary it is to preserve our forests for further use. In closing Mr. Cook reminded his audience of the danger of forest fires, and how easily they are started, and expressed the hope that he would be careful about throwing lighted matches or cigars, etc., from passing machines, and be sure to put out all camp fires before leaving the woods.

After Mr. Cook's address, Mrs. Hastings played the violin, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. H. D. Sharp. A reception to new members, followed by tea, closed a very enjoyable meeting.

Newton Community Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held on Thursday afternoon, April 11th, at the Underwood School Hall, with the president, Mrs. Harry W. Flitts, presiding. The great interest in this unusual afternoon was shown by the large audience, who were careful about throwing lighted matches or cigars, etc., from passing machines, and be sure to put out all camp fires before leaving the woods. The beauty of the flowers on entering the hall. This was afforded by the many and varied exhibits by members of the Club, the Conservation Committee having arranged a Flower Show. The response and enthusiasm of the members must have been most gratifying to the able chairman, Mrs. Philip L. Jamieson. Prizes were awarded in various classes according to distinction, color harmony, and perfection of arrangement, judged by three non members.

In Class A, Bean Pot Class, first prize went to Mrs. Clarence Allen, with honorable mention for Mrs. Ralph Hall. In Class B, Breakfast Arrangement, the prize was given to Mrs. Loveland. In Class C, first prize was awarded to Mrs. Edwin Smith and honorable mention to Mrs. Ralph Hall. In Class D, first prize went to Mrs. Edwin Smith, and honorable mention to Mrs. Jamieson.

Several announcements were read which appeared in the Club bulletin, following the regular business session, being followed by three pleasing vocal selections by Mrs. Wallace Wales, accompanied by Mrs. Ray A. Eusden at the piano.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Herbert W. Gleason, was then introduced by the president, Mrs. Flitts, and he took all present on an interesting journey to the beauty spots around Concord, touching especially on the familiar haunts of Henry I. Thoreau, the poet-naturalist. So many of the beautiful colored slides were familiar scenes, but new views showed the phenomena of nature and held the attention of all. It was a most cheerful and happy afternoon, and all felt that "The Wonderland of New England" was nearby. Mr. Gleason in closing told of his many trips across the continent, but always, of his happy retirement, and left with his hearers Rudyard Kipling's words, "East is East and West is West, But after all New England's the best."

Waban Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Waban Woman's Club began with an amusing one-act play, "The Committee Meeting," written by Mrs. Walter A. Hosley, a Club member, and given by Mrs. A. Cutter Perkins, Mrs. Edward Chase, Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. A. Derby Lawrence, Mrs. Robert Bushnell, Mrs. Roy A. McMullin and her son Robert. The play dealt with the trials of a committee chairman endeavoring to conduct a meeting, hampered by incessant telephone calls, the demands of a sick child, and a committee that could not agree. There were some local hits much enjoyed by the audience.

The business meeting followed immediately and was conducted with great smoothness and efficiency. The reports were excellent and kept well within the five minutes allotted to each chairman. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. George E. Rest; first vice-president, Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller; second vice-president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker; recording secretary, Mrs. John T. Craghan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Carl H. Gove; treasurer, Mrs. James D. Dow; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Charles W. Brooks; new director, Mrs. Oliver A. Lothrop; and members of the nominating committee: Mrs. Roy E. Argersinger, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, Mrs. Walter A. Hosley, and Mrs. Gifford LeClear.

After the meeting a delicious tea of salad rolls, coffee, nuts, and candy was served by the Social Committee, Mrs. Frank W. Swenson, chairman. This has been a very successful and prosperous Club year. There are now 400 members and a waiting list of 50 for the Waban Club.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Well, well! Here's a bit of Old Newton that will interest the readers of this column. Thanks to Sydney L. Chant I am the possessor of a publication of 12 pages (10 inches by 8) called, "The Newton Fete Champetre" which, I find, was "a glorious philanthropic festival in aid of two noble charities, 'The Country Week' and 'The Fresh Air Fund', held Wednesday, June 15, 1887, on the estates of J. Howard Nichols and E. C. Fitch on Sargent street, Newton."

The pamphlet is a bit faded and torn. Mr. Chant came across it in an old building in West Newton, he tells me. But its contents are worth reading and I am sure all Newton people will share my enjoyment of them. One of the items has certainly a historic significance. Under the caption "Electric Lights" one finds the following: "A novel feature of the evening will be the use of electric lights for illuminating the groves. It is the first use of the electric light in this city for any such purpose." And, remember, that was in the Summer of 1887 just about forty-two years ago. I hope my friend Louis D. Gibbs of the Edison Company makes a note of it and will include it in his "Friendly Glow" history.

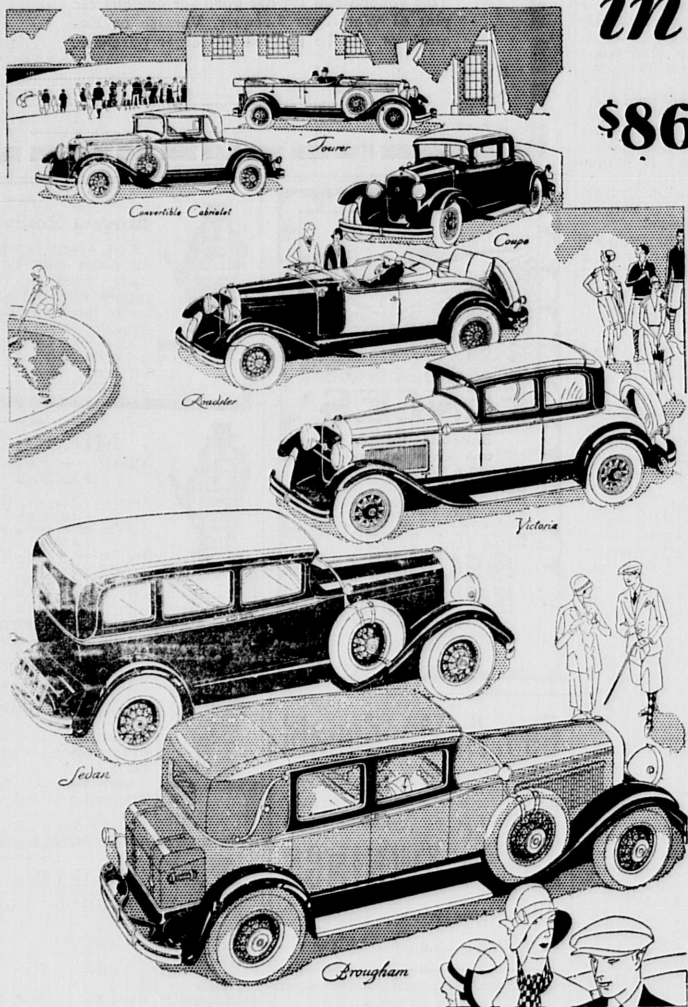

Now another bit that proves how times have changed. Here is the heading, "Accommodations for Horses and Vehicles." Under it is found the following: "Those who wish to drive to the Fete Champetre will not find the usual annoyance in the care of teams, as ample hitching places, in charge of competent hostlers, will be provided for all who come from afar and from near. The crowding of the street and driveways will be avoided as much as it is possible by systematic management. The charge for carriage stand will be 25 cents." There you have the parking problem solved, although they never had heard of the word "parking" in those days. Foot-travelers to Skinner Hill, which is the old name for Sargent street, were not forgotten. Here is the way in which they were provided for: "Barges from the horse-cars. Barges will be run to and from all the horse-cars from Watertown, Cambridge and Boston. The fare is 10 cents. The barges start not from the cars but from Elliot Block, nearby."

QUALITY AT LOW COST

cluding many of the most delightful of recent novels, which will be just the things to take away on your Summer outing at Mount Desert or the White Mountains. Among these we must call your attention to Mr. Byrner's story of the old Province days in Massachusetts, entitled, "Agnes Surage", which has won such high encomiums from Francis Parkman, T. B. Aldrich and other eminent critics, as a vivid accurate and fascinating romance beginning for our noble coast what Sir Walter Scott accomplished for his own dear land.

"Another notable novel is 'Two Gentlemen of Boston', a brilliant new society story of our alry sister-city. Fancy that! Boston characterized as 'airy'."

I think it worthy of more than passing notice to read what the program of outdoor sports included. Some of them, I confess, are new to me. Here they are, "Grimmetts, Jumbo, shooting, tennis, Badminton, croquet, quoits, to amuse young and old." And also, the following: "Punch and Judy will welcome their friends." "Fortune Teller will be present from parts unknown." "Rebecca at the Well invites you to drink long and deep." "Japanese tea house in true Oriental style." "Fancy tables where each may suit their fancy." "Flower bowers with great displays of flowers that bloom in the Spring." "Art Gallery with gems of old and young masters" and "Candy booths with toothsome tidbits and delicious confections."

And note this, "A substantial supper at fifty cents" and "Strawberries, ice cream and cake at twenty-five cents."

"The tickets of admission to the whole grounds are 25 cents each for adults and 15 cents each for children."

I am about to keep a promise. Readers of this column will recall that it has in the past contained some sharp references to the distribution of the mails. However, criticism was made only when it was felt that there was justification for it. And who will deny there hasn't been times when the service has been far from satisfactory and much worse than that even.

As to my pledge, it was intended that should the occasion arise to say a good word, such praise would not be withheld. Such an opportunity is now here and let it be said that: I am pleased to add my modest bit of gratitude. Here was the situation. Last Summer some of those busy young men, who claimed to be working their way through college, induced a friend of mine to enter a three years' subscription for a well known monthly magazine. It came for three or four months then suddenly ceased. The magazine was still published and prosperous and there was no reason why there should be any interruption. A letter to the publisher brought no response.

After a time the case was laid before Supt. John M. Fitzgerald of the Newton Corner office. This official was not only obliging but expressed an interest in the matter. He promised to give it his personal attention. And he did, and promptly, too. The result was that the magazine is now coming regularly and in tip-top condition, thanks to Mr. Fitzgerald's intervention.

As long as I can find something commendable to print about the post-office and its officials I shall see that it is given space in this column quite as promptly as any complaint, and I herewith extend the readers opportunity to do the same.

Apparently there are those who believe that pedestrians are so few that the sidewalks are no longer needed for their use. The latest proposal is that children under 16 years of age be permitted to ride bicycles on the sidewalk. Yes, that is true—right here in Newton the idea is offered, with the hope that it will be favorably considered by the powers that be.

What is going to happen if the city ordinance is so amended? And why the age limit at 16? If the thing is to be permitted I would rather take my chance with somebody over 16. The older the rider the more discretion he is likely to display. He might, under stress of natural politeness actually turn off into the gutter to give a poor old man or woman a chance. Not so with the youngsters, bless them. They don't mean to be reckless and endanger the lives of their elders but they don't stop to think and keep plunging right ahead regardless.

Now if we must have bicycle riding on the sidewalk let us have traffic rules until such a time as pedestrians can equip themselves with some form of apparatus that will keep them moving through the air and clear of the street and sidewalks. I am not prepared to say whether they will have to have individual airplanes or some kind of jumping boots that will lift them up at stated intervals and permit them to hop and fly down town.

If the youngsters are given the right to ride on sidewalks we must have traffic regulations. Each bicycle should have a horn and lights and each should be licensed and registered. The pedestrians should be permitted to use the curbing whether it be of granite or grass. People should stick to the right hand curbing and those who desire to retrace their steps should be required to cross the street in order they should be at the right. This would prevent any collision of pedestrians and insure bicycle riders of a free sidewalk.

I think, however, that if the bicyclists are thus favored the automobilists will want more privileges. At best the outlook is indeed gloomy for foot traffic and the best thing pedestrians can do is to stay at home.

Patriots' Day is at hand. Now then how shall it be celebrated? In view of the fact that Newton has planned no municipal observance I assume it will be a matter of individual choice. In other words, if you have the day off you may do as you please and if you cannot do that, but must consult somebody's wishes then you will do as somebody else pleases.

I know that there will be a goodly number of Newton people who will head for Commonwealth Avenue to see the Marathon racers. This is one of the biggest free shows that is provided, and although it comes at a time that upsets one's dinner plans a bit it is usually well-patronized. It is one of those attractions that delights both young and old and middle-aged. Men and boys are the most keenly interested but you can't leave the girls out for they like to see what is going on.

This year the holiday has a place in the calendar which permits one possessed of rare luck to work it in as a part of the week-end and gather a vacation of three days. That, however, is the privilege of the few. The majority receive it as a "day off."

Now that the trout season is open I suppose fishermen of the professional as well as the amateur class will show their patriotism by hanging over the trout streams. Other patriots will go for a long automobile ride if the weather is favorable and for a short one if it is not.

I know that another band of patriots will find many things to do around the house, or that such things will be found for them. It is, after all, a pretty good way to show one's citizenship and get a lot of exercise. If the place needs going over with a rake that will be a healthful experience but if there is rain why other chores will be provided.

And so it goes. Some will work almost as hard as the Minute Men who showed their mettle to the British at Concord and Lexington. Others will take it easy. The significance of the day may occur to some and it may not. But we shall see the flag of our country displayed and that will remind us that we may be good patriots today as were our ancestors even if there be no fighting required of us.

Whiting Talks On New England Industry

Sec. of Commerce Under Coolidge at C. of C. Meeting

Hon. William F. Whiting of Holyoke, who took President Hoover's portfolio in the Coolidge Cabinet as Secretary of Commerce, was the speaker at the annual meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce at the Brae Burn Club on April 24. Mr. Whiting's family for generations has owned one of the largest plants in this country for the manufacture of fine paper and he has been prominent for many years in industrial and civic affairs of this region.

He prefaced his remarks by stating that never in the history of New England's life have greater changes occurred than during the past few years. New standards are being determined and we should look with concern on the ebb and flow of thought which determines the social order. Mr. Whiting is optimistic concerning New England's future and pointed out that its business men will emulate the industry, initiative and unified effort displayed by those rugged pioneers who settled this section and whose descendants spread over most of the United States to build this great country.

Asking, "What does the future hold in store for New England?" Mr. Whiting referred the tremendous falling off in the textile industry here, largely accounted for the great increase in imported textiles from Europe. He asserted that transportation is the backbone of New England's economic life. No section of the country is so dependent on industry as this. Therefore, efficient, low-cost transportation is necessary. While greatly improved efficiency has been achieved in manufacturing methods here, problems of distribution have not been so well solved. Many improvements in distributing and packing methods have been made with the assistance of the American Railway Association which enable New England manufacturers and business men to carry much smaller stocks of material and merchandise than of yore. The Department of Commerce is also rendering valuable aid in this respect.

Mr. Whiting spoke of the efforts of the War Department in developing inland water ways which will afford more and cheaper transportation facilities. He believes that the proposed St. Lawrence waterway would be of tremendous advantage in giving New England cheaper freight rates to the great markets of the interior sections of this country. Lower transportation costs are required if New England is to successfully compete with industries which have grown up during recent years in other sections of the United States. He contends that transportation charges and tariff charges are comparable and that in determining tariff rates the difference in overhead costs between domestic and foreign manufacturers must be considered. He advised New England manufacturers to use unified effort and to maintain intimate contact with the Federal agencies at Washington.

BATHHOUSE ARCHITECT SELECTED

On Wednesday Mayor Childs announced that he had appointed Herbert W. Colby of Newton Centre as architect for the bathhouse which will be erected at Crystal Lake. It is probable that this building will cost about $35,000 and it is hoped to have it completed before the end of this summer.

SLIGHT FIRE AT WEST NEWTON

Box 35 was sounded at 8:43 yesterday morning for a fire in the dwelling at 40 Lincoln park, West Newton, owned by the Lincoln Park Baptist Church and occupied by William C. Worth. The blaze started in a clothes closet and spread to an adjoining chamber.

Thefts Of Mail Bags Puzzle Officers

Three Sacks Fail to Reach South Station Office

The information was made public Wednesday through the medium of Boston newspapers that three mail pouches from the Watertown post-office were stolen in transit, supposedly between Newton and Boston on April 11, 13 and 15. According to the Boston papers, one of the pouches contained $1200 in money and $200 in checks. It also contained 16 registered letters with valuable matter. It is estimated that each of the stolen pouches contained about 2000 letters. The pouches were brought from the Watertown post-office to the Newton railroad station by Thomas Menard of Newton who is employed by Paul Considine, contractor for carrying the mail between Watertown and Newton. Menard delivered each of the missing pouches to railroad employees at the Newton station and the latter placed them aboard Boston bound trains. Chief Postal Inspector Colvin, assisted by Inspectors Hunt and Sullivan are working on the case. The thefts were not discovered until April 16th, when the registered mail pouch, despatched the day before, failed to be received in the South Postal Station. It was known that the first two pouches stolen had not arrived at the South Postal station, but as it is not an unusual occurrence to have a closed pouch sent on railway baggage cars, it was assumed that the first two pouches stolen might have gone astray.

APPOINTED BY PRES. HOOVER

Mr. Charles H. Ramsdell, a native and former resident of West Newton, Mass., has been lately appointed by President Hoover as a member of the Yellowstone Park Boundary Commission. This Commission is to examine and report to the President its recommendations concerning the adjustments necessary to better fit the southeastern, southern, and southwestern boundaries of Yellowstone Park, this to the Rocky Mountains and the Continental Divide and other nearby ranges. The Bechler River Basin is also to be considered in its work this coming July and August. At this time, a three weeks pack train trip will be taken into the region, also known as The Jackson Hole Country, for study of the boundary conditions there.

The Commission includes Dr. E. E. Brownell of San Francisco; Dr. Arthur Morgan, President, Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio; Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson, New York City; Mr. C. H. Ramsdell, Landscape Architect, of Minneapolis; and Mr. Arthur Ringland, of the War Department, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Ramsdell received his early training and was associated for thirteen years with the eminent Cambridge Landscape Architect and regional planner, Mr. Warren H. Manning.

Mr. Ramsdell is a Trustee of the American Society of Landscape Architects for its Mississippi Valley Chapter, a member of the National Council of Parks, Forests and Wild Life, and also of the Superior Quetico Council which is working to safeguard Superior National Forest in conservation of its forest resources and also its recreational development, as a wilderness area for canoe trails and water trips in the lakes of Northern Minnesota and Western Ontario.

Local Garage Wins Silver Loving Cup

Mr. W. R. Aker, service superintendent of the Stuart Chevrolet Company, 433 Washington street, Newton, Mass., authorized sales and service station, was awarded the massive silver loving cup shown below for having the cleanest and neatest service station among all the Metropolitan Chevrolet dealers for the month of April.

The public are invited to come in and see for themselves, that contrary to general public opinion, a garage and service station can be operated on a clean and wholesome basis by efficient and courteous employees.

NO PREVALENCE OF BURGLARIES IN NEWTON

The story featured in a Boston paper alleging that the Brighton Hill section of Newton has been the scene of dozens of burglaries in recent week is indignantly denied by Inspector John Shaughnessy and other officials of the Newton police department. Inspector Shaughnessy states that only three burglaries have been reported in that district within the past three months and all of these occurred over three weeks ago. Instead of articles valued at over $1000 having been stolen, as reported in the Boston paper, the only article taken, according to Inspector Shaughnessy, was an old overcoat. At the fur repairing shop near Nonantum Square the big "loot" of the thief, or thieves, amounted to about $1.50 in cash. According to the Newton police neither a "Lone Wolf" or any other criminals has been burglarizing homes on Brighton Hill, or as it is otherwise known, Humewell Hill, during the past few months.

Packed Houses at Both Performances of Novelties

The annual Newton Club Novelties presented before two packed houses last week Wednesday and Thursday evenings was a big success, under the direction of the Newton Club Dramatic Corps. Started off at high speed by Martin Kingsland and his Newtonians, crack Newton High Synchopators, the momentum was kept up continually by the succeeding numbers. Kingsland at the piano, Sydney Carter on the banjo, Ralph Angier with the saxophone and James Kirkpatrick at the traps the Synchopators rendered four pleasing numbers.

The program continued with several selections by Miss Mary Joans Willard, mezzo soprano, and Mr. Walter N. Kilburn, pianist.

The Dramatic Corps presented "The Trysting Place" by Booth Tarkington by special permission of the copyright owners under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Sholley. The cast which included, Mrs. Arthur D. Quimby, Martin Kingsland, Mrs. James D. Elliott, Miss Naida Panin, Mr. Austin L. Baker, Jr., and Mr. Karl Kothe drew many a laugh from the enthusiastic audiences. Mr. Kothe carried the Tarkington humor with a rare sense of comedy.

Dr. Cecil W. L. Clark and Harold Billings had the house in uproars with their impersonations of the "Two Black Crows". Their original jokes upon members of the club were exceptionally appropriate.

The Newton Club Ensemble, with Elizabeth Hastings and Dr. Anton Fried on the violins, Mary H. Tower at the piano, John Stanley on the cello and Francis May Robey, soprano, rendered a pleasing musical program. Easily the outstanding hit of the evening was Mrs. Robey's beautiful rendition of Herbert's "Sweet Mystery of Life".

Bill Duffy, pro golfer at the Alhambra Club teamed up with Mrs. Sholley to keep the audience chuckling at their imitation of well-known Newton Club members playing golf and a travesty on one of Duffy's golf lessons.

The Newton Club Novelties brought the evening to a close in a highly successful manner with their uproarious "Bachelor Dinner", the highlights of which proved to be Ron Harry's rendering of "Carolina Moon" with a splendid quartet; Paul Robey's "House Upon a Hilltop"; Jack Stanley's inimitable characterization of "Don't Be Like That" and Bill Nutting's "Blue Grass" number. Roger Prout brought the house down with his fast-stepping Charleston as the "groom" (Frank Mendes) sang "What A Girl" to close the show in a riot of melody from the entire Bachelor party which included Frank Mendes, the groom; Ron Harry, best man; Paul Robey and Bill Nutting, ushers; Jack Stanley, a confirmed bachelor, and the groom's friends, Arthur D. Quimby, Howard W. Niven, Kenneth B. Hastings, James D. Elliott, Clement Hernandez, Edgar S. Burkhardt, Justin P. Mulvey, and Roger F. Prout.

The committee in charge included President Joseph P. Cryan, ex-officio; Frank E. Mendes, Jr., general director; Mrs. S. E. Sholley, director, "The Trysting Place"; Mrs. K. B. Hastings, director, "Club Ensemble"; Gabriel S. Heller, stage manager; Howard Niven business manager; Dr. Charles H. Veo, program; and Mrs. Frank E. Mendes and Mrs. Allen N. Salmon, refreshments, to whom much of the credit for the success of the Novelties is due. Dancing followed the performances.

EXAMINATION FOR CLERK AT CITY HALL

An examination will be held on May 10 by the Civil Service Commission to select a person to fill the position of clerk in the City Engineer's office at City Hall, West Newton. The salary will be $30 per week and the applicants are supposed to have a knowledge of reading and sketching plans and an acquaintance with laws relating to matters connected with the work of the office.

DOG BITES MAN

Ezra Romsey of Boyd avenue, Medford, complained to the police on Saturday that he had been bitten by a dog owned by W. R. Mattson of Brookdale road, Newtonville. The dog was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle notified to examine the canine.

To Send Crippled Scouts To Camp

Enjoyable Summer Assured By Local Service Clubs

The Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of Newton have voted the money for expenses for fees, equipment and transportation—50% each—to send the Scouts of the Tribe at the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children to the summer camp of Norumbega Council, located on Lake Wakebee, Mashpee, Cape Cod, so Frank A. Day, Chairman of the Council Committee on Camps and Camping reports. With the Tribe will go the Chief, James Cobb, who is taking a week from his summer to be with his Scouts during that period.

The camp is located on high ground, on the shores of a lake about five miles long, across which sweep the cooling breezes. The boys will live in tents, with wood floors and comfortable cots. The Home Superintendent, Mrs. Smith, has given her approval to the project and Mr. J. M. Woodbridge, Jr., vice-President of Norumbega Council, who is to be the Camp Director, is enthusiastic about having the boys there.

For a whole week these Scouts, with others from Newton and Cape Cod, will enjoy the life in a Scout summer camp, learning to live out-of-doors, to know campcraft and wood craft and to do nature work. Altogether it is certain that the six Scouts from the Home will have the time of their young lives and the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs may feel assured they have done a large bit to bring Heaven-on-earth very close to six crippled Scouts.

IMMUNIZATION

April 24, 1929.

The Editor of the Newton Graphic, Sir:—

The Board of Health proposes to offer immunization against diphtheria to the children in the Kindergarten and first grades. The process consists of three injections given in the upper arm at intervals of a week, and does not interfere with the school work, as it is not painful.

Parents are strongly urged to have their children immunized in order to protect them against diphtheria, and all they need to do is sign the consent slip which has already been given to the children to take home, and return it to the school immediately, as the immunizations begin on May 6th, and only those children who present consent slips signed by their parents will receive the treatment.

FRANCIS GEO. CURTIS, M.D.,
Chairman.

NEWTON SECOND IN HOME OWNERSHIP

The character of communities is in no way more clearly indicated than in the ownership of homes.

In a recent statement by the State Commission on the Necessaries of Life, using the figures from the last census, Melrose is given the highest percentage of home ownership in Massachusetts.

The five places of highest rank are Melrose 57.7%; Newton 52.3%; Methuen 52.1%; Woburn 49.7% and Northampton 49.5%.

Prof. A. E. Bailey To Address Convention

District Sunday School Association To Meet at Waltham

The Annual Convention of the Norumbega District Council of Religious Education (formerly the Norumbega District Sunday School Association) will be held on Tuesday, April 30, at the First Baptist Church in Waltham. The main feature of this event will be an address by Professor Albert E. Bailey of Newton Centre, on the topic "How We Got Our Bible". This will be full of human interest and illustrated with lantern slides.

Supper will be served at 6:30 p. m., tickets for which are now in the hands of church school superintendents. After the supper will come a brief business period, at which time officers for the coming year will be elected. A Recognition Service in honor of those who have obtained credit during the past season in the Norumbega District School of Religious Education will be a part of the program. About 105 credits have been earned by 35 different persons. Of these thirty-five, 23 were from Newton, 8 from Waltham, 2 from Belmont and 2 from Needham.

These credits are issued from the International Council of Religious Education, the Norumbega School being accredited by that organization and thus entitled to the credits. To earn one credit, a student must attend at least nine of the ten periods in a given course, and do the assigned work. Rev. C. L. Seasholes, of Watertown, chairman of the School committee will present the credits.

PROF. ALBERT E. BAILEY

Mr. Everett A. Greene, president, will preside at the meeting. The nominating committee to report on new officers and committees is as follows: Prof. W. H. Timble of Newton, chairman, Adolph C. THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

WIN TWO TO TIE
AT TOP OF LEAGUE

By pounding two Cambridge Latin pitchers for nine hits including two home runs for eleven runs against two for the Cantabs last Friday and edging Everett 4 to 2 on Wednesday the Newton high team went into a top tie in the Suburban league standing with Rindge Technical schools, also winner in its two contests, and Somerville High with one victory in its only league game to date. Rindge Tech put on a ninth inning rally of four runs to tie the Everett and in the twelfth pushed over the winning run on the holiday for its first victory. Its second came at the expense of its rival Cambridge Latin, on Wednesday when Rindge slammed two Cantab pitchers all over the lot for a 12 to 3 win. Somerville blanked Brookline high on Wednesday while scoring four runs to win its opening league game.

Friday's game between Newton and Cambridge was featured by home runs by Captain Allie Fletcher and Bill Annesse. With Reilly in the box the Newton team played good ball and hit the offerings of McFadden and Harold Browning almost at will. After the Cantabs had scored a single tally in the first inning Newton put over two to take the lead. Annesse came in the second to give Reilly a little better margin to work on. In the fourth with one on Annesse connected with one of McFadden's offerings and sent it out of the lot. Two more trickled over in the fifth. The sixth was the big frame at Browning's expense. Two were down and the bases filled when Allie Fletcher came to bat. After looking a couple over Fletcher found one to his liking and with an easy swing poked it over the fence in left field into California street to bring true a ball player's most fond dream. This ended Newton's scoring for the day.

Meanwhile Reilly was mowing down the opposition in the style he showed last year. In the eighth he yielded another run but that was all the Cantabs could do. He passed but one, fanned eleven and hit Brackett on the arm while holding the McDonald coached nine to eight widely scattered blows.

Top Everett 4 to 2

Newton high bested Everett in the first 1929 meeting between the two baseball teams on Wednesday. The Newton team outlit Everett twice to nine although Pagliuca and Ward, the Everett battery were the outstanding batters with six of the nine hits between them.

Headly baseball would have scored a run for Newton in the first. Nichols doubled and went to third on Andres short hit to right. Fletcher hit a low fly to right field which Belafatto gathered in. Nichols, thinking two were out, did not wait for the catch and was doubled up at third. Everett also had a chance in its first but with two away and the bases filled Ott fanned. Wilson reached second on Collins' error and Annesse's sacrifice in the second but neither Barry nor Payne could bring him in after Elrod worked Ward for a pass. Everett went out in order.

Newton took the lead in the third, scoring two runs. Nichols fanned but Collins threw wide to first and Reilly was safe. Andres rapped out his second single of the game, sending Reilly to third Fletcher singled scoring Reilly. Wilson singled to centre to fill the bases, a comeback hit by Reilly to centrefield which O'Brien gathered in. Andres scored after the catch but Fletcher died trying to reach third. A fly and two strikeouts was Everett's dish in its half and the last three men on Newton's batting order went out likewise in the first of the fourth.

Everett eked out one tally in its half. Pasluuca singled, took second when Andres let the long fly to centrefield which O'Brien gathered in. Andres scored after the catch but Fletcher died trying to reach third. A fly and two strikeouts was Everett's dish in its half and the last three men on Newton's batting order went out likewise in the first of the fourth.

Harvard Loses in Tenth

Harvard lost to Amherst on Wednesday in a ten-inning matinee with the Lord Jeffs staging a four run rally in the final stanza, aided materially by Crimson misplays, 2 to 6. Tommy Gilligan was again in right field for the Harvard team and collected two bingles out of four. Gilligan failed to tally on either occasion. In the second Amherst made an unusual double play with Gilligan the second victim. The catcher went almost to first base to capture a high fly and Gilligan dashed for the uncovered plate after the catch. Nichols, Amherst pitcher, covered just in time to take the throw and tag Gilligan out. Had Gilligan counted it is doubtful if the game would have gone into extra innings.

Newton took the lead in the first of the seventh. Elrod worked Ward for another base on balls and went to second on Barry's hit between third and short. Payne laid down a nice bait to sacrifice them both along with Nichols and Collins. Reilly's single to bring in Elrod. Reilly drew a free ticket but neither Andres or Fletcher could come through.

In the ninth Newton gave Reilly another run to work on. Nichols starting off by poking the ball over the short, rightfield fence for two bases. Reilly reached first on Dunn's error with Nichols holding up at third. Andres singled to centrefield to score Nichols. Fletcher hit a high infield fly and was automatically out. Reilly held second but Andres, thinking he was forced when Obery, who had replaced Collins at shortstop, dropped Fletcher's fly, ran to second. Reilly then went to third where he was tagged out.

Everett threatened time and time again but Reilly bore down in the pinches and forced the home batters to hit easy fly balls. Andres made a nice running catch in the seventh to save a sure two-base hit while Belafatto robbed Annesse of a hit with a running catch in the eighth. Fletcher tripled to throw a scare into Everett to start the sixth but Wilson hit to second and a nice throw to the plate cut Fletcher down.

At Medford Tomorrow

Reilly may go back into the box again tomorrow against Medford at the latter's field as Coach Sullivan will not need to use him again until next Saturday against Brookline. If Wednesday's contest took too much out of Reilly the Newton mentor will send Nichols to the mound and probably use either Pillion or Kraber.

THROW AWAY
OPENING GAME

Woburn High, defending champion of the Mystic Valley league and Newton High, Suburban league champions, opened their seasons last week Thursday with a game at Victory Field, Nonantum. Woburn was the victor by a score of 15 to 6. The game was originally scheduled for last Wednesday but rain caused a postponement. Thursday, although it did not rain, was just as poor a baseball day and much more suitable for football than the national pastime. The cold, piercing wind which blew across the open playground was responsible for many errors of which advantage was taken by both teams.

Reilly started on the mound for Newton and pitched effectively for two innings. As the Newton coach wanted to save Reilly for the Suburban league game with Cambridge to be played Friday he allowed Reilly to stay in just long enough to get a workout. Pillion then took up the burden and later was followed by Jimmy Murphy and George Kraber.

The orange and black bats broke loose in the third period and coupled with a few errors by the Woburn infield six runs were scored before the Newton team could get going. Though Newton was to open its 1929 season auspiciously, Pillion went to the box in the first of the third and got by without trouble but in the next frame Woburn began to find his offerings to their liking. Wilson booted a couple and five runs were over but the Newton team steadied to cut the rally short by one run.

The next inning with Murphy on the mound the first batter singled. Fowler's long fly to centre where Reilly was playing. The latter came in for it and the wind took it over his head as he slipped on the wet grass trying to turn it go back for it. The hit went for a home run and put Woburn in the lead. Three more runs for Woburn in the next frame saw Murphy giving way to Kraber. Kraber fared no better than his predecessors in the seventh as a home run by McDough with two on counted three more runs. Two more trickled over in the eighth to bring the total to fifteen and after Newton had taken its turn at bat the game was called.

WOBURN WISHES

Naturally the biggest wish to be made in regard to the game is that it had not been played. It was far from a suitable day. Had it been it would doubtless have been another story as Coach Sullivan's team showed more of the brand of ball that brought the 1928 title in its succeeding two games.

Arthur Wilson was playing his first game at third base and it probably is his wish that he never has a day like last Thursday. Unaccustomed to the position was enough to go through but to be forced to throw against the strong wind that was blowing in his face was only one added burden. Give Wilson time and he should steady down.

Bill Reilly was slipping for a set of chains when he slipped on the wet grass in centrefield in the fifth inning allowing a fly ball to go over his head for a home run. Or perhaps it was a banana peel he found. He also wishes that no one leaves any such article in the vicinity of the pitcher's box.

Evidently Woburn does not like the name James. Both Pillion and Murphy go by that name and both were ill-treated by the Woburn batters. With such such names and their system Coach Sullivan's wish is that his ball players show no more of the same brand. Perhaps the orange and black got it all out at once.

against Boston College high next Wednesday.

Defensively the weakest spot in the Newton line-up seems to be at second base with considerable improvement looked for at third. Wilson is making a gallant try at the hot corner and with a little more experience will set the down. His bat is one of the strongest parts in the orange and black line-up. Annesse is filling the bill in left shape behind the bat and he too carries a potent bat. Elrod, a sophomore, the centrefielder is a likely looking player. He is a good fielder and his arm is one of the ground nicks. He also has a natural swing at bat and under the direction of assistant coach Jeff Jones should improve as the season grows older.

Nichols, Reilly, Andres, Fletcher and Wilson, make a wrecking crew that any schoolboy coach would be glad to have on hand. They head the Newton batting order and of the twenty-eight hits made by the Newton team this quintet has accounted for twenty-two. Andres did not find himself until Wednesday but collected three out of five to raise his average considerably.

As it looks at present the team that beats Newton will win the Suburban league bunting but it is still rather early to predict a great deal. Rindge and Somerville are the two other foremost contenders for the title with the games on May 8 and 11, respectively, looming up as having a bearing on the final outcome.

William W. Clark of Newton is captain of the tennis team at Deerfield Academy from which he will graduate in June.

ENOCH TAKING FOUR TO PENN CARNIVAL

Captain Dick Reynolds, Bob Ewing, Carl Pescosolido and Arthur Chamberlain of the Newton high track team are considering themselves the luckiest lads in school. With Coach Donald Enoch the four boys are taking in the Penn Relay Carnival today and tomorrow at Philadelphia. It is vacation week at Newton and with parental permission the boys have looked forward all week to the journey. The Newton coach is a former Penn State track star himself and with the great galaxy of collegiate stars, in addition to Paavo Nurmi and Leo Lermond taking part in the events the four Newton lads should learn a great deal about form and racing values.

The Newton quartet will not engage in competition in the schoolboy events at the carnival as Newton high has a strict rule prohibiting competition that requires overnight trips. So with all such thoughts out of their minds they have nothing to look forward to but enjoyment.

SPORT NOTES

DeMille Gets Two Homers

If Spencer DeMille, Newton high captain, and all-scholastic first baseman last year, can continue the hitting which marked the game between Wentworth Institute and the B. U. freshman nines on Wednesday he will soon be given the nickname, "Babe." The former Newton athlete is playing first base for Coach Win Karlson's Wentworth nine. His brace of homers played a prominent part in the 9 to 6 victory of the engineers over the Terrier freshman. A singular coincidence of the game was the fact that Leslie Church, a pitcher on the Newton high squad which DeMille captained, was in the box for the Terriers. Vic Stout, former Newton and Worcester infielder, who made a great bid for a place on the B. U. varsity was out with an injured hand.

Green Varsity Wins

The Dartmouth varsity trimmed the Newton varsity nine on Tuesday in a practice game at Hanover, 12 to 5. Harold Andres, former Newton star, caught for the junior varsity.

Whitmore Near No-hit Fame

Howard Whitmore, former Newton high and all-scholastic pitcher, was as near a no-hit game on Tuesday of this week as he could have been without actually performing such a stunt. After a long layoff due to the rain Harvard continued its schedule against Bates college on that day. Never did Whitmore pitch more effectively. For eight complete innings and one-third of the ninth he had the visiting batters at his mercy only to fall a victim to a last-minute flash. The first batter in the ninth was thrown out but the next beat out an infield hit to third by a narrow margin for the first hit for Bates. The next batter hit a long fly to centre field which Bassett managed to get under after a long run but failed to hold. This blow was scored as a two-base hit and scored the baserunner with Bates' only run of the game. The batter was thrown out trying to make third on his rap for the second out.

Luce, Bates catcher and fourth in the batting order, connected for a real triple over Gilligan's head in right field but Whitmore disposed of the next batter to end the rally. Meanwhile Harvard had been scoring five runs with two coming in the first and three in the third. Gilligan hit safely once in four and stole one base. In only four innings prior to the ninth Whitmore pitched to as many as four batters in an inning. In the first, fifth and eighth he issued a base on balls and except for these lapses he was supreme, the remaining batters going out in order on routine plays, except for a leaping catch of a hot liner by the Harvard third baseman. The weakened arm with which Whitmore was believed to have possessed and which it was feared would go back on him at any moment seems to be a thing of the past for which the Newton lads' many friends are greatly pleased.

Marble Rings Thronged

This week being vacation week for the Newton schools considerable activity developed at the various playgrounds throughout the city. Superintendent Ernest Hermann of the playground department had gotten ready to lead the city in the city upon the playgrounds if the city is getting ready to crown a city champion, who will represent Newton at the annual Greater Boston tourney on the Boston Common within a few weeks, the winner of which is to represent this section of the country at the annual national tourney at Atlantic City. Many are hoping to duplicate the feat of Willie Dunn of Newton Centre, 1926 city and Greater Boston champion. Bobbie Dunn, 1928 city champion, is eligible to compete again this year but the class of competition he will meet is more formidable than ever before. The Greater Boston tourney to be held on the Boston Common is under the direction of the Boston Traveler.

Signore Fourth in Road Race

Vincent J. Signore, Newton high school student and a member of the Archers Club, won fourth place in the 10th annual handicap road race of the Michael J. O'Connell Post, 76, A. L. last Friday morning.

DeMille Pitches Win

Spencer DeMille made his debut in the pitching box for the Wentworth Institute nine in the opening game of the season on Saturday against Groton Academy and won the five-inning contest 13 to 2. While his teammates were piling up the runs DeMille held the Groton team to three hits, one a triple. He fanned seven and passed two. On one of his two trips to the plate he banged out a triple. He reached first on the other appearance and on both occasions crossed the plate.

Adams Elected Captain

Warren S. Adams of Newton has been elected to captain the 1929 Princeton University hockey team. Adams has been a member of both the varsity sextet for the past two seasons. He is a member of the junior class. While at Newton high Adams won for himself considerable recognition as a student of football. While too light for a regular berth he made his letter at quarterback, filling a substitute role at that position. During his years at Newton high he devoted much time to the science and technique of the gridiron sport and gave much valuable assistance to the late coach, Allie Dickinson, by keeping records of every play, the yards gained, etc., of every game.

Hemeon Cleanup Man

Melbourne Hemeon, former Newton high athlete now at Cushing Academy, is on his way to a third letter at the Ashburnham school. He was an outstanding member of both the football and hockey teams and is now catching on the nine. The Newton Lower Falls lad is also batting in the cleanup position. In Wednesday's game with Turners Falls high school which Cushing won 4 to 1 Hemeon was one of the winners' batting stars with two hits, one for two bases, in four trips. He scored two runs and stole one base.

B. U. Losses to Syracuse

In a long-drawn out game at Nickerson Field, Riverside, last Friday afternoon Boston University finally opened its home season with a defeat by Syracuse University, 11 to 18. All three of the local youths on the Terrier squad got into the game as Coach Morey replaced his regulars with freshmen who have been showing up well in practice. Carleton McCullough, former Newton captain and a two year veteran at B. U. hit safely once in four attempts and scored once. Victor Stout replaced McCullough late in the game and singled on his only appearance at the plate. He also scored. Leslie Church, Newton relief twirler last year was the third pitcher used by the Hub team in the game. He fanned one visiting batter and passed one during his stay on the mound.

Warren Playing Third

Edgar Warren, third baseman on the 1928 Newton high championship team is playing third base for the Yale freshman nine. In the Eli yearling's first game of the season last Saturday which they won from Worcester Academy, 6 to 3, Warren led his teammates with the bat, getting two out of three. He also had a busy afternoon in the field accepting five chances. The Blue staged a four run rally in the final inning to win the game after Worcester had taken a 3 to 2 lead with one run in its half. The rain caused the game to be called at the end of the seventh.

KEITH'S MEMORIAL THEATRE

For a super-headliner for the week beginning Sunday, April 28th, the B. F. Keith's theatre offers that famous young star of stage and screen, George Jessel, in Person. Jessel is going abroad to make pictures and his appearance in Boston will be his last stage appearance for two years. He will appear in an act called "A Monosyllabic Characteristic," Jessel's countless admirers who have seen him as a stage star will welcome his appearance in vaudeville.

Another outstanding act on the bill is furnished by Al Shean, of Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean fame, and Miss Lynn Cantor former prima donna of the Greenwich Village Follies, in a brand new act entitled "Business is Business," written by William K. Wells.

And there is also an act which is sure to please all lovers of real comedy. It is the famous "Slim" Timblin, Billy Raymond, and Val Russell in a black faced skit called "Southern Capers," which consists of a mélange of songs, dance, patter and fun with the fun predominating.

Ewing Eaton, a favorite in musical comedy, furnishes another high spot on the bill with her act called "Twelve Minutes of Variety."

There are other outstanding acts and the photoplay is the popular Phyllis Haver in her newest picture "The Office Scandal," a spirited romance of newspaper life. It is a sound and talking film and will be presented with RCA Photophone accompaniment, the ultimate in talking equipment.

An organ presentation by Earl Weider at the Mighty Wurlitzer, Pathe News, and short subjects complete the all-star bill.

Use for Umbrellas

A new and practical use has been found for the umbrella. A young man, accompanied by two girls, was observed walking along a Philadelphia street holding an umbrella at right angles to the sidewalk, pointed toward the curb. It had stopped raining, but there were still large puddles in the street. When automobiles dashed by they splashed muddy water five or six feet upon the sidewalk, which the young man bravely fended with the umbrella.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The two traffic beacons near the Newton Trust Company building at Newton Corner, one at Washington and Hall streets, and the other on Centre street, have been provided with large signs bearing the words: "ALL DETOUR". This is a result of a suggestion by Dr. Henry C. Spencer, who from his office in the Trust Building had observed that the wording formerly on these beacons was misleading and caused some out-of-town motorists to travel the wrong direction on the one-way streets nearby, thus getting into difficulties with the police and endangering traffic.

The change in the parking regulations which will limit parking in the area on Washington street at Newton to 30 minutes between 6 a. m. and 9:30 a. m., is meeting with much criticism from persons who have been in the habit of leaving cars there mornings between these hours. Some of the objectors are letter carriers at the Newton post-office. This parking area was laid out several years ago to furnish parking facilities for patrons of the Community Theatre and for the benefit of Newton Corner business men and their customers, as well as for others who might take advantage of it. There has been a growing use of the space by persons who come to Boston. These have been using the parking space in the vicinity of the Centre avenue bridge as an all day garage, leaving their cars there when they went into Boston each morning, and taking the cars when they return from the big city each evening. The result has been that people doing business, or wishing to do business in Newton have been unable to find parking space in the area.

It was proposed that parking be prohibited from 6 a. m. to 9 a. m. in this area for a distance of 200 or 250 feet west of Centre avenue bridge, but that no restrictions be placed on parking in the remainder of this area west of Richardson street. By this plan that part of the parking reservation nearer to Newton Corner would be made available for the use for which it was primarily intended, to afford parking accommodations during the day for persons transacting business at Newton Corner. It would give such people facilities to park their cars for an hour, or a couple of hours. The plan would allow persons desiring to park their cars all day, to park such cars early in the morning by going a couple of hundred feet further west on the street. The restriction proposed on this area by the Board of Aldermen at the suggestion of the Traffic Committee is causing unnecessary inconvenience to a number. There is no good reason why the alternative plan should not be adopted. It would give a fair deal to all and would make provision to meet the needs of both all day parkers and people doing business locally.

Residents of Waban Hill have made complaints to the police concerning petting parties which come in automobiles nights, park their cars by the Newton reservoir and disturb the neighborhood by their actions during late hours. As a result policemen have been instructed to warn auto parties near the reservoir on Waban Hill. The difficulty with this method is that some folks who drove up on the hill after dark, not to pet, but to admire the excellent panoramic view of Greater Boston, have made complaints about having been approached by a policeman and asked to show driving licenses and registrations. It would seem that the proper way in which to handle the situation at Waban Hill would be to have a sign placed there forbidding parking after a reasonable hour at night.

DAMON HALL JUNIOR PROM

The Junior Prom held last Friday evening at the Woodland Country Club was a social event that gave pleasure to the one hundred and fifty guests, and reflected great credit upon the class.

The committee of fifteen who had the affair in charge worked as a team under the direction of three Newton young women, Miss Miriam Maloney and the Misses Martha and Esther Walther.

The music was furnished by the Newton Garden Orchestra. The patronesses were Mrs. Frank H. Damon, Mrs. J. Edward Maloney, Mrs. William J. Walther and Mrs. Herbert H. King of Newport, R. I. and Dean Adelaide Hatheway Prentiss.

The much coveted action as the May Queen was won by Miss Ella King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. King of Newport, R. I. The May Day exercises will be held on Wednesday next in the forenoon at Cedar Hill Estate in Waltham, and in the afternoon occurs the pageant of the crowning of the Queen, composed by Miss Damon of the Dramatic Workshop. The fancy dances will be given by Miss Shirley Ruby of the Junior Class, a dancer of unusual grace and skill.

The Dean's list as announced contains twelve names among which are the names of the following Newton girls: Eleanor Spencer, Miriam Maloney, Esther Walther, Martha Walther.

The Dramatic Workshop is putting on two plays in the Parish House of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, this evening for the benefit of the building fund of the church.

Professor Gray's lecture this week was upon Mozart, illustrated by lantern views and piano interpretations. The Commencement play this year will be Shakespeare's "As You Like It". The cast has been selected and the rehearsals are on under the instruction of the Director of the Dramatic Workshop.

Monday, April 29, is the Boston Family Welfare Society Day at the Circus in the Boston Gardens. A large party of students plan to attend because of the close relations between the Society and Social Service Department of Damon Hall.

Primitive Pressing

The first reference to sadirons that we find was in the year 1832. Before the use of irons for smoothing clothes, a form of mangle was employed. The box mangle by which articles were pressed on flat surfaces by rollers, which were weighted with a box full of stones, moved to and fro by a rack and pinion. The clothes were passed between wooden rollers or bowls held close together by weighted levers. In earlier periods, and in rural districts particularly, clothes were very often pressed by folding them carefully and placing heavy weights upon them.

Simple Ceremony

The simplest legal marriage ceremony in the United States is one performed merely in the name of the state, for example: "In the name of the state of —, I pronounce you man and wife."

Failure and Success Mixed in Blackstone

Blackstone was born in 1723. There are said to be three ways by which a young man can get on at the bar—by marrying an attorney's daughter, by writing a book or by a miracle. Blackstone wrote a book.

He was a more or less disappointed barrister; and (like many other comparative failures) set out to teach others at which, to put it mildly, he had not won so many laurels, himself.

The outcome of his Oxford lectures was his "Commentaries," perhaps the most famous law book ever written. He wrote it with a bottle of port always on his desk.

His work is rather snuffed at today as a textbook for professional students; but its rare and lucid style made it the authority to which, for nearly two centuries, every layman has turned. When the newly formed United States first set up court of their own, they took "Blackstone" as their legal bible.

Its author became an M. P. and a judge. It was his dictum, during the trial of a woman murderer, that gave rise to one of Doctor Johnson's most entertaining discussions; about the man who shot himself because he could not digest hot buttered muffins, and he loved them so.—From the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

Telephone Types Who Deserve No Quarter

The type who always opens up with a lengthy analysis of the weather—the type who is forever repeating, "What's that?"—the type who always gets cut off—the type who speaks a language that resembles a combination of Eskimo and Norwegian—the type who always calls the wrong number—the type who invariably gets a busy wire—the type who jolies the operator—the type who curses the operator—the type who always has to borrow a nickel—the type who wrathfully bangs the instrument on the floor—the type who makes believe that he is the butler—the type who, to the accompaniment of a clashing jazz band, throughout the conversation—the type who, just around the corner, stuffs a handkerchief in the mouthpiece and pretends that he is hundreds of miles away—the type who calls up at three o'clock in the morning to report that he has been arrested—the type who stations himself in a booth for one solid hour—the type who begins the conversation with "Guess who this is?"—the type who speaks in a low whisper—the type who, in the middle of the conversation suddenly says, "Good-by"—the type who never says "Good-by."—Kansas City Times.

"Jocko" Something of a Freak of Nature

A putty nose and a tall a yard long are among the attractions possessed by a monkey newly placed in the famous London zoo. It comes from the African Gold coast. These monkeys have weak circulations in their tails, for the blood has to be pumped so far by the heart. A touch of cold weather, and the tail wilts like a dahlia in a frost.

After a stormy blast in the bay of Biscay the average length of the decoration when the creature reaches this country is from six inches to a foot. Even if the tail is still all there, it has been blighted and fades away in the zoo.

Many putty-nosed monkeys eat their cold-stored tails. They are quite given to this habit until the zoo uses a certain red ointment, which spoils the flavor.

The new putty-nose was brought to England in wonderful condition by the donor, a Mr. Woodward, who is a laboratory expert at the Medical Research Institute at Sekondi, where the yellow fever scourge is tackled.—London Times.

Indian Decoration Day

An annual Decoration Day, in both name and deed, is observed by lower Yukon river Indians. Fifteen families of Indians from Nulato and other villages met at Koyukuk, Alaska, to fill a queer custom, that of erecting houses over the graves of those who died the past year.

The shelters of the old graves were given a fresh coat of highly colored paint. The bones of the unique mounds are constructed with skill and care, have windows, floors and rugs, other articles such as were used by the departed ones. Food and drink are renewed each year during the potlatch following Decoration day.

Every western Alaskan Indian tribe has some different method of protecting the spirits of departed ones.

Whales Are "Brainless"

The largest brain in the world, according to speakers at a congress of natural science, recently held in England, is possessed by the whale.

Prof. W. Weyandt argued against a prevalent belief that the largest brain claim is shared by whales, elephants and man. He stated that the whale alone justified the claim, the largest whale ever caught having a brain weighing 7,000 grams.

The human brain, he added, seldom exceeds an average weight of 1,250 to 1,400 grams in the male and 1,100 to 1,300 in the female.

Home

The word "home" is indeed like unto an alabaster box of ointment, very precious, whose fragrance fills the life. Into it has been gathered our most sacred memories, our tenderest associations, our brightest hopes. It matters little whether the home of one's childhood has been a cottage on the hillside or a house in some city street—round it is woven a romance of interest that grows with the years; to it, from distant places alike of work and thought travels back the heart with wistful regret.—Exchange.

Drake's Drum

There is a legend in Devon, that in times of danger to England a boom in sound is heard as of the playing of a gigantic drum. This has been called Drake's drum. It being popularly supposed that the famous admiral is thus endeavoring to awaken the people to the realization of danger. There is no actual drum, of course. After the World War broke out there were many who declared that they had heard this "drum" on the night of the 4th of August, 1914.

Modern Superstitions

School children in London still wear charms against various evils, according to a recent survey. Blue beads are worn to ward off colds. Forty per cent of the youngsters are addicted to wearing amulets of various sorts.

Recent Deaths

JOSEPH GAY

Joseph Gay, for a number of years a resident of this city, died on April 18 at Soldiers' Home, Chelsea. He was born July 4, 1839, at Cambridgeport. On April 16, 1861, twelve hours after Abraham Lincoln called for volunteers to defend the Union, Joseph Gay, and other young Cambridge men were among the first volunteers to enlist. He was enrolled in the Cambridge company, C of the 3rd Mass. Infantry and served for the 90 days which President Lincoln had thought would be the time necessary to defeat the Confederates. He then re-enlisted in the 1st Massachusetts Cavalry and served for three years, participating in many of the sanguinary battles fought during that period. He received a sabre wound at the battle of Aldie, Virginia, and a bullet wound at the battle of Kelly's Ford, Virginia. At the battle of Aldie, which was a cavalry engagement, Mr. Gay and a comrade rescued the late Major Henry L. Higginson when the latter had been severely wounded.

Despite his advanced years, Mr. Gay retained his faculties to an unusual degree to within a short time before his death and was a familiar name about Newton Corner. His modest, genial personality won for him the friendship of many. For many years it had been the custom of the City of Cambridge to observe the anniversary of the day on which its sons were among the first to enlist in response to President Lincoln's appeal, a feature of this observance being a dinner at which the surviving volunteers were the honored guests. Mr. Gay was the last survivor, so on April 17 Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, accompanied by several old veterans visited him at Soldiers' Home. Before the dinner dawned little "Joe" Gay had gone to join his comrades who had gone before.

His funeral service was held on Saturday at the home of A. F. Fiske, 52 Henshaw street, West Newton. Rev. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, officiating. Representatives of the Grand Army, Sons of Veterans, City of Cambridge and the United States Army, were present. Burial was in Cambridge Cemetery. Mr. Gay formerly resided at West Newton but in recent years had made his home at 29 Carleton street, Newton.

FERNANDE P. CAMPBELL

Mrs. Fernande Campbell, wife of Arthur Campbell, died on April 19 at her late home, 435 Highland street, Newtonville. She was in her 23rd year. Mrs. Campbell was a native of Rennes, France. She is survived by her husband and one son. Private funeral services were held at her late home on Monday, Rev. Raymond Lang officiating. Burial was in Lowell.

Persia Has Salt Lake
Larger Than Dead Sea

Five thousand feet above sea level in Persia is to be found a huge, salty inland lake. It is known as Urmia and is 250 miles around, covering an area of 1,000 square miles, and boasts of some 50 islands. It is among the highest bodies of salt water on the globe.

Ninety miles long by some thirty wide, it completely dwarfs the Dead sea, something like a mile and a quarter lower in level, and contains a greater percentage of salts in solution.

Urmia is fed by a number of small streams and is the catch basin for a considerable area, but as it has no outlet whatever except evaporation the salt that comes in stays in. Constant leaching by the streams brings in a continuous supply of salt, and given enough, this results in a salt lake, for while the evaporation takes care of the water it must leave the salt behind.

And this is what has happened to Urmia. For years and years it has been becoming saltier and saltier, probably exceeded in this respect only by Karabugas, the salt water annex of the Caspian sea. No fish live in it.

Many English Words

Are Arabic in Origin

The Arabs have given the English-speaking people more words to express their thoughts than any other of the Semitic, Asiatic or African groups.

"When in summer you wear your 'mohair' or 'cotton' suit, avoid 'alcohol,' enjoy 'sherbet' with 'candy' and 'coffee' with 'sugar,' or lie on a 'sofa' or 'mattress' reading a 'magazine,' you are drawing on that vocabulary," Prof. Philip K. Hitti of Princeton told the Linguistic Society of America.

"In a complete English lexicon, Arabic would figure in no less than 198 entries under the letter A alone."

Many of these words have come into English indirectly through the romance languages, he said, but Arabic also has served as a medium for transmitting a number of words of Greek, Latin, Persian, Sanskrit, Egyptian, Turkish, Coptic or Hindustani origin, such as apricot, azure, borax, camphor and ebony.

St. Augustine's Chair

The wonderful old chair of St. Augustine, in which the new archbishop of Canterbury sits on the occasion of his enthronement, has had a long history. Tradition asserts that it was formerly the throne on which the old kings of Kent were crowned, but it is generally agreed that it dates, at any rate, from the commencement of the thirteenth century. It is composed of three pieces of Purbeck marble in the design of a Roman state chair and stands in the chapel of the Coronation in Canterbury cathedral. Each archbishop of Canterbury is enthroned in this chair, thus signifying his assumption of the primacy of England.

No Law Against Thinking

Even very small girls have their untried and following one of them this little girl came home to her mother much exercised over their little difficulty.

"Mother, Mary Lou is a cat," the one little girl said, probably echoing a term she had heard older people use.

"Oh you mustn't say such things," her mother reprimanded, "you mustn't say things like that about your little playmates. Lots of times we may think things that we shouldn't say."

"Well, then, I think Mary Lou is a cat," was the reply.

Old Elephants

A traveler says that an elephant when old goes on a high cliff and commits suicide, but it is doubtful if any considerable number of them hurl themselves from cliffs in this manner. It appears to be true, however, that the herds of wild elephants have their own natural cemeteries in the swamps or jungles, to which the old and weak crawl to die. Some of these places are known to the natives of Africa and are valuable sources of ivory. Other wild animals are said to adopt this practice of going to particular spots to die.

Dad's Dilemma

"How's the family?" inquired Jenks of Bing, his happily married friend from the other side of town.

"Well, my children are at a difficult age just now."

"Difficult? Why, they've all passed the measles and teething age, haven't they?"

"Long ago. But you don't know a father's troubles. My children are at the age where if I use slang my wife says I'm setting a bad example. And if I speak correctly, the kids think I'm a book number. Which would you do?"—Kansas City Star.

Signs Long in Use

The history of signs goes back to ancient Egypt and reaches America by way of Greece, Rome, Italy, France, Germany and England.

Thus were among the first industries to avail themselves of signs, Rome leading off with a bush swinging before the tavern door. From it came the adage "Good wine needs no bush." The cross was used for Christian way markers and the sun and moon for pagan travelers.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER D. R.

The April meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, was held at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Francis Fuller, 17 Fairview street, Newton on Thursday, the 18th. The meeting, which was presided over by the Regent, was opened by the usual patriotic exercises. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Delegates and alternates were elected to the National Convention of the D. R. Society which will be held at Watkins Glen, New York, June 11-14. The New York State Society will dedicate a memorial on Flag Day, June 14th, to mark the expedition of General Sullivan who crushed the hostile Indians who were in league with the British. This proved a turning point in the Revolution, as decisive as Saratoga or Yorktown.

After the business meeting was over, Mrs. Dorothy Fernald Lehrer read a paper which she had written, illustrated with stereopticon slides on "Furniture of the Olden Times." Mrs. Lehrer wore the old fashioned costume and hat which she wore in the pageant at the D. R. National Convention held in Philadelphia in connection with the Sesqui Centennial where she took the part of Betty Zane of Wheeling, West Virginia. She showed how the origin and development of many styles of furniture were dependent upon the social, political, and economic conditions of the times. She stressed the great English furniture makers, Chippendale, Sheraton, and Hepplewhite also the furniture of the colonial era and Duncan Phyfe in America.

After the program, a social hour was enjoyed. Tea was served by the hostess in the dining room. Mrs. Ross Furman and Mrs. Lyman Perkins poured.

GIRL SCOUTS

On Wednesday evening, April 17th, the Newton Local Council, Girl Scouts Inc., gave a dinner at the Unitarian Church in West Newton, to 75 friends and helpers of the Newton Girl Scouts. This Council dinner was planned and arranged by Mrs. Lillian Collins, Deputy Commissioner for Newton, and the evening was carried through to a delightful close under her direction. Dinner was served at 6:30 and exclamations of pleasure were heard as the guests entered the room and took their places at the tables, decorated with spring flowers in pastel shades, delicately colored candles, and charming favors. The dinner was excellent, and the waitresses, most of them Scouts, were efficient and alert. Great credit for the success of this part of the program is due the Committee, Mrs. Norman Bingham, Chairman of the Court of Awards, who was in charge of hospitality for the evening, Mrs. Collins, who planned the dinner, and Mrs. Charles Benson, who planned the table decorations.

The Council had as its guests, the Court of Awards, Merit Badge Examiners, Captains, and Lieutenants, as well as many friends and supporters of Scouting. The guests included Mrs. Stanley Bolster, Deputy Commissioner for Newton, Miss Grant, representing Miss Bertha Allen of the Newton Hospital, Miss Maude Shippee, and Miss Alice Alden from the Newton High School, and Mr. Liscomb Bromberg, executive for the Boy Scouts, Norumbega Council.

After dinner, Mrs. Collins welcomed the guests, and introduced as the first speaker, Mr. Maynard Hutchinson, President of the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Hutchinson spoke of the Newton High School, where the Newton High School, and Mr. Liscomb Bromberg, executive for the Boy Scouts, Norumbega Council.

Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson spoke for the Council of the inspiration all those in contact with Girl Scouting receive from their work, and the desire each one has to work with the girls in the field of Scouting. Miss Caroline Freeman, Director for Newton, traced the growth of Scouting briefly and showed its continuity and healthy trend; it is steady and wide-spread. Miss Mildred Moore, Captain of Troop 21, Newton Highlands, spoke of the Captain's point of view with regard to Girl Scouting. It is not the easiest road she has to follow but in some ways it is the most delightful to know the girls intimately and share in their joys and sorrows is indeed a great privilege.

Miss Kate Cornell, President of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, spoke on the Craftsman Merit Badge and Mrs. George Hatch on the work for the Health Winner, both badges

At the Nobscot Reservation
Cabin after cabin is being built at the Reservation, with the going of the snow and the coming of spring weather. Troop 19, Center, had a big representation at the Reservation on April 19th, and erected their section of log cabin from foundation to roof-tree. The cabin rests in the trees on the hillside near King Philip's Look-Out and has a view over the surrounding country to the east and southeast. This week the Scouts are at work completing the shingling and soon the fireplace will be ready. The cabin is located among the pines and cedars on a side hill; in front is an outdoor fire-place which the Scouts have been building under the direction of Assistant Scoutmaster George H. Crosbie.

Troop 18, Center, has been working over its foundations and construction on its cabin will start soon. Their cabin rests in the trees, by the side of Phyllis Brook, and is located among the pines and cedars. Troop 10, Center, suddenly, only to reappear merrily fifty or a hundred feet along.

Troop 2, Auburndale, has had the logs for its cabin cut on the north end of the Reservation, under the direction of Ranger Ingraham and his staff. Their cabin has been named "Camp Whippoorwill" and they plan to secure the services of a Maine woodsman and guide to erect a log cabin 20 by 28 feet.

Troop 3, Nonantum, which had a site on the south side of the Reservation, has been working on the north-east side and will start clearing and erecting lean-tos very soon.

Troop 4, Highlands, is working on its field-stone fire-place, which is being erected entirely by Scoutmaster Lichtenhauser and Scouts who take over-night trips to the Cabin every Monday evening.

Troop 7, West Newton, is using its cabin regularly, operating on the Patrol basis. Its cabin has been named "Camp Whippoorwill" and in the soft, still nights to come they hope to hear the whippoorwill which visited them every evening at camp last fall.

Troops 9 and 10, Waban, have selected site No. 19 on the Reservation and have already started clearing, since they plan to have a cabin before the end of the year. Troop 10 is taking a hike to the Reservation on Friday and are going to hunt and destroy tent and gypsy caterpillar nests as well as help the Ranger set out the 1,200 red and 300 white pines which were secured through Assistant Scoutmaster George H. Crosbie.

Troop 11, Newton, uses its cabin regularly, and during this vacation week, there have been Scouts there for over-night trips, as there have at the cabins of 4 and 7.

Mr. Walter H. Sears, Chairman of Troop 3, Nonantum, has been offered to start a nature trail at Nobscot, along which all trees, shrubs and flowers shall be tagged with brief items about each, that the Scouts may study from nature rather than from books.

In addition to all these, Scouts are working on bridges across the brooks, which the girls have done a great deal this year. Miss Ruth Stevens, State Director, was then introduced and all present found in her speech some of the fire of enthusiasm and inspiration from which we might all kindle our own flames. "Let him be still and think," she said, and think as we might we could not get away from the fact that the Girl Scout organization and the joy that we were able to share in its work.

The meeting closed with the Girl Scout Good Night song and Taps played on the bugle, by Lieut. Ethel de Mille, Newton Champion Bugler.

This week, girls from the Junior and Senior troops have found much pleasure in going to Camp Mary Day and doing painting and clean-up of all sorts to get it ready for week-ends and for the summer.

A Rummage Sale for the Newton and Newton Central Girl Scouts will be held at 817 Washington street, Newtonville square on Saturday, May 4th, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Any articles to be donated will be called for by Newton North 1542-M or Newton North 0849-M is notified.

on lean-tos in reserved areas, on the fire lane and in general engaging in those activities which make camping, particularly at the Nobscot Reservation, so attractive. In this connection, last Sunday on old Maine guide and experienced woodsman travelling over the Reservation in the pouring rain and said in a certain terms that, in the Nobscot Reservation, Norumbega Council has a "prize"—one of the best Scout camps it has ever seen. Coming from a source like that, it was praise indeed.

Gate Lodge on the Site

The section log cabin, which is to be used as a gate lodge, given by Capt. and Mrs. Frank Nagle, has arrived on the Reservation and will be set up within the next two weeks. When erected this cabin will be formally turned over to the Council by the donors.

Mr. E. Sherman Chase, well-known sanitary engineer, who is sanitary engineer of the Council Camp Committee, is going to the Reservation this week to make his periodical check up on the water supply and on sanitary conditions. All this phase of the work has been under his supervision and has been developed on approved lines.

Mr. Nelson B. Hatt, of West Newton, recently went to the Reservation and varnished the totem pole, which is still one of the features of the camp and also the sign—his services, like those of so many others interested in Scouting, were given, because of his interest in the project.

Summer Camp Application Out

The April issue of The Norumbega Scout, which has the full story of Camp Cape Cod, the summer camp which is to be used by this Council and with it the application for entrants.

Jamboree Troop Produces Results
Scout Commissioner John M. Bierer reports that the Norumbega Council Troop of 16 Scouts which is going to International Jamboree in England next summer is working hard on its preparations. At the present time, they are preparing for the Cooking Merit Badge, which is necessary for the Scouts are going to cook for themselves for the first time in the Jamboree. On Saturday morning, the Troop will go to the Nobscot Reservation for final test in cooking. Every Scout is producing from edible to excellent bread, hunter's stew, rice pudding and omelet. After Saturday, it is guaranteed that the result produced by every Scout in the group will be excellent as that is the progress being made.

The Scouts have also been working on Indian drills, tomahawks, Indian war clubs, arrow heads, hammers of stone, wooden and stone utensils and what not. On Friday morning, Eagle Scout Robert Spilman is to give instruction in the making of Indian arrows. The Scouts are going to make his own for the Jamboree. Soon they will start on the leather leggings which will form part of the costume.

Troop News

Troop 1, Newtonville, went to Concord, Mass., on April 19th, under Scoutmaster Sloan, to participate in the celebration of that patriotic anniversary. In the afternoon they held a competitive rally with Scouts from other Councils. They were first in the group in the various events and brought home an array of blue ribbons.

Training Courses

The final session of the Scout Leaders' Seminar Group was held at the Nobscot Reservation on Friday, April 19th, where the men received training in compass work, tracking, fire-building, types of fires, cooking and other Second Class requirements. A total of 32 men attended this Seminar Course.

Red Cross First Aid Course, being given Monday evenings by "Jack" McCurdy, holds its final session on Monday evening, May 6th. The men are very keen about the Course, for Mr. McCurdy is one of the finest instructors in First Aid in this vicinity. A total of about 30 men have attended this training course.

The First Aid Course for Scouts, being given Monday afternoons by Miss Norcross, of the Newton Red Cross, continues at the High School. In this as in the other First Aid Course the Boy Scout Council and the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross are working in close co-operation.

Next month a Junior Hike Leaders' Training Course, open to older First Class Scouts, as recommended by their respective Scoutmasters, will be given at the Nobscot Reservation.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

On Monday, April 29th, members of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands are to meet at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. P. Clark, of 71 Pleasant street, Newton Centre. Miss Harriet M. Ward is in charge of the afternoon's program and she will read a paper on "The Good of India." This will conclude the series of five programs given over to the fascinating study of the heritage, peoples, problems, faiths, arts and crafts, and such customs as are peculiar of these inscutable easterns, which have been absorbing the interest of the Club in the past two months.

On May 6th, Monday, the Club will hold its Annual Meeting, so closing the year's work.

Auburndale Review Club

The Executive Board of the Auburndale Review Club, through the president, Mrs. Charles Valentine, announces the decision that South Walpole is to be the place where the Annual Meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 30th. Those willing to loan their cars for the trip are asked to notify Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, tel. West Newton 0924-M, before April 23rd, and also to give her the names of those accompanying them in their cars. The start is to be made promptly at 11 o'clock, and all are asked to be at the railroad station at a quarter before. The route will be through Needham, Dedham, and Norwood.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Ralph H. Reed, chairman of the Department of the American Home, presents Mrs. Margaret Stannard, director of the Garland School of Homemaking, who will broadcast "Adult Education in Homemaking" from WNAC next Wednesday morning, May 1st, at 11:30 o'clock. Clubwomen who tune-in at 11:40 will hear Miss Irida Pilla, lyric Soprano, introduced from the Italian Club. She has been signally honored by the public of Coccia of Novara, one of the most discerning audiences of Italy. Miss Pilla will entertain with a group of songs, accompanied by Miss Helen Gale. At 11:50, Mrs. Abigail M. E. Woodward, Thirteenth District director, will be heard in a talk on "Loyalty of Women to Women."

ANNUAL MEETING. "America the Beautiful," led by Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow, and the salute to the flag given under the direction of Miss Marion H. Brazier, president of the Old Glory Club, will open the first session of the thirty-seventh Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, at Swampscott, Wednesday, afternoon, May 15th, at 2 o'clock. After the invocation, written by Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, and greetings from the town of Swampscott, Mrs. Azel A. Packard, president of the State Federation, will welcome the Clubwomen who will gather from all over the State for this meeting. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, first vice-president of the General Federation, will bring the greetings of that organization.

After reports from the officers of the Federation—Mrs. Edwin L. Pridge, Mrs. Allan V. Mosher, Mrs. Boyd F. Bowles, and Mrs. Frederick S. Davis—Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., will speak on Junior Membership, and Mrs. Thomas J. Walker on Club Institutes. Other features of interest in the afternoon's program will be the discussions of departmental work by Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman of Legislation; Mrs. C. H. Danforth, chairman of Americanization; Miss Marian C.

Nichols, chairman of Civil Service; and Mrs. Charles E. French, chairman of International Relations; and five minute reports from the following directors who have one more year to serve: Mrs. William G. Potter, of the Third District; Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, of the Eighth District; Mrs. Lewis R. Hovey, of the Tenth District; Mrs. George N. Sawyer, of the Eleventh District; and Mrs. P. M. Lynch, of the Fourteenth District.

The evening program at 8:15 will be an all-club affair—a concert by the combined choruses from the Clubs of the State Federation to the number of 800. Mrs. Amy Young Burns, State chairman of Music, will conduct this, and four pianos will furnish the accompaniment. Among the choruses giving solo selections will be that of the Malden Musical Club, the Auburndale Women's Club Chorus, the Choristers of the Women's Club of Brockton, and two or three from the North Shore Clubs. The whole chorus will sing four selections—"The Heavens are Telling," from "The Creation"; Krepner's "Prayer of Thanksgiving"; "The Bells of St. Mary's" in the chorus of which the audience will be asked to join; and "The Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah.

Greetings from Mrs. Walter A. Hall, director of the Ninth District, and messages from Mrs. Emory D. Leighton, Federation Historian; Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, General Federation chairman of Membership; and Mrs. Mina G. Del Castillo, chairman of the General Federation Department of Music, will come first on the morning program of the second day of the annual meeting. Department chairmen who will report on their work at this time will be Mrs. Henry W. Chamberlain, of the Art Department; Mrs. Amy Young Burns, of the Music Department; Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson, of the Literature Department; Mrs. David D. Nickerson, of the Education Department; Mrs. Albert Bradley Carter, of the Department of Social and Industrial Conditions; Miss Carolyn J. Packard, chairman of the Press and Publicity Department; and Mrs. Leon E. White, Radio Director of this Department. Other speakers will be Miss Alice F. Titus, editor of Federation Topics, Mrs. Frederick M. Brescott, chairman of the Meetings Committee, and the five directors who have just finished their first year of service: Mrs. George Corley of District Two; Mrs. Robert O. Harper of District Fifteen; Mrs. Horace B. Gale, of District Twelve; Mrs. William J. McDonald, of District Six; and Mrs. Thomas G. Rees, of District Four. The report of the Nominating Committee will be given by its chairman, Mrs. Clarence Clark. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will report on the Helen Whittier Memorial Fund.

At 12:15 p. m. in the "Lower Deck," the press and publicity department will hold a luncheon for Club presidents and press committees, and others interested in publicity. Radio publicity will be stressed. Special guests of honor will be Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, Mrs. Azel A. Packard, Mrs. John H. Kimball, department adviser; Miss Alice F. Titus, honorary member of the department; Miss A. Gwendolin Albee, former State press chairman; Jean Sargent and Linus Travers of WNAC, and Robert Burren of State WEL. Tickets for this must be obtained from Miss Louise C. Copley, 11 Forest avenue, Salem, before May 14th.

At the afternoon session, opening at 2 o'clock, the following departments will present their work:—Co-operation with War Veterans; Mrs. Paul A. Peters, chairman; Public Health; Dr. Anna C. Palmer, chairman; Conservation; Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, chairman; American Home; Mrs. Ralph E. Reed, chairman; Mothercraft and Child Welfare; Mrs. May Bliss Dickinson Kimball, chairman; and Community Service; Mrs. Fred B. Cross, chairman. Two new Clubs will be presented which have recently joined the State Federation, The Massachusetts Association of Savings Bank Women, and the New England Hotel Women's Association of Boston, the latter an affiliated member. Their presidents will present these Clubs, Miss Mary Curley speaking for the former, and Mrs. Herbert G. Summers for the latter. The chief speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, General Federation director.

The afternoon session will close with an hour devoted to Round Table discussions of department work, something which both State chairmen and Club workers have long felt was needed at this meeting. At 5 o'clock, there will be a public school music demonstration given by the Dorchester High School Girls' Glee Club, and the Lewis School Orchestra, under the direction of David G. Tierney. This has been arranged by Mrs. Amy Young Burns.

The evening program, beginning at 8:15, will include songs by Marie Aubrey Wise, Contralto; greetings from the Commonwealth, brought by Gov. Allen; and five-minute reports from the five retiring directors, Mrs. Herman A. Harding, of the First District; Mrs. Henry E. Robert, of the Fifth District; Mrs. Bert S. Currier, of the Seventh District; Mrs. Walter A. Hall, of the Ninth District; and Mrs. Abigail Woodward, of the Thirteenth District. The program will close with a reception to the guests of honor, delegates, and visiting Clubwomen.

The chief feature of the closing session of the Annual Meeting will be the president's address by Mrs. Azel A. Packard and the presentation of the new officers for 1929-1930.

Newton Centre Women's Club

The Luncheon and Annual Meeting for the Newton Centre Women's Club will be held on May 2nd, at 1:00 p. m. The luncheon will be served by the Social Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Boutelle, and is always a pleasant opportunity for the Club members to get together before leaving town for the Summer months. The Art Exhibition, which was put on the calendar by mistake, will not take place, but a beautiful and inspiring painting by Mrs. Holger Sorenson, called "The Restless Sea" has been purchased by the Club and will be presented, to be hung in the Reception Room. This gift was made possible by the hard work and efforts of the Art Committee, Mrs. Everett Varney, chairman.

Newton Federation

The Conservation Committee of the Newton Federation has arranged for an all-day trip to the Harvard Forest, Petersham, Mass., on Friday, May 3rd, weather permitting. If the day is stormy the outing will be held on Saturday, May 4th. The start will be made from Norumbega Park, Weston Bridge, at 8:15. Those attending should bring lunches, including things to cook over an open fire if they desire. The round trip will amount to 150 miles.

The director of the Harvard Forest, Prof. Fisher, will conduct the party through the 2,000 acre tract, which has been under scientific management for twenty years, and is a most fascinating place, not only for the forester, but for any one who likes to roam in beautiful forest surroundings. Clubs are urged to arrange to have a group to go from their Club and to notify the chairman, Mrs. Harold O. Cook, so that all may go together.

General Federation

SUBSCRIPTION PRIZES. An announcement of prizes, as fascinating as Captain Kidd's treasure, from the Circulation Committee of General Federation News, should set the Club officials in Newton to work to win some of this gold which may do much for their Club activities. It would seem that every Club in Newton is given opportunity, so cleverly have the classes been arranged by number of membership, from the smallest to the largest in our City. The Club that wishes to increase its building fund—if it be one to have a Club House in the office—the Club that longs to add a rug or china or other beautiful or practical object, if the Club House is a glorious reality; the Club that desires a coveted speaker whose price seems beyond reach; the Club that has ambitions for its Juniors, or for honors to officers in gifts as they leave after loyal service, or for contributing to some educational cause, or to add another worthwhile charity to its already generous philanthropies; to each and all is given opportunity to see that wish realized through the unusual offer from the General Federation News Committee on Circulation, whose address is 1734 N street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Prizes will be awarded to the Clubs sending in the greatest number of subscriptions to General Federation News, as follows: $250 in gold to the ten highest Clubs with a membership of 500 or over, sending in the greatest number of three year subscriptions over 501

$150 in gold to the ten highest Clubs with a membership of 301 to 500, sending in the greatest number of three year subscriptions over 301.

$75 in gold to the ten highest Clubs with a membership of 151 to 300, sending in the greatest number of three year subscription over 151.

$50 in gold to the ten highest Clubs with a membership of 101 or over, sending in the greatest number of three year subscriptions over 101.

$50 in gold to the ten highest Clubs with a membership of 61 or over, sending in the greatest number of three year subscriptions over 61.

$15 in gold to the ten highest Clubs with a membership of 31 or over, sending in the greatest number of three year subscriptions over 31.

$5 in gold to the ten highest Clubs with a membership under 30, sending in the greatest number subscriptions over 10.

All subscriptions must be in not later than May 20th. All prizes will be awarded at the Council Meeting in Swampscott. All subscriptions must be at the reduced rate of $2.00 for 3 years. All subscriptions must be marked plainly with the name and address of the subscriber, and the name of the Club as printed in the 1928-1929 directories.

"Old Friends to Trust"

"Five years since we graduated. Doesn't seem so. And how we've scattered!"

"What good times we used to have. And how friendly."

"Seems to me we made some promises. To visit when we could. To write when we couldn't. Anyhow, to keep the old friendships alive."

"A dozen of these girls live within fifty miles, and I haven't seen one of them in ages."

"No use blaming them. I haven't done my part either."

"I'm going to start a reunion now—at once—by telephone."

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club
The Kindergarten rooms at the Emerson School were a very festive air on Monday, April 15th. The walls were beautifully decorated with spring "projects"—examples of the kindergarten's clever handiwork—by Miss Marion D. Bassett and her assistants, in honor of the Annual Meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club. Prettily arranged tables, with decorations of yellow marguerites and fine white flowers, the Club colors, and the colorful dresses of the members made a very pretty picture. About sixty members sat down to the bountiful repasts served by Caterer Holman, of Norwood, while merriment reigned, till the tables were cleared away.

After the recess, the regular meeting was held, the president, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, presiding. This was followed by the Annual Meeting; beginning with reading of reports from the secretaries and the chairmen of the several Committees. All these reports were accepted and ordered placed on file. Miss Clementine Vasa was appointed chairman of the tellers, with Mrs. John Temperley and Mrs. Michael Wiczorek assistants. While the tellers were counting the ballots the retiring president, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, read her Annual report, at the conclusion of which, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, retiring first vice-president, in a few well-chosen words, presented Mrs. McLaughlin, in the name of the Executive Board, with a bouquet of a dozen and a half beautiful pink roses and ferns, with a ribbon attached—this ribbon holding a Massachusetts State Federation pin. This came as a surprise, as the Executive Board had presented the president with a President's Club pin. The Club Presidents are entitled to wear, at their last Board Meeting for the year. However, Mrs. McLaughlin rose to the occasion, and in her gracious manner thanked the members of the Board.

The tellers reported 56 votes cast and all for the officers as listed on the ballots. Mrs. McLaughlin declared the election of Miss Ethel W. Sabin, president; Miss Nellie M. Osborne, first vice-president; Mrs. Harold T. Sprague, second vice-president; Mrs. Maurice Lacroix, recording secretary; Mrs. Justin Starck, treasurer; Mrs. Gordon B. Sawyer, auditor; and Mrs. Albert Proctor and Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick, directors for two years. These officers, with Mrs. Bernard Meehan, Mrs. Henry Sharrott, and Mrs. William H. Warren compose the Executive Board for the coming year.

Miss Grace Hunt, chairman of the Nominating Committee, was called to escort Miss Sabin to the chair, where Mrs. McLaughlin presented her with the gavel. Miss Sabin responded in a very happy vein and bespoke the tolerance, aid and the co-operation of Club officers and members in the work of the coming year. Mrs. Walter F. Stevens, in the name of the Club, presented the new president a bouquet of beautiful spring flowers, as a pledge of loyalty and co-operation for the work ahead.

Following this, the committees were appointed, the president naming the chairman, and the rest being nominated from the floor. Community Service, Mrs. Bernard Meehan, Mrs. Elmer L. Atwell, Mrs. John Temperley, Miss Mary A. Collins, and Mrs. Schuyler Smith; Hospitality Committee, Mrs. William H. Warren, Mrs. William Meola, Mrs. Arthur F. Martin, Mrs. Noyes Meola, and Mrs. John Motherway; House Committee, Mrs. Henry A. Sharrott, Mrs. Robert McGill, and Miss Grace Hunt; Legislative, Mrs. Albert Proctor, Mrs. Samuel Oldfield, and Mrs. Walter F. Stevens; Membership, Mrs. Harold T. Sprague, Miss Clementine Vasa, Mrs. Walter Billings, Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh, and Mrs. James T. O'Hearn; Printing, Mrs. Winchester Sawyer, Mrs. Lewis P. Everett, and Mrs. Harry L. Cook. The president appointed as delegate to the Newton Federation, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin; delegate to the State Federation, Mrs. Warren H. Hoy; American Home, Mrs. Thomas E. Lees; Public Health, Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick; Health Christmas Seals, Miss Florence Osborne; Press, Mrs. Walter R. Evans. The rest of the committees will be appointed later. The meeting then adjourned to meet the first Monday in October.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Charles Kattelle, of Grove street, opened her home on Monday afternoon, April 15th, for the first program meeting of the year for the Christian Era Study Club. There was a short business hour, during which the Nominating Committee was announced for the coming year: Mrs. Hattie Hutchinson, Mrs. Harry Perkins, and Mrs. Edward Edmonds. The first paper of the afternoon was on "Jane Austin," and was given by the hostess, Mrs. Kattelle spoke briefly of Miss Austin's early life and writings, closing with a synopsis of "Emma," considered by critics to be her best work. Miss Ella Smith followed with an account of the life and writings of "Sir Walter Scott," with selections from his works.

Auburndale Review Club

The meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, April 16th, at the home of Mrs. Susan Tuttle, on Walcott street, brought to a close the program of the year, and with it the two final presidential administrations which have been the topic for study this year. Mrs. C. W. Blood, chairman for the morning, first introduced Mrs. Charles Grover, who spoke of some of our modern musical composers, giving several records on the Victrola. Mrs. Blood's paper on "Warren Harding" followed, and the morning closed with Mrs. James Patterson's paper on our last president, "Calvin Coolidge," her paper being confined to personal characteristics and early life of Mr. Coolidge as every one was more or less familiar with his administration.

During the business hour, the president, Mrs. Charles Valentine, an-

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Wednesday, April 17th, the Annual Meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton was held in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, with Mrs. Francis Newhall, the president, presiding.

Mrs. Franklin S. Hoyt, the secretary, gave a most interesting report on the varied work of the year and the many accomplishments.

Mrs. Norman S. Bingham spoke for the Volunteer Service Committee, telling of providing automobiles to take patients to and from hospitals and to take children to Fresh Air Camps. For continuation of this work, she asked that members should offer the use of their cars the first week of June and the first week of September.

Mrs. George P. Hatch reported for the Legislative Committee very entertainingly and instructively on several bills now being considered either in Congress or in the State Legislature.

Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas, the treasurer, gave a detailed account of the funds of the Club and told of the donations to charities.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Newhall told of the progress of the committees in charge of the memorials to Mrs. Ellery Peabody and to Mrs. William Bell, which are to be placed in the West Newton Library, in grateful and affectionate appreciation of their untiring work in the Club and in the planning of the library. She spoke also of the Art Committee which is planning a gift to the Levi Warren Junior High School, and said that plans for all these were well on the way towards completion.

At 1 o'clock a pink luncheon was served to one hundred and fifty members of the Club and their guests. The officers elected to serve for the coming year were: Mrs. Francis Newhall, president; Mrs. Harold B. Cranshaw, Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd, Mrs. George T. Lane, Mrs. Henry W. Newhall, vice-presidents; Mrs. William H. Best and Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, newly-elected vice-presidents; Mrs. F. S. Hoyt, recording secretary; Mrs. Gordon B. Sawyer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas, treasurer, all re-elected; Mrs. William W. Bigelow, newly-elected clerk; Mrs. William F. Chase, re-elected auditor; and three new Federation delegates: Mrs. Ralph E. Hatch, chairman, Mrs. Reul W. Beach and Mrs. Rudolph Koope.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

A Spring Style Show was one of the especially attractive features of the afternoon at the Bazaar held by the Newton Centre Woman's Club on April 23rd. Mrs. Carol Tibbott, Ruth Randolph, Elizabeth Waldo, Dorothy Merrill, Helen Bennett, Lucy Bennett, Altra Maloney, Olive Cunningham and Jean Cunningham.

Stonemetz, Mrs. Harry Stonemetz, Mrs. John Merrill, Mrs. Edward Hodgekins, Mrs. Ellis Speare, Jr., Mrs. Alden Speare, and Mrs. Lorenz Muther.

The Bazaar proved very successful, not alone for this lovely Style Show, which attracted a crowd. The hall presented a very Spring like appearance, with table everywhere decorated to represent May baskets. In front of the stage was the home-cooked food table, in pink and white, in charge of Mrs. Edward H. Taylor. Her assistants were Mrs. Charles Quick, Mrs. Henry Schoenfeld, Mrs. Perley Whelton, Mrs. Frederick, Miss Moore, and Mrs. Willis Pattison.

The "Grab Bag" was a large bag of black and white checked paper in charge of Mrs. John Harman and Mrs. James Dolliver.

The "White Elephant" Table was gay with colored parrots and had a large white elephant across the front in a black background. These articles were under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Murphy, with Miss Addie Fitch, Mrs. Everett Green, Mrs. Leonard Jenney, and Mrs. John Whittlesey as assistants.

The candy table was of apple blossoms, presided over by Mrs. A. W. Muther, chairman, Mrs. Roger Weeks, Mrs. Leroy Percy, Mrs. Frank MacSheffray, Mrs. Roger Hall, Mrs. Doug-

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

The Annual Meeting of the Monday Club was held on April 22nd at Cedar Hill Mansion, Waltham, the Headquarters of the Girl Scouts. After a delicious luncheon, the Club adjourned to a pleasant reception room for its meeting. Mrs. J. G. Birch, who has charge of the program, presented Mrs. Ethel Keach Ferrin, contralto, and Mrs. Bernice Keach Ripley, soprano, who sang a group of duets, Mrs. Ripley accompanying, before the business meeting. After the business meeting was finished, Mrs. Ferrin and Mrs. Ripley, again entertained with songs and more duets, their lovely voices blending beautifully, and their choice of songs a most happy one for the occasion. The Club enjoyed them thoroughly. The meeting adjourned about 4 o'clock after a very pleasant afternoon.

Officers elected to serve for the coming year included two re-elections, namely Mrs. R. W. Barnes, secretary; and Mrs. Frank Frost, treasurer. The new officers are Mrs. J. H. McCready, president; Mrs. F. S. Fairchild, vice-president; and Mrs. J. E. Peckham, auditor.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club tried an innovation this year and held its Annual Meeting and Luncheon at the State Headquarters of the Girl Scouts at Cedar Hill, Waltham. It proved to be a beautiful day and some hundred and fifty Club members had a delightful outing at this attractive spot.

After the luncheon the Glee Club rendered several selections and then eight of the members, in costume, presented what might have been one of the board meetings, fifty-five years ago, when the Club first started. The minutes of the meeting were compiled from the old reports and the discussion was of things that actually occurred at that time.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Mrs. Albert D. Auryans; vice-presidents, Mrs. J. D. Bennett, Mrs. Herbert Blair, Mrs. Ralph M. Conant; recording secretary, Mrs. Mervin S. Giles; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Royal T. Lapham; treasurer, Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney; assistant treasurer, Mrs. C. J. Trowbridge; director at large, Mrs. Frank E. Morris; directors, Mrs. Waldo W. Walker, Mrs. H. Philip Patey, Mrs. A. Cheston Carter, Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsbach, Mrs. Charles P. Prall; chairman of Finance, Mrs. W. L. Voshburg; chairman of Publicity, Mrs. L. W. Leland; chairman of Nominating committee, Mrs. W. H. Timbie; and clerk, Miss Theresa Cram.

A beautiful bouquet of mixed flowers was presented to Mrs. Gorham Harris, the returning president, in appreciation of her splendid service to the Club the last two years.

Newton Federation

"Everyday Art in the Home" was the subject of a very interesting address by Mrs. Elsie K. Chamberlain, Home Decorating editor of the Boston Herald, at the monthly Executive Board Meeting of the Newton Federation, held in the Library of the Technical High School, on Tuesday, April 23rd, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. LeRoy P. Guion, chairman of the American Home Committee, introduced Mrs. Chamberlain as the reward for the members who have been helping loyalty the committee in all it has tried to do in the past two years. Mrs. Chamberlain remarked that it was like coming back home to speak in Newton, since she has enjoyed all of her education at the Classical High School. She pointed out when a thing is done, it is dead; whereas a thing that is growing is living, giving as an example the beautiful and complete Gardiner Museum—beautiful yet done; while the Art Museum is growing, a new wing having just been added to it. Extreme modernism is not for the people in Boston.

She wanted everyone to make his or her own standards, not to accept just what someone has said is good. The State Art Committee is busy judging for a model home next month. Everyone should learn to recognize proportion, whether or not a design and the color effect are good, and whether or not they serve their purpose well.

Personal opinion should not influence selections of furniture, draperies, and clothing. One should learn to enjoy things without wanting to possess them. One should have the attitude of trying to contribute something to the welfare of humanity. In this connection she showed pieces of chintz and brocades to illustrate how designs and colors are judged. Industry is getting ahead of the purchaser, studying styles, and employing the professional "stylist."

One should first ask "Is this article I am about to buy suited to its purpose?" (such as a cup that wobbles or is difficult to hold) Is this chair suitable and comfortable? Is this sport dress suitable for golf or the piazza? Is one's daughter's dancing dress good when she dances? The next requisite is that a thing must be good in proportion, although it is hard to recognize by comparing that it must be of pleasing shape and outline. In regard to the question as to whether the decoration on the article is more important than the article itself, she stated that the structure should come first. Dresses are decorated on structural lines, around the neck, at the sleeves, or edge of the skirt.

Next one should ask "Is the thing one buys made out of material suitable to its nature?" One should be sincere in one's use of material, use glass as glass, steel as steel, and avoid columns of wood, painted to look like marble. People pretend to like things. She recommended the following books: Edwin Avery Park's "New Backgrounds for a New Era"; covering the modern art movement discussion; the magazine "Creative Art"; "Whither Mankind?"; Clyde Bell's "Civilization," and she summed up her talk by emphasizing the fact that because one believes a thing, it is not necessarily true, and so because one likes a thing it is not necessarily good.

Prior to Mrs. Chamberlain's talk the business meeting was held, with Mrs. J. Porter Russell, president, presiding. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $556.46, and two donations of ten dollars each were made to the Welfare Bureau and to the Central Council. The president read a letter from Mr. Spaulding, musical director of Newton schools, asking the Newton Federation to give the buttons and official badges for the music contest (Continued on Page 14)

The Mather Class

"Magic and the Origin of Religious Customs among Primitive Peoples" was the subject of an address by Prof. Frederick K. Morris last Sunday morning before the Mather Class at its regular weekly meeting in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

Prof. Morris was speaking in Bangor, Maine, and provided this special treat for the Class. Prof. Morris is Professor of Geology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and has held extensive field experience in exploration in Asia as a member of the Roy Chapman Andrews expedition to the Gobi Desert. He drew largely from his experiences on this expedition for material for this lecture.

What are magic, myth, and legend? "Magic" is any belief which does not rest on physics.

"Myth" is a tradition, which is handed down from generation to generation and which deals with the gods. "Legend" is a tradition that does not deal with the gods.

A legend is a story about a hero of old until he turns into a god, and then it becomes a myth.

All people believe in some sort of magic and are not cured of the belief when they find a physical reason for it. They relinquish the discredited belief and substitute another for it. It is a part of the inborn biology of the race, like the color of one's eyes, and cannot be changed.

To the primitive mind, magic is the

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Among the most poignant regrets of my life is that I have never waded, bathed, swam or disported in the waters of Crystal Lake. After reading the new rules proposed for that picturesque body of water I am convinced that I shall never enter its mirror-like surface. The breezes may produce ripples, the sunbeams may add an opalescent beauty and images of the leafy trees may be reflected along the shore, but I shall not be one of the "wets".

The report of those who have so closely studied the needs of the lake as a place for bathers has impressed me more than any document I have read in a long time. If you perused it yourself you will remember that it had a series of numbered statements. In fact nearly every paragraph began with a "first" or a "fourth" or whatever the sequence called for. It was something like an old-fashioned sermon. In fact, it very much resembled one for it was filled with admonitions and prohibitions, all intended for one's own good as well as for the benefit of humanity.

I was particularly interested in the fact that tickets would be required of bathers and I wondered if one would be expected to carry the ticket in his teeth, and if so what one would do if one should want to dive or duck. What would happen to a pasteboard under such conditions, or would rubber tickets be provided? If so, the water would make no difference and one can easily get a good grip with one's teeth in a chunk of rubber, providing the taste does not offend. If you opened your mouth you would lose your ticket I suppose and have to come ashore at once or risk the penalty of illegal bathing. Therefore, there wouldn't be any talking going on among the swimmers which would be all right with me.

The report says that Crystal Lake is a "great pond". For the enlightenment of those who are not familiar with the language of the General Laws of the Commonwealth I think it should be said that "great pond" is not slang but a designation used by law makers to describe certain inland bodies of water, especially when there is litigation involved.

The rules as proposed are to be submitted to the State Department of Public Works for approval. I am sure they will appeal to them for if there is anything that pleases a State department it is a set of rules. Nothing delights them more than a long list of restrictions. It is the custom of State departments to make drastic regulations for municipalities but Newton, it seems, has gone them one better and made its own.

If I had the gift of musical composition I should write a chorus to be sung by Newton Centre and Newton Highlands residents, led possibly by the Highland Glee Club, and entitled "The Old Swimmer's Hole Ain't What It Used to Be."

So infrequently do I attend public dinners that when such good fortune comes my way I can always find something interesting in the proceedings. Possibly because I am not a vocalist the singing of the other diners has a peculiar fascination for me. Next to the food, that is what gets me harder than anything else. I love to see a man gulp his cold ham in order to be in on the first note of "The Good Old Summer Time" and I applaud in silence the individual who can stow away a stalk of celery while sending forth the melodies of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia".

Of territory 700 miles wide flow together and pass through a gap in the mountains into Lake Baikal in Siberia. This is a depression between great masses of mountain ranges which slowly rose as the lake bed sunk. This took a long time. The river has made a delta half way across the lake. There was a severe earthquake in 1862. In earthquakes the great destruction comes in loose, soft material like delta lands, never on bed rock. On these Baikal delta lands the damage was enormous. Covers of wells flew up 100 feet. A great flood swept over the delta. The Mongol herdsman investigated and blamed Buddha. The Russian scientists laid it to faulting of the rock formation of the earth. The religious experts tried to get a divine promise that it would not happen again, and this idea spread and crept up over the mountains and down into the Gobi Desert, where they are earnestly praying against floods when they should be praying for water, because they have far too little. That story traveled long way to reach the desert. All delta lands are subject to flood, but earthquakes are not of frequent occurrence. In Japan there are ships up at the base of the mountains. They were swept inland by tidal waves. China has a flood legend, to the effect that the gods bored holes in the mountains and thus let out the flood all over the flat land. The trouble with the story is that there are no mountains to hold back the flood and no holes to let it out.

In Mesopotamia there is physical evidence of a flood. There is an eight-foot layer of delta clay, beneath which is evidence of a different civilization from that which appears above it. During the time when the land was uninhabitable, civilization will die out. A good singer is a tremendous help. Once well started, its very permanence may in part be due to the genius of the one who put it into circulation.

Under the custom which still prevails, or did when I last "dined out" with a throng, the words of the songs are printed on long, folder sheets. "We will now sing Number 24," says the chorus leader. The pianist, who has been tipped-off, starts pounding out "Number 24," while the diners drop everything and begin hunting over the song-sheet. "Wait a minute," yells one of the most eager of the would-be singers. "I haven't found it."

By the time the pianist is ready to lead the way most everybody is prepared to sing "Number 24". I wonder what would happen if the printed words were not in front of the singers. In these days our minds are filled with other things and we can't be expected to remember some old song. The best that we may do is to get the music. Some of us do and some of us don't.

I have often wondered if this habit of singing between courses was invented as aid to digestion or was it thought-out by a caterer in order that his waiters would have more time and thus cover-up unavoidable delays in serving. Whether I have hit the original idea or not, I am for group singing because it helps the printing business and gives the hard-working pianists employment.

It was gratifying to read that the Board of Aldermen voted an appropriation for the writing of a history of Newton. It is provided that it shall "date from the years covered by the history written by the late Rev. S. F. Smith." Apparently we, as a municipality, are beginning to realize the importance of historical documents. In this connection I should like to compliment my long-time friend and associate, Alderman Powers, on his Graphic article relating to the Nantum tribe of Indians. It is something worth preserving and I am sure that those who appreciate its value will not fail to place the clipping in their scrap-books.

When we know the many things in Newton that represent the early days of its settlement, it is a pity that they are not given wider recognition. If you stroll, or drive even, through some of our neighboring towns such as Brookline, Dedham or Watertown you will find that there has been a careful and thoughtful preservation of houses and landmarks. Why not in Newton? Possibly it may be said that I have asked that question before. I have, and intend to do so again until I hear a clear and definite answer.

With all the measures of vital interest to the people of Massachusetts none that has come before the Legislature this year has caused more general discussion among the voters at large than the bill to legalize the playing of whist or bridge for prizes. I do not propose to go into the merits of the measure, which was rejected, for that is the very thing I would criticize. Why do we get so excited about amusements when imperative matters affecting taxation give us no concern whatever. You will find only a handful of attendants at a hearing on some measure involving the expenditure of millions or drastic changes in existing laws but let something like games of chance appear in the form of a bill and there are plenty of speakers.

No doubt morals count more than money. Some find it as difficult to possess the one as the other. I don't think we'd better go into that. But will somebody tell me what it is that makes the taxpayers select, as one investigated and a story similar to Noah's was found. A suggestion indicates a combination of a normal delta flood, a terrific storm from the Persian Gulf, and an immense earthquake. There is a gigantic fault in Mesopotamian rock formation. This Curious combination of disasters would not happen in a million years, but it is possible. It was big enough to create an undying legend.

Babylon has the flood legend with the ship stranded on one of the mountain crests of Eastern Mesopotamia, 10,000 feet high. Prof. Morris does not think the flood reached Babylon. Some authorities think the Hebrews heard this legend from travelers who came from Babylon, but Prof. Morris disagrees. He thinks they learned about it during the captivity. At any rate they located the Ark on Mount Ararat, a volcanic ash cone 17,000 high.

On the question of the Garden of Eden there is a lot of uncertainty. It is said to refer to Babylon itself, but all discovered races or traces of a race indicate highly civilized and not primitive people in this region. According to Northern India seems like a reasonable place where mankind came into existence.

There is no diminution in the seriousness of earthquakes. They are just as bad as ever, and they are just as likely to come in fair weather as in bad weather, because it is a slip-snap of the solid rock, a movement of the very earth itself. The trigger that sets one off is apt to be barometric pressure, which of course means heavy pressure and fine weather.

There is a big psychological element in starting a legend. There is a great need for people with creative and imaginative minds as well as persistent retention, or the story will die out. A good singer is a tremendous help. Once well started, its very permanence may in part be due to the genius of the one who put it into circulation.

In May, Mrs. Russell submitted the request to the presidents of the Clubs who did not favor the Federation giving the buttons and badges, but it was felt that the various Clubs might give contributions and the Federation a part, seventy-five dollars being needed in all. Mrs. Maynard stated that the Federation could afford from $30 to $50 as its gift.

An informal rising vote was taken, and the Federation Board voted $50 to Mr. Spaulding to use as he saw fit, with the stipulation that the name of the Newton Federation be omitted from the back of the buttons. Mrs. Harvey spoke of the question of the tenure of office of the vice-president, and a recommendation was made that a candidate for this office shall be eligible for more than three years. It was also recommended that the by-laws be amended to provide that "the chairman of the Nominating Committee is to be a member of the following year's committee."

Mrs. Upham spoke of the Summer transportation problem, there still being great need of jitney service for the Newton Central Council, which is the clearing house for this work. She recommended that the Clubs be asked for service, or money, for beach wagon hire. Mrs. Cook warned the members regarding forest fires and conservation also the need of sanitation in the case of floods.

It was announced that the outing would be held on May 3rd, weather permitting, if not, on May 4. Members are to meet at Weston bridge at 8.15 a. m. to go to Petersham where Professor Fisher promises a very interesting day. Clubwomen should bring lunches, and all are invited. Mrs. Campbell reported that she had luncheon tickets ($1.00) for the annual luncheon at which a caterer is to be employed.

Mrs. Andrews reported for the Educational Committee Meeting at the Frank A. Day Junior high school, where they were addressed by Miss MacGrath on "Individual Instruction," a modified Dalton Plan.
